DRYS UNITE FOR 1932

Strategy Board Appointed

Twelve Leaders Will Direct Battle in Defense of Prohibition Law

Thirty-five Organizations to Present Solid Front to Wet Attacks

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The National Association of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment tonight appointed a "combined committee on unified strategy" composed of twelve dry leaders for the announced purpose of aiding prohibition in preparation for the 1932 Presidential campaign.

Appointment of the committee came at the end of the annual meeting of representatives of thirty-five dry organizations and represented a move which the leaders characterized as designed to present a solid front to both legislative and political problems concerning prohibition.

REFERENDUM REJECTED

Earlier in the day the dry leaders approved a general resolution condemning many proposals for a referendum on or a resubmission of the Eighteenth Amendment.

The committee on strategy is headed by Mrs. Ella A. Boole of Boston, president of the W.C.T.U. Other members include Ernest Cherrington, secretary of the World League Against Alcoholism; F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League; Oliver Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron Foundation; Clinton Howard, chairman of the National United Committee for Law Enforcement; Dr. D. L. Colvin of the same organization; A. H. Briggs, a California dry leader, and Daniel Poling, president of the World Christian Endeavor movement.

WOODCOCK TALKS

A picture of prohibition successfully enforced was unfolded by Prohibition Director Woodcock before the gathering. Woodcock answered questions heaped upon him for more than an hour.

"I told them," he said as he emerged, "that our efforts will be successful against the commercial violations of the national prohibition act, and asked them to co-operate in meeting the noncommercial violations through education."

Among the questions with which the dry advocates plied the prohibition director were those concerning actual enforcement measures in various parts of the country and the attitude of the bureau toward the sale of grape concentrates.

Of the latter Woodcock said the question hinged upon "intent" to violate, and that if this was proved against grape concentrate manufacturers they would be prosecuted.

The dry leaders indorsed increased prohibition appropriations, including the $10,000 item for educational work stricken out of the new appropriation bill, and the so-called Wickersham program of legislation for speeding up court action in prohibition cases.

FAIR FLYER TRIUMPHS

Ruth Nichols Sets New Marks

Lindbergh, Turner Records Eclipsed in West-to-East Overland Jaunt

Final 1300-Mile Lap of Trip Covered in Little More Than Six Hours

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Ruth Nichols flew her fleet monoplane, the New Cincinnati, past all the transcontinental records of her own sex and took her place right up among the best of the masculine flyers today. She completed a two-day, one-stop flight from coast to coast in 13h. 21m. 43s.

In a borrowed ship, a stock model from the Lockheed-Vega factory loaned to her for the trip by a radio company of Cincinnati, she traveled from Wichita, Kan., in 6h. 21m. 43s., which is believed to be the fastest journey of its length ever made by man or woman in unbroken flight. The distance is 1300 miles.

SECOND TO HAWKS

Her actual flying time betters the previous marks of Charles A. Lindbergh and Capt. Roscoe Turner by upward of an hour, although her elapsed time was greater by virtue of an overnight stop at Wichita to rest. The only faster flying time on record tonight for the 2300-mile coast-to-coast journey is that of Capt. Frank Hawks.

Taking off from Los Angeles yesterday morning, the society girl flyer set her plane down at Wichita 7h. 1m. later, an hour behind the record-breaking time of Capt. Hawks and five minutes behind that of Lindbergh last Easter Sunday. Starting from Wichita at 7:41 (central standard time) this morning, she rode a tail wind into New York to finish a journey from the Pacific's shores almost nine hours ahead of the best previous time of a woman, 21m. 47m., the mark made last October by Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

STORM BATTLED

The young woman from Rye, N. Y., who flies because she enjoys it, climbed from her plane at Roosevelt Field, wiped the smudge of oil and dirt from her face, and told how yesterday she battled a Rocky Mountain storm for two hours and today she flew blind for the same length of time.

Between Wichita and St. Louis, she said, rain squalls beat against her windshield in such a fury she often had to lean out the side window of her cabin to look ahead and gauge her height above the ground.

"It began to clear up when I crossed the Mississippi at St. Louis," she said smiling, "and I rode a tail wind almost all the way in."

She found her radio valuable in getting weather reports, especially the direction and velocity of the wind at various altitudes. As far as St. Louis she flew very low, but she went on from there at an altitude of 7000 to 10,000 feet.

PLOT AIMED AT STALIN

Russian Scheme Told in London

Plan to Form Directorate in Moscow Foiled by Spies at Zero Hour

Many Disgruntled Leaders of Government Said to Have Conspired

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Daily Mail prints the purported details of a vast conspiracy by disgruntled Russians to overthrow Joseph Stalin.

The Mail, representing the story as the explanation of reports of mutinies and other mysterious happenings in Russia last month, says the plan was to unseat the head of the Communist party and establish a directorate including Leon Trotsky, Christian Rakovsky and Gregory S. Zinovieff. The two latter were exiled with Trotsky in 1928.

Alexis I. Rykoff, who at various times has been under suspicion by the Stalin faction of the Communist party and at one time made a humble retraction of his "heretical" activities, is named as another conspirator.

FAILS AT ZERO HOUR

The plans failed, says the Mail, at the zero hour because of Stalin's superior spy system, and hundreds were arrested.

None of the leaders is mentioned as having been arrested, although the paper says "Rykoff's fate is sealed."

Other conspirators are named as Michael P. Tomski, Clemeny Voroshiloff, M. Unschlicht, Gen. Budenny—the famous cavalry leader—and some more equally prominent, besides officers of the army and navy and members of the secret police.

As the Mail relates it, the asserted plot was substantially as follows:

PLAN OF CONSPIRATORS

The conspirators divided into three groups. One, led by Rykoff and Tomski, opposed Stalin openly in the Cabinet and the country. The second, headed by Sergei Syrtov, president of the Council of People's Commissars, worke secretly toward a coup to overthrow Stalin November 7. The third, led by M. Lominadze, head of the Georgian soviets, aimed at secret conquest of the Caucasus and the Ukraine.

Stalin was to be arrested following upon which the three groups would join and take over the government. In the meantime, the conspirators inside Russia are said to have support of a number of soviet officials in other countries, including G. I. Sokolnikov, Dr. Constantin Youreneff, Valerian Dovalevsky and M. Swidersky, ambassadors, respectively, in Great Britain, Austria, France and Latvia.

GARRISON MOVED

Arms and ammunition were stolen from soviet arsenals, the Mail added, but Stalin soon learned of the plot from spies and removed the commandant of the Moscow garrison as his first counter-move.

At nightfall on November 6, he transferred the Moscow garrison to Minsk, thereby upsetting the plans for the next day's coup, and thereafter moved rapidly. Hundreds of officers and lesser figures were arrested, while Syrtov, Lominadze and M. Poprovsky, president of the Ukrainian soviet republic, were dismissed from their posts and expelled from the Communist party.

The four Ambassadors, the Mail continued, were ordered recalled to Moscow, while action was taken against nearly 100 Embassy and other officials abroad.

Despite the breaking up of the plot, the paper continued, sporadic outbreaks occurred in Minsk, Kharkov and Baku.

The paper says Stalin now is trying to conciliate Russian military chiefs.

MRS. KAHN'S SON WEDS

SNAKES START SHOW PANIC

Germany Expected to Ban War Picture Following Demonstrations by Fascists

BERLIN, Dec. 10. (AP)—Snakes were found crawling about among the audience for tonight's performance of "All Quiet on the Western Front" at the Nollendorf Platz Picture House. At the same time it was learned from an authoritative source the film, which has been violently protested by Fascists, probably will be forbidden throughout Germany tomorrow by the Supreme Film Censorship Board.

A panic which began to take form at discovery of the snakes subsided when it was found they were of the harmless garden variety.

One girl was horror-stricken when she discovered a reptile curling around the leg of her chair. A policeman in a near-by seat grabbed it and assured her it was harmless.

Two more garden snakes were caught in different parts of the house. How they got there nobody explained. The police had made only a random search of those who came and apparently somebody slipped through with the snakes in his pockets.

Outside the theater a good-sized crowd was kept moving and remained orderly.

Carl Laemmle, motion-picture executive, last night offered to withdraw his picture, "All Quiet on the Western Front," from German theaters if the German people think it is not an actual help to their country.

"No one in Germany, I believe," said Laemmle, "can ever know how much good the picture has done for Germany as a nation. Where, before, there had been hatred and suspicion, the people of other nations on seeing the picture suddenly awoke to the fact that perhaps the Germans were not alone to blame for the war."

COLD WAVE IN FLORIDA HITS CROPS

Subfreezing Weather in Everglades Area Damages Truck and Fruits

MIAMI (Fla.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Subfreezing weather and extensive damage to truck crops and fruit groves in the Everglades area of Southern Florida last night were reported to the Miami Weather Bureau today.

Miami escaped freezing temperature but the mercury was reported as low as 30 deg. at places a few miles from the city.

Reports reaching here told of farmers and fruit growers working all night with smudge pots and water pumps to protect their crops.

The larger farms and groves, which are well equipped for combating frost and cold, are said to have escaped with minor damage, but growers on a smaller scale are described as suffering great losses, especially in bean and eggplant crops.

Veterans' Pay Bill Offered

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Another bill to provide cash payment of veterans adjusted compensation certificates was introduced today by Representative Evans, Democrat, Montana.

The measure, similar to several others presented, authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds to cash the certificates after next March 1.

Billion-Dollar Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The first of the annual supply bills, the Treasury-Postoffice appropriation bill, was approved by the Senate Appropriations Committee today. It carries $1,084,399,303, or $845,360 more than when it passed the House.

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 10. [To the Editor of The Times:] Judge Lindsey is for free love and Bishop Manning is holding out for the usual clergyman's fee for the marriage ceremony. It looks like church laws or civil laws, or even universal customs don't mean anything to anybody any more. Everybody is doing just as they like regardless of everything. They say all children reach a "smart aleck" age some time; well our whole country is in that stage now, every man, every denomination and every organization wants things their way. It's just one of those things we got to pass through and we will look back and feel ashamed of ourselves afterwards.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

FORTY-FOUR HOUR-WEEK BILL WINS

House Approves Measure for 300,000 Employees of Postoffice Department

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The House today passed a bill providing a forty-four-hour week for 300,000 postal employees. The bill, sent to the Senate, grants a Saturday half-holiday to postoffice employees.

Provision is made that if service requires employment on Saturday afternoon the employees shall be given compensatory time the following week.

Cost of the legislation is variously estimated at $2,000,000 a year upward.

COURT ISSUE SUBMITTED

President Asks Senate Action

Protocols Offered to Upper House With Appeal for Prompt Attention

Immediate Opposition Heard Toward Consideration of Project This Session

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The protocols for American adherence to the World Court were sent to the Senate today by President Hoover with a message asking consideration as soon as the emergency relief and appropriation legislation has been enacted.

Friend and foe in the Senate expressed the view there is little hope for consideration at this session and Senator Watson, Indiana, Republican leader, proposed it be put aside completely lest it cause an extra session in the spring.

The subject reached the Senate in the midst of a bitter speech against Mr. Hoover for his criticism of those seeking relief legislation above that recommended by him and as it went to the Foreign Relations Committee Senator Johnson of California denounced the injection of the issue at this time.

Chairman Borah of the Foreign Relations Committee announced he will call it up at the next regular meeting a week from today.

Mr. Hoover took the opportunity in his message to the Senate to indorse the revised protocols which were modified to meet one of the Senate's reservations which never was accepted by the other powers.

TEXT OF MESSAGE

The text of the President's transmittal message follows:

"I have the honor to transmit to the Senate for its consideration and action three documents concerning adherence of the United States to the Court of International Justice.

"I inclose also a report of November 18, 1929, by the Secretary of State. I trust the protocols may have consideration as soon as possible after the emergency relief and appropriation legislation has been disposed of.

"It will be recalled that on January 27, 1926, following extended consideration, the Senate advised and gave consent to adherence to the court with five reservations; and it gave authorization to effect their acceptance by an exchange of notes.

FOUR APPROVED

"Consent to four of these reservations was promptly expressed at a meeting of the nations' members of the court, and after negotiations undertaken with the approval of President Coolidge, two protocols were drawn to revise the statutes of the court in order to embody this consent and also to meet the fifth reservation. The protocol of accession of the United States and the protocol of revision have now been signed by practically all the nations which are members of the court and have also already been ratified by a large majority of these nations.

"The provisions of the protocols free us from any entanglement in the diplomacy of other nations. We cannot be summoned before this court. We can from time to time seek its services by agreement with other nations. These protocols permit our withdrawal from the court at any time without reproach or ill-will.

SUPPORT CITED

"The movement for the establishment of such a court originated with our country. It has been supported by Presidents Wilson, Harding and Coolidge; by Secretaries of State Hughes, Kellogg and Stimson; it springs from the earnest seeking of our people for justice in international relations and to strengthen the foundations of peace.

"Through the Kellogg-Briand pact we have pledged ourselves to the use of pacific means in settlement of all controversies. Our great nation so devoted to peace and justice, should lend its co-operation in this effort of the nations to establish a great agency for such pacific settlements."

JOHNSON OPPOSES IT

Senator Johnson said he is opposed to giving "the slightest heed"

LONG-MISSING FLYERS SAFE

Prospector and Mechanic, Gone Two Months, Found Alive in Yukon but Pilot Burke Dead

WHITE HORSE (Yukon Territory) Dec. 10. (AP)—Two months since they disappeared in a seaplane in the now frozen Yukon wilderness, Bob Marten, Wrangell (Alaska) prospector, and Emil Kading, German plane mechanic, were found alive today, but their pilot, Capt. E. J. A. Burke, is dead.

For the last twenty-three days the only food the men had was a caribou they killed. Aside from being greatly weakened by their ordeal, the men showed no other effects except that Kading suffered two frozen toes.

NEARLY EXHAUSTED

After three other flyers are presumed to have lost their lives in the search and two more are now missing three weeks, Pilot Everett Wasson flew back here today with Marten and Kading, both in the last stages of exhaustion. They said Burke died from exposure November 20.

The plane, loaded to capacity with the rescued men, will be flown back to bring in Burke's body. The men were located by their signal fire, forty miles from where the three had abandoned their plane in the headwaters of the Liard River.

The rescue, one of the most spectacular in aviation annals, was accomplished through the heroism of Wasson and his guide, Joe Walsh, veteran prospector.

PLANE UNDAMAGED

Seventeen days ago Wasson located Burke's plane, apparently undamaged and frozen in a lake about fifty miles from Wolf Creek, Yukon. Returning he found Burke had landed safely and found a message carved in a tree, which read:

"October 17—Leaving for Wolf Lake. Need food badly."

Wasson and Walsh, convinced that with an experienced woodsman like Marten along, the party would seek shelter in some cabin until lake and rivers were completely frozen over before trying to reach a settlement, pursued the search on foot, making their way

OLDER 'WORKS' FOUR YEARS TO IMPEACH F. C. OXMAN

"Disintegration" of Policeman Is Described; Mysterious Change in Hatchers' Evidence

This is the ninth of a series of articles presenting an exhaustive analysis of the State Supreme Court's recent hearing of new evidence in the Mooney-Billings cases, resulting in a denial of Billings's plea for a pardon recommendation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—For the purpose of this chronicle, the last of the five witnesses whose testimony the Mooney-Billings defense particularly sought to discredit in order to secure the liberation of the bombers was F. C. Oxman, the Durkee (Or.) cattleman, who visited San Francisco on the day of the tragedy. It will be recalled that at the trial of Mooney, Oxman swore that they were the two men he saw drive up to the corner of Steuart and Market streets in Weinberg's jitney from the direction of 721 Market street and that he saw Billings place the suit case against the wall of the corner building where it exploded a little later.

On April 11, 1917, after the convictions, the defense struck back at his testimony by producing three letters purporting to have been written by Oxman to one Ed Rigall of Grayville, Ill., and to Rigall's mother, just before the trials, in which the writer said that he needed a witness or witnesses to testify that he had actually been in San Francisco on July 22, the day of the explosion, and offering Rigall and possibly his mother transportation, witness fees and expenses to come to San Francisco to give such testimony. Rigall made an affidavit that he did come to San Francisco and met Oxman, whom he said he had known for years, and that he registered under a false name at Oxman's hotel as coming from Evansville, Ind., another falsity he said was suggested by Oxman for the sake of getting more mileage expenses. He swore that he told Oxman he, Rigall, had been at Niagara Falls on July 22 but that Oxman said that made no difference, that Rigall was simply to testify that he had been in San Francisco and had seen Oxman there that day. He further declared Oxman offered him $250 and part of the reward later in consideration of this testimony, that Dist.-Atty. Fickert and Asst. Dist.-Atty. Cunha of San Francisco county called on him (Rigall) and that they discussed the case and finally decided not to use him as a witness. He said he asked for $150 for his expenses but that he was given only $50.

This was not the only attack made upon Oxman's credibility. In May, 1921, one Earl Hatcher and his wife, residing in Woodland, Cal., about ninety miles from San Francisco, made an affidavit to the effect that Oxman was at their home in Woodland on July 22, the date of the Preparedness Day tragedy, and that he did not leave for San Francisco until 2:08 p.m., on a train reaching San Francisco about 5 p.m., three hours after the explosion. In 1917, however, Attorney Samuel Shortridge, now United States Senator from California and then counsel for Oxman, stated in court at one of the Oxman hearings that Hatcher had made an affidavit declaring that he had personally accompanied Oxman to the train which left Woodland for San Francisco at 9:23 a.m. and reached the Bay City shortly after 12 noon, where Oxman was seen by several people well before the explosion. Why Hatcher should have changed his evidence in this all-important particular will be considered later in this article.

Also appeared Draper Hand, a San Francisco police officer, who gave Fremont Older an affidavit to the effect that he, Hand, had helped Oxman fix up his testimony, had taken the cattleman around, shown him where Steuart street was and the garage where the Weinberg jitney was supposed to have been stored and other points calculated to show that Oxman's evidence was manufactured.

OXMAN ACQUITTED

All of which appeared to make a strong case against Oxman. But, like most of the other evidence produced by the supporters of Mooney and Billings through the years, it did not stand up well. The Rigall letters were taken to Judge Dunne of San Francisco immediately after their appearance in 1917 and a warrant asked for Oxman's arrest on a charge of subornation of perjury. It was refused. The matter was laid before the grand jury and an indictment asked. It was refused on the evidence produced. Judge Brady finally issued a warrant and Oxman was arrested. He was tried and acquitted. The defense then had him before Judge Griffin on charges of straight perjury but the charges were dismissed. So far as the courts could do so, Oxman was cleared. The evidence tended to show that, as was legitimate, Oxman was honestly seeking to prove by some one who knew him and who had been there that he actually was in San Francisco on July 22 and that he was under the impression that Rigall was a man he had met in the Bay City on that day. He denied, and the jury apparently believed him, that he had tried to get Rigall to swear falsely in any particular. Judge Dunne declared when the matter was before him, that he thought the letters perfectly honest ones.

As to Rigall, it was brought out that, after he had been given but $50 of the $150 he demanded for his expenses from the prosecution, he sent a telegram to Assistant District-Attorney Cunha indicating that he planned to throw his efforts thenceforth to the defense. The recent Supreme Court hearing brought from Ed Nockels, secretary of the Chicago Federation of Labor, the statement that he had had a man sent to see Rigall at Grayville and that, after a good deal of skirmishing about, the defense came into possession of the letters. What Rigall got from the defense, if he got anything, was not brought out by the Supreme Court inquiry.

One of the strong points supporting Oxman's evidence was the fact that it was shown that, like MacDonald, he had told his story to various persons before it finally came to the attention of the authorities and then told the identical story on the stand. The frequently self-contradictory stories told by witnesses produced by the Mooney-Billings forces to impeach it further supported the cattleman's credibility.

THE CASE OF DRAPER HAND

The affidavit of Draper Hand impeaching Oxman and the change of vital testimony made by the Hatchers of Woodland, furnished material for further questioning of Fremont Older before the Supreme Court. He testified that he "worked" two years on the Hatchers' case, though it was four from the time of their 1917 statement corroborating Oxman's story to that of their 1921 statement impeaching it. He said he "worked" two years on Draper Hand to get what he did from him. In this connection bits of the Supreme Court transcript are interesting. For example:

Q.: How came he (Hand) to knuckle under or weaken and come down to your office with the story that he framed Oxman?

A.: (By Older.) Well, it took a long time, just as it did with Estelle Smith. I was working on Draper Hand for a couple of years. . . . I didn't send him any pearl necklace. I worked on him.

Q.: Did you give him a wrist watch?

A.: No, no, but I got acquainted with him and we became friends . . . . and finally, after a couple of years . . . I took him to dinner at the Palace Hotel and asked him if he would not tell the story of how Oxman was put into the case.

Q.: (By Justice Preston.) Now, then, as I understand you, after a period of disintegration for two years—

A.: Yes, a couple of years—

Q.: Constantly?

A.: Not constantly; occasionally.

Q.: Well, intermittently applied by you?

A.: Yes.

Q.: This man came through with a statement that admitted his own corruption, did it?

A.: Yes.

Q.: How much did he get for framing Oxman?

A.: Not a cent.

(Here follows a series of questions and answers in which Older describes the substance of Hand's statement to him, given above, how Hand told him the Mooney case was a "dirty outrage" and that "they" would throw him off the police force if he told, how Hand asked Older to use his influence with Theodore Roche and the Police Commission to protect him and how, after Mayor Rolph had seen Hand's story as put in affidavit form by Older, it was published in Older's paper. The Police Commission did prefer charges against Hand for giving information to others than his superior officers and Older retained an attorney—one of the Billings attorneys—to defend him. When it developed that Hand might be laid off for ninety days without pay Older offered to pay his salary for that interval.)

Continuing, the transcript reads:

Question: Did you ever pay him any salary?

Answer: No, not a cent.

Q.: Never paid him a cent for this affidavit?

A.: Not a cent.

Q.: Not a thing?

A.: Not a thing; dinner at the Palace—a free dinner at the Palace.

Q.: One dinner and two years hard work?

A.: Two years hard work.

TWO YEARS ON HATCHER CASE

As to the Hatchers, Older testified that he was "unable to get anything out of them." On this the transcript reads:

Q.: Well, did you bother with the—what is the name of the people, Hatchers?—up in Woodland?

A.: Yes, I did bother with the Hatchers. I worked two years on that case.

Q.: Two years? Did you do anything for the Hatchers in the way of making them tell a story?

A.: I never saw them personally.

A.: No.

So that, so far as Older's testimony before the Supreme Court is concerned, the reason why the Hatchers changed their story between 1917 and 1921 remains a mystery.

The next article will deal with the Supreme Court's inquiry into the alibis of Mooney and Billings.

PULLING TEETH RENEWS SIGHT

Chicago Woman Recovers Use of Eye After Her Visit to Dentist

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Lillian Wallace's jaw hurt after she got home from a dental office where she had five teeth extracted. She rubbed it to ease the pain. As she did so she placed her hand over her right eye and discovered she could see out of her left, which had been sightless for fourteen years. The dentist said the teeth had long been infected and that the resulting pressure, he believed, had paralyzed the optic nerve.

WORLD COURT APPEAL MADE to the court at this session. Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, another member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, urged it not be considered at this time.

Senator Swanson of Virginia, the ranking Democrat on the committee, has advocated that it be taken up next session but he is disposed to have the committee report it favorably now.

Foes of the court claim at least twenty votes but there is no prediction from their ranks that they can defeat American adherence.

LIBBY SCORES SENATORS ON WORLD COURT STAND

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Frederick J. Libby, executive secretary of the National Council for Prevention of War, said in a statement tonight the reported inability of the President to obtain within his party a suitable leader to head the Senate fight for the World Court protocols was "disgraceful to the party."

The statement said Senator Watson of Indiana, the Republican leader, "refused to sponsor this peace plank of his party," Senator Borah of Idaho, Foreign Relations Committee chairman, "is not even considered because he is 'irreconcilable,'" Senator Moses of New Hampshire "declares against the court entirely," Senator Reed of Pennsylvania "is apparently not available on the court issue," and that Senator Vandenberg of Michigan "seems unwilling to step into the breach."

PRISON LOOMS FOR EX-JUDGE

AUSTIN (Tex.) Dec. 10. (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals today affirmed the three-year sentence imposed on John W. Brady, former member of the State Court of Civil Appeals here, for the fatal stabbing of Miss Lehlia Highsmith, stenographer, here last year.

PHYSICIAN DENIES KIDNAPING

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Albert Edward Corthell, who says he is a physician, pleaded not guilty today to the kidnaping June 3, 1928, of 10-year-old Grace Budd, who has never been found. He was committed without bail to await trial.

DEMOCRATS HIT BACK AT HOOVER

Robinson of Arkansas Asks Wide Relief Program

Tax Increase Indorsed if Found Necessary

McKellar Demands Apology From President

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The disgruntled Senate forces were called upon to enter a new co-operation for emergency relief today by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the Democratic leader, as he replied to President Hoover's denunciation of Congressional proposals that fell outside the Presidential program.

The $110,000,000 emergency public works measure progressed slowly as the Democrats struck back at Mr. Hoover's statement that some members were "playing politics at the expense of human misery" with Senator Robinson finally coming before a crowded chamber to plead for co-operation for a full-fledged relief program at the cost, if necessary, of a bond issue or increased taxes.

STATEMENT ASSAILED

"We have proceeded to an unfortunate position," the Democratic leader said in even tones and with obvious restraint. "The President lost his temper and made a statement that, of course, is to be condemned. For my part I do not propose to follow the example."

Robinson warned by co-operation he did not mean the following of any particular leadership, but a common purpose to reach a common ground "in the enactment of measures for the welfare of our country."

More bitter and personal assaults upon the President's demand that relief be kept within limits of the Treasury were made earlier by Senators McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, and Blaine, Republican, Wisconsin.

Passage of the $110,000,000 appropriation tomorrow seemed certain, although several amendments were pending. After Robinson spoke the parties divided widely on a motion by Blaine to make the $80,000,000 for Federal road aid a direct appropriation without obligation of States to meet the sum. It lost, 43 to 32. Ten Democrats voted against the motion, which was supported by Robinson and seventeen other Democrats.

DROUGHT RELIEF

Robinson said if in speaking of a raid upon the Treasury the Chief Executive referred to the $60,000,000 drought-relief bill passed yesterday by the Senate, he was willing to accept the "odium." He said Mr. Hoover's own drought-relief committee has asked the $60,000,000 and he doubted if that were enough.

He defended the after-election pledge of co-operation given by seven Democratic leaders, including himself, and denounced efforts to "make it appear that it was promoted with political motives or in disregard of the obligations of party loyalty."

The Senate halls resounded for most of the day with the vehement replies to Mr. Hoover.

In a prepared speech Senator McKellar said the Hoover statement charging proponents of extra relief bills with "playing politics at the expense of human misery" was "unworthy of the Chief Magistrate of this nation or of any nation."

APOLOGY DEMANDED

"If he is worthy of his office he will apologize to the Senate," the Tennesseean continued. "If he is unworthy, he will not apologize."

McKellar said the emergency bill would do little good in the near future. Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, asserted the funds were merely an appropriation that would have been made eventually, regardless of the unemployment situation.

McKellar said "as soon as Mr. Hoover was elected President he began a career of utter disregard of the property in government." He referred to Mr. Hoover's use of a battleship in visiting the South American countries prior to his inauguration.

"Another situation that has been open to public talk for a long time," he said, "is that the President, in buying and building him a summer home, used the marines of the United States in building the roads, or clearing the lands or building a house down there.

"I don't know that this is true. I just know that it is on the lips of everyone. If it is true, it is an indecent and illegal use of the powers of the President in his control over the United States marines."

Replying to McKellar, Senator Bingham said many of the things the Tennesseean had "implied and insinuated" were unworthy to go into the Congressional Record.

"It is easy to see that the campaign of 1932 is under way," Bingham continued. "It is also apparent that the members on the other side believe the people are going to insist upon the renomination and election of the present occupant of the White House and they are making campaign material as fast as they can."

CHARGES TERMED "GAS"

Senator Blaine, Wisconsin, termed Mr. Hoover a "mediocre politician."

Blaine said an unnamed Senator had "remarked in the cloak room that the President's fountain pen must have been filled with gas when he signed that statement yesterday."

"So we find," he continued, "his engineering ability has been limited to a gas engineer—that's about all we've had is gas—as a result of his administration in the last two years."

Robinson advocated, besides the drought-relief bill, that the government purchase and distribute the surplus wheat now held by the farm board; road improvements in the flood stricken States and continuation of the agricultural extension work.

BOND ISSUE URGED

He proposed a bond issue be employed, if necessary, to meet the added costs for relief work rather than an increase of taxes.

"But I would raise taxes," he roared, "rather than refuse our primary duty to relieve in such a time.

"You didn't characterize it as a raid upon the Treasury when we appropriated $20,000,000 to feed the starving women and children of Russia. You didn't call it a raid upon the Treasury when we appropriated $100,000,000 to feed everyone in Europe at the close of the war except our former enemies.

"If the obligation was upon us to provide relief in those cases what shall I say and what shall you say in this danger and emergency that now faces us?"

RED CROSS TO EXPEND $5,000,000 FOR RELIEF

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Use of its $5,000,000 disaster reserve fund to relieve suffering in drought areas was approved today by the Red Cross central committee.

Chairman John Barton Payne, in a statement to the committee, said he had advised President Hoover two days ago the Red Cross already had expended "something less than $500,000" for seed and provisions.

When the $5,000,000 fund is exhausted, he added, an appeal will be made to the country for such assistance as may be necessary.

The chairman said he had told the Chief Executive it was impossible to ascertain, even approximately, the number of persons who would require food.

HUSBAND SENT BACK TO ATTIC

Judge Orders Him to Remain There During Wife's Suit or Be In Contempt

MILWAUKEE, Dec. 10. (AP)—August Nack went back to his attic today, but not until Circuit Judge Breidenbach laid down the law.

August's wife, Laura, sued for divorce. The court ordered August to live on the third floor of their house and not to bother his wife pending outcome of the suit. Mrs. Nack haled August into court yesterday with the statement that he came downstairs and pestered her. The judge ordered him to stay aloft or face contempt proceedings.

LONG-MISSING FLYERS SAVED

THEIR STORY

Kading and Marten tonight recounted how Burke was forced down on the ice-covered upper reaches of the Liard River while flying back from a prospecting trip.

They told how the plane was damaged in an attempted take-off and their attempts to reach some outpost where they might find food and shelter against the storm that had set them afoot on the frozen wastes.

After leaving Liard Post October 11, Burke, his companions said, flew into a snowstorm. They doubled back up the Liard River, hoping to reach Wolf Lake, but were compelled by bad weather to land in the river.

PONTOONS DAMAGED

They took off again the same day, but were forced to reland, this time damaging the plane's pontoons on a rock and floating ice. There they camped for six days, and attempted to shoot game for food with little success.

Weak from lack of food, the party set out October 27 for Wolf Lake. The deep snow and cold caused them to make frequent camps. Burke rapidly lost strength, Kading and Marten said, and they soon saw their pilot could last only a short time.

Burke made his last entry in his log November 8 and wrote a message for his wife, now at Atlin, B. C., first base used in the search.

On November 15, Kading shot a caribou, and he and Marten were revived somewhat, but Burke was so weak he could not eat. His companions made him some soup, but it failed to revive him. Five days later he died.

WASSON SIGHTED

Five days after Burke's death and burial, Wasson flew overhead, but was out of sight before the stranded men could light a fire signal. Again a few days later, Wasson again was sighted, but Kading and Marten said they could make no sign to attract him. They passed the next few days gathering fuel in case Wasson should appear again.

Last Saturday, the 6th inst., they heard the plane and immediately fired a huge pile of wood. Sighting the smoke, Wasson and Walsh circled overhead, to indicate to the flyers their signal had been seen. The searchers set down their plane ten miles from the smoke spiral and began their hunt afoot. They trudged through deep snow and a raging blizzard in the night. When daylight came, they found they had passed the camp and doubled back, shouting at frequent intervals.

Marten and Kading heard them, but were too weak to shout. Kading, however, had one cartridge left and fired it. Walsh heard the shot and the four men soon were united.

NEVADAN GIVEN BOOST

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Representative Arentz, Republican, Nevada, today urged President Hoover to appoint District Judge Frank Norcross, Carson City, to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

NEW PLEA MADE FOR CASH BONUS

Representative Fish Urges One-fourth Payment

Money Declared Available in Reserve Fund

Suggestion Put Forth in Letter to Mellon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Immediate cash payments to World War veterans of one-fourth the face value of their compensation certificates was urged today by Representative Fish, Republican, New York, in a letter to Secretary Mellon.

Fish estimated one-fourth the value of the certificates at $800,000,000. Mellon has opposed payment of the certificates in full as of doubtful benefit to veterans.

LOANS NOT DEDUCTED

"Would not your objections be complied with by the payment, in cash or negotiable government bonds with 3 per cent interest, of one-fourth of the face value of the certificates without deductions for loans already made which would continue to constitute a debt against the remaining amount of the service certificates?" Fish wrote.

The New Yorker asked if the Treasury would not have a reserve fund of $750,000,000 on January 1 to retire the certificates, which he said is an "ample" amount to pay one-fourth the face value.

SUFFERING CITED

Fish said he believes there is hardship and suffering among unemployed veterans and that an average cash payment of $250 would be helpful.

In addition, he said, the placing in immediate circulation of between $500,000,000 and $700,000,000 would tend to stimulate business.

His plan, Fish said, would leave 75 per cent of the policies for insurance of the wives and children.

Meanwhile, the petition of Representative Patman, Democrat, Texas, to get consideration of his bill for payment in full of the certificates has accumulated about fifty signatures. A majority of the 435 members is required to take the $3,500,000,000 measure out of the Ways and Means Committee and bring it before the House.

Idahoans Burn Wheat as Fuel

NEZ PERCE (Idaho) Dec. 10. (AP) Residents of this town, ten miles from big timber, and in the midst of a wheat region, are burning wheat for fuel.

Coal costs $16.50 per ton and wood $10 a cord, a business man said today, while wheat costs $9 a ton, delivered.

Wheat produces an even heat and holds fire about as long as coal, the business man said.

A drop brings relief from Colds

IT ONLY takes a drop of Vapex to give you all-day-long relief from the misery of a cold.

In the morning, use Vapex on your handkerchief. Its delightful fragrance clears your head, opens up your nose, lets you breathe freely and easily. And it fights your cold effectively and safely.

And use Vapex on your pillow at night—a drop at each end. This use of Vapex induces sound slumber when a cold keeps you awake.

Vapex is very inexpensive. The $1 bottle contains fifty applications—an average of only 2c apiece. Millions of bottles are sold yearly. It is approved by Good Housekeeping because it is safe for every one—even little children.

For safety's sake, always ask for V-A-P-E-X—the original inhalant—and do not accept an inferior product that claims to be "just as good."

Pimples and Blackheads Lasted Two Years. Cuticura Healed.

"The trouble that I had was pimples and blackheads on my face, especially on my forehead. The pimples were small and sometimes scaled over. They itched and when I scratched them it only caused more to come. The trouble lasted about two years. I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and they helped me, and after using several cakes of the Soap, and about a box of Cuticura Ointment I was completely healed in two months." KELLOGG GIVEN HIS NOBEL PRIZE

Confident Note Sounded on Peace Prospects

Any New War Would Result in Chaos, He Says

Sinclair Lewis Gets Check for Literary Work

OSLO (Norway) Dec. 10. (AP)—Sounding a confident note on world peace but warning that western civilization could not withstand a new war, Frank B. Kellogg, whose efforts toward world peace resulted in the Kellogg-Briand pact, today received the Nobel peace prize for 1929.

An orchestra played the Star Spangled Banner as the former American Secretary of State, fifth of his countrymen to win the award, received a diploma and medal from Prof. Frederick Stang, president of the Nobel committee.

King Haakon was present with Crown Prince Olav, Cabinet members and other notables.

Premier Johan Mowinckel described Mr. Kellogg as "the man of practical politics," contrasting him with Dr. Nathan Soederblom, winner of the 1930 award, whom the Premier termed "a man of the church and a spiritual warrior."

HOPES VOICED

In acknowledging the award Mr. Kellogg asserted there is no indication of war in the world, but rather the prospect is for continued peace.

"General unrest," he said, "is a natural expression of hard times everywhere, but there has been no war and we should be thankful to take it as a good omen that peace prevails today on the earth.

"I feel sorry that so many people, among them many of my own countrymen, constantly predict a new war. I have said it before and will emphasize it as strong as possible, that western culture will never outlive a new war, but will perish in a general chaos.

"I know of no nobler work for humanity than promoting peace. Men must adopt higher and greater goals than that of settling international quarrels by arms."

HONOR TO NATION

Mr. Kellogg said he regards the award not only as an honor to himself but to his country as well and as a recognition of America's efforts toward peace and a higher civilization.

The audience applauded when he rose to receive the prize from Prof. Stang while the "Star Spangled Banner" was played. Playing of the Swedish national anthem that followed was the signal for Dr. Soederblom to receive the 1930 peace award.

Other Americans who have won the Nobel prize for peace were Theodore Roosevelt in 1906, Elihu Root in 1912, Woodrow Wilson in 1919 and Ambassador Charles G. Dawes in 1925.

SINCLAIR LEWIS RECEIVES HIS PRIZE

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 10. (AP)—Sinclair Lewis, who told Americans about themselves bringing out some details they hadn't thought about before, today received the coveted Nobel prize for literature.

With him in the auditorium of Stockholm's Concert Hall, bright with flowers and bedecked with flags and hanging rugs, three other leaders in their fields received Nobel awards—Dr. Karl Landsteiner of the Rockefeller Institute, New York, for medicine; Sir Chand-Rasekhara Venkata Raman of India for physics, and Prof. Hans Fischer of Germany for chemistry.

The prizes, including checks, were handed them by King Gustav V.

San Diego Airs Water Problem

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Problems affecting the future water supply of San Diego today were laid before Northcutt Ely, executive assistant to Secretary Wilbur, by representatives of that city.

The Californians discussed proposals that the city either join the metropolitan water district of Los Angeles, take water direct from the Boulder Canyon Dam, or tap the all-American canal, a part of the Boulder Canyon project.

No action was taken.

Imperial Parley Called Failure

BLOEMFONTEIN (South Africa) Dec. 10. (AP)—The recent imperial conference at London was a "complete failure from the economic point of view," Gen. Jan Christian Smuts, leader of the opposition in the South African Parliament and former Premier, declared here today.

It ended in "disillusionment and disappointment for every part of our commonwealth of nations," he asserted.

BRITAIN'S POLICIES ON TRADE ATTACKED

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—In what amounted to a slashing attack on Britain's internal financial policies, Lord Inchcape, shipping magnate, today declared he never had known trade to be so bad as in the past few months, and he predicted "the prospects for shipping are far from bright." He spoke at an annual meeting of the Peninsular and Orient Shipping Company and attributed the gloomy situation of doles to lavish a hand in payment of doles to the unemployed."

ENGLISH KING WILL SHOOT PHEASANTS

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—King George, accompanied by the Duke of York and Prince George, left Buckingham Palace for Windsor to do some shooting on the pheasant preserves there. It is the first time the King has gone shooting since his illness in 1928. The trip was postponed from yesterday because of the fog which lay over Southern England.

SLUMP SEEN AS TEST OF CHARACTER

Samuel Insull Declares Courage of People Will Bring Back Prosperity

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 10. (AP)—Samuel Insull, head of the Insull Utilities, told the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce today that "bright days will come again because courage and character will make them come."

The occasion of his address was the chamber's annual centenary luncheon in honor of the 105 Philadelphia firms which have been in business for 100 years or more.

"We are in the midst of a test of both courage and character today," Mr. Insull said, "and these 105 institutions of yours ought to be an example to us. What has a business depression or even a panic meant in the history of such an institution? Only an incident which did not even leave a scar."

"But there is one thing," Insull said, "we must take to heart. Our good times will not come as a gift of government, or a gift of Providence, but as an effort of the people.

"There are among us, as there have been among every people of every age, those who are perpetually calling upon government for aid, whether times are good or bad."

Officials Admit Taking Fees for Aid to Veterans

DETROIT, Dec. 10. (AP)—Three Federal employees today changed their pleas of not guilty and admitted accepting fees from disabled World War veterans seeking compensation from the government.

Each furnished bond of $1000 to assure his appearance in court. David A. Wolff, assistant District Attorney, said the charges will be taken before the Federal grand jury immediately.

The three men are Marshal Palmer, superintendent of the Federal Employment Bureau for Veterans here; J. G. Burleson, Michigan adjudication officer for the Veterans' Bureau, and Francis Schilling, a member of the Michigan rating bureau for veterans.

State Building Program Cited

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 10. (AP)—A $3,500,000 program of State construction which, if approved by Gov.-elect Rolph, will provide work for approximately 1000 men during the fore part of 1931, was described today by the departments of Finance and Public Works.

Rolland A. Vandegrift, selected by Rolph to study the State budget for the coming biennium, declared the incoming administration hopes to arrange finances so that more than $3,000,000 will become available in March, 1931, for construction work at State institutions.

HIGH TARIFF WALL ERECTED BY CHILE

SANTIAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Chilean government today published a new tariff decree raising a high tariff wall about the country. The decree affects 447 articles, many of them as high as 35 per cent more than the present duty. It will become effective after sixty days.

Although regarded as a slight modification of original plans to make a general increase of all duties, it includes many important articles of commerce affecting trade between the United States, Europe and Chile.

SENATORS CONFIRM RAIL BOARD MEMBER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Senate today confirmed the nomination of Frank McManamy of Washington, D. C., to be a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

PACKAGE MAIL CHANGES URGED

Parcel Post Proposals Laid Before Interstate Board

Increased Weight and Girth Maximums Suggested

Postmaster-General Also Seeks Adjusted Rates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—An increase in maximum weight and size of parcel post packages with an adjustment of rates was proposed in a letter today to the Interstate Commerce Commission by Postmaster-General Brown.

The rates would become effective July 1, 1931.

The proposal would fix a maximum weight of seventy pounds for parcels to all zones and permit mailing of bundles having a combined girth and length of 100 inches instead of the present limit of eighty-four inches. At present packages weighing more than fifty pounds cannot be sent beyond the third zone.

BULKY PACKAGES

For bulky packages the Postmaster-General would charge additional rates. For those of two pounds or less this special charge would be 10 cents; more than two pounds and not more than ten, 15 cents; and al lin excess of ten pounds, 20 cents.

The basic rate would be increased generally in the first three zones but would remain unchanged for local delivery. In other zones the "first pound" rate would be increased 2 cents but the "additional pound" rate would be reduced.

Rates for matter originating on rural routes would be 2 cents less than the regular rate for local delivery and 3 cents less for other than local delivery. Present rates for this matter are 2 cents less than the regular rate for local delivery and one cent less for other than local delivery.

RATES BY ZONES

The rates by zones as proposed and the present rates are:

Local delivery, 7 cents for the first pound and 2 cents for each additional pound. Unchanged.

First and second zones, 8 cents and 1 1-10 cents; present rate, 7 cents and 1 cent. Where the haul is 300 miles or more the proposed rate is 9 cents and 2 cents.

Third, 9 cents and 2 cents; present rate, 8 and 2.

Fourth, 10 cents and 3 5-10 cents; 8 and 4.

Fifth, 11 cents and 5 3-10 cents; 9 and 6.

Sixth, 12 cents and 7 cents; 10 and 8.

Seventh, 14 cents and 9 cents; 12 and 10.

Eighth, 15 cents and 11 cents; 13 and 12.

Brown wrote that the existing parcel-post rates are inequitable, "that they do not produce sufficient revenue to pay the cost of handling and transportation and the weight limits to the more distant zones are such as to prevent the shipment of desirable articles."

The plan was submitted to the commission in accordance with the present parcel-post law.

BILL FOR RELIEF OF INDIANS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The House Indian Affairs Committee approved today a bill to permit the Secretary of Interior to accept contributions for work in behalf of Indians.

BLOND TO FACE MAJ. SHEPARD

Girl in Case Will Testify at Murder Trial

Love Notes From Army Man Sent With Flowers

Government Wins Point in Kansas City Court

KANSAS CITY (Kan.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Nearing the climax of its case against Maj. Charles A. Shepard, the government announced late today Miss Grace Brandon, blond stenographer with whom the 59-year-old army medical officer was infatuated, will take the witness stand tomorrow in his trial for the asserted poison murder of his second wife.

A parade of witnesses today related how Shepard had showered flowers and gifts on the San Antonio (Tex.) girl, including a $1500 motor car, a pet canary, jewelry and clothing.

The prosecution brought out Shepard had ordered flowers for Miss Brandon through F. H. Hauser, San Antonio florist, before and after his wife's death at Fort Riley, Kan., June 15, 1929.

ENDEARING NOTES

One letter from Shepard identified by Hauser was dated three days after Mrs. Shepard was stricken with the fatal illness which the government charges was induced by poison administered by Shepard in a plot to remove his wife so he could wed Miss Brandon. The letter ordered a dozen peonies sent to the Texas girl.

Endearing messages, composed by Shepard to accompany the flowers delivered almost weekly, were read into the record, giving the jury and the avid crowd of spectators a foretaste of the long, ardent epistles to Miss Brandon which the prosecution has announced will be introduced later.

"I wish I could take the place of these flowers, personally," and "the sweetness of these lilies are symbolic of my sweetheart," were some of the greetings signed with "love" from "Charlie."

Miss Brandon appeared in court ready to go on the stand, but was not called today. No sign of recognition was exchanged between the girl and Shepard.

DEFENSE LOSES POINT

Defense counsel sought without avail to prevent introduction of testimony concerning gifts and attentions paid to Miss Brandon after the death of Mrs. Shepard on the ground such actions on Shepard's part were perfectly proper. Judge Richard J. Hopkins overruled the objections.

Dist.-Atty. Brewster indicated the prosecution may complete its direct testimony tomorrow or Friday. Expert testimony in support of the contention that Mrs. Shepard died of poisoning virtually was wound up today when Dr. Frank J. Hall, Kansas City pathologist, in answer to a hypothetical question stated death resulted from "mercurial poisoning."

The wife of an army captain at Fort Riley, Mrs. Alice McDonald, testified Shepard told her a few days after his wife was stricken he did not believe she would recover.

Ten witnesses were called by the prosecution in rapid order to testify regarding gifts and letters sent to Miss Brandon by the defendant.

PASADENA FARE PLEA PRESENTED

Red Line Asks Railroad Commission for New Passenger Rates

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Authority to revise fares and service in and around the city of Pasadena was asked of the State Railroad Commission today by the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

Under terms of the application the company would abolish the present general 7-cent fare, substituting a 5-cent fare in the Pasadena business district and a 10-cent fare effective between the business district and outer zones.

The company offered to buy $500,000 worth of new coaches as soon as the application is granted. An offer of improvement of service on the North Los Robles line, the North Hill avenue line and California street line also was made.

NASHVILLE PAPERS' RECEIVERSHIP ASKED

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) Dec. 10. (AP) Application for the appointment of a receiver of the Tennessee Publishing Company, publishers of the Nashville Tennessean and the Evening Tennessean, was filed in Chancery Court today by the Minnesota and Ontario Paper Company of Minneapolis.

The petition says the company has an account of approximately $94,000 against the Tennessee publishing company for newsprint.

CAUSES OF LYNCHINGS DISCERNED

Lack of Educatiion Linked With Poverty as Two Chief Reasons for Mobbing

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Poverty and lack of education are responsible for lynchings in the opinion of a national commission studying the causes of mob violence.

George Fort Milton, editor of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) News, who is chairman of the group, has issued a preliminary report on its findings, saying "a definite relation probably will be found between inadequate education and readiness to give the law into the hands of the mob."

"Where many men are living, year after year, on the fringe of heartbreak and hunger," he says, "they accumulate a formidable mass of internal emotional tensions demanding satisfaction. Furthermore, in the majorities of studies thus far completed the communities in which the lynchings occurred had less than a six months' school term."

Other members of the commission are Dr. Howard W. Odum of the University of North Carolina; Julian Harris of the Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution; Alex W. Spence, a Dallas (Tex.) lawyer; Dr. W. P. King of Nashville, Tenn., and Dr. W. J. McGlothlin, head of Furman University.

Burning Vessel to Be Scuttled

BLYTH (Northumberland, Eng.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Fire raged so fiercely all day in the former Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland that attempts were made tonight to scuttle the ship and thereby extinguish the blaze.

The fire, believed to have been caused by an electrical short circuit, started early today in the second-class quarters and spread to the ship's fuel tanks, containing 300 tons of oil. All the fire-fighting equipment in the town and vicinity could do nothing to save the ship.

The old vessel recently was sold by the Canadian Pacific to junk dealers.

Girl Confesses Killing Jeweler

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—Jean Dayle confessed to police detectives here this evening, they announced that she killed Sam Frank, jewelry auctioneer of Memphis, Tenn., in his hotel room here last Saturday morning.

She declared she alone was responsible for the slaying and robbery of the 65-year-old auctioneer.

"There was nobody with me—it's the truth, there wasn't," she told the officers.

DECOTO RESIGNS AS RAIL COMMISSIONER

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Ezra W. Decoto today announced his resignation as a member of the State Railroad Commission is in the hands of Gov. Young for action. Decoto's resignation becomes effective the 31st inst.

In his resignation, Decoto told Gov. Young members of the commission and their staffs were underpaid.

NEW INDIAN POLICIES OUTLINED BY RHOADS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—A policy under which Oklahoma would assume all responsibility for its Indian subjects was outlined to a Senate committee today by Commissioner Rhoads of the Indian Bureau.

He also expressed the opinion Senator Wheeler's recent assertion the government's treatment of the Indian was "little less than criminal" was unjustified.

FARMERS VICTIMS OF PRICE DISPARITY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The disparity between the price level at which the farmer sells and that at which he must buy appeared today to the Agriculture Department to be the widest since 1921. Of the leading farm products only two, butter and potatoes, were selling last month at prices as high as the general wholesale level of all commodities.

RELIEF PLANS LAID BY ROLPH

Governor-elect Announces State Construction Aims

Legislature Will Be Asked to Push Huge Program

Controversy Over Retention of Hecke Under Way

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Arrangement of the State construction program so $3,500,000 to $4,000,000 may be available next March to relieve unemployment will be sought of the State Legislature as soon as it meets in January, Gov.-elect Rolph announced today.

Rolph said he has discussed the proposed State construction program with Rolland A. Vandegrift of Los Angeles, who is representing the Governor-elect in the present budget-making hearings. Vandegrift is studying the matter and either will seek to place an emergency section in the next general appropriation bill or handle the matter through some other type of bill in the next State Legislature.

NUMBER OF PROJECTS

Twenty-three projects, shown on the work sheets of the State Division of Architecture, may be submitted to bidders in March instead of the following July as a result of the plans.

Fourteen of the projects are planned tentatively for completion under old appropriations and nine with funds provided in the new 1931-33 budget.

Under ordinary circumstances about $1,800,000 would be available for construction work at the time this enlarged and advanced program might be put into effect. The proposed work on the fourteen projects planned under old appropriations would provide work for more than 500 men for ten months and a similar number of men could be employed on the other proposed projects for about seven months.

DISPUTE OVER HECKE

The Governor-elect made the announcement between conferences with agricultural leaders on the retention of George H. Hecke as director of the State Department of Agriculture.

Today a delegation representing a State-wide gathering of farmers and others called on Rolph and asked for the reappointment of Hecke. Tomorrow a delegation of fifty, described by their leader, R. V. Garrod, president of the Farmers' Union, Saratoga, as dirt farmers, will urge him to "fire" Hecke and to insist on a change of policy in the agricultural department.

The Governor-elect stated he was disappointed in not being able to select a suitable Real Estate Commissioner or a Comissioner of Corporations during his stay in Los Angeles. Among the new names put forward for Real Estate Commissioner is that of Paul E. Ferguson of Los Angeles.

CONTEST AT HEIGHT

He said the contest between Mrs. Harry Michaels of Los Angeles and Mrs. Rheba Crawford Spivalo of San Francisco for the position of director of the Department of Social Welfare is at its height.

Mrs. Thornton Kinney of Venice appears to be certain of appointment as chief of the Division of Industrial Welfare, now held by Mrs. Katherine Edson. Dr. Giles Porter, assistant health officer of Los Angeles, has been suggested as successor to Dr. Walter M. Dickie, director of the State Department of Public Health.

MORE CLAIMS HEARD IN ESTATE BATTLE

NEWARK (N. J.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Closing argument on behalf of John E. Nicholson of Baltimore, one of three claimants to the $325,000 trust fund of the late William E. Emery of Flemington, N. J., was heard in Chancery Court today. Counsel for Albert Childers of Los Angeles and Leo Sova of Milwaukee, each of whom claims to be the grandson of Emery, made their arguments yesterday. There were originally thirteen claimants.

WONDERFUL

MRS. E. W. ELLIOTT says she doesn't believe any medicine on earth ever did more for anyone than Sargon did for her.

"I don't believe any medicine on earth ever did more for anyone than Sargon did for me. No matter how little I ate I suffered terribly with indigestion and stomach trouble. I was so nervous that some nights I couldn't sleep a wink. I was badly constipated and had severe attacks of sick headache.

"Sargon and Sargon Pills helped me from the very beginning. I now eat anything I want without fear of indigestion. I have been freed of that awful affliction—constipation, and I haven't had a headache since I started the treatment. I'm a well woman and would feel very ungrateful if I did not tell others about it."—Mrs. Elliott lives at 2211 Oros St., Los Angeles.

REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

Keeping a Clear Track

Modern railroads, with their rotary steam plows, can bid defiance to winter. Snow may blanket the countryside . . . but the trains go through.

With equal care, throughout the financial storms of four decades, Pacific States Savings has kept a clear track. Panics and depression have swept the Nation. But this institution's savers have traveled with unabated speed and safety toward their financial goals.

How we are keeping a clear track today is shown by our strong cash position, our conserved earnings of over 3½ times our guarantee capital, and our freedom from bank indebtedness.

If your financial schedule calls for safe and uninterrupted progress in 1931, investigate the outstanding strength and liquidity of our 6% and 5¼% facilities for savings. Write or call for our Statement.

RED OUTBREAKS GAIN IN CHINA

New Reports of Slaughter Increase Terror

Opposition Partisan Boiled in Oil Publicly

Pirates Capture Boat and Seize Valuables

HANKOW (China) Dec. 10. (AP)—China's latest scourge, Communism, today appeared to be gaining momentum despite all efforts of the government to curb this menace.

Dispatches received here today from Northeast Hupeh Province, where Sunday's advices said 20,000 Reds virtually annihilated a similar number of provincial troops, said Communist activities are increasing greatly throughout that area. Advices indicated the tentacles of Communism are spreading rapidly into Southeast Honan Province, where bandits are reported conducting a reign of error.

BOILED IN OIL

Dispatches described orgies of killing, plundering and burning in Honan. One message stated the Reds, furious against the Kuomintang (People's party or political party behind the Nationalist government) publicly boiled in a pot of oil its representative in an obscure village. Many tax officials of Honan Province are reported to have been executed.

Details of the Reds' reported victory over provincial troops in Hupeh Province Sunday still were unavailable today because of crippled communications. Dispatches said, however, the military was unable to cope with the situation there.

MERCILESS WARFARE

Leaders of the Communists in Hupeh Province are said to be well-educated, upper-class men, merciless, however, in their war against capitalism. Instances have been cited in which these leaders are reported to have shot down their own relatives as members of the capitalist class.

Communist depredations also are continuing in Hunan Province, advices from Changsha indicated. Dispatches said Reds occupied the town of Siangyin, north of Changsha, for one day. When they departed, they left the city a heap of ashes. Changsha lives in constant fear of another Red attack similar to that which recently left many portions of the city in ruins.

WIRE ENTANGLEMENTS

Wire entanglements surrounding Changsha are constantly being strengthened. The populace is hoping President Chiang Kai-shek, en route to Hankow from Kiukiang to assume command of the antibandit drive, will visit Changsha to raise the flagging enthusiasm of the people for greater vigilance against the danger of Red incursion.

That the Communist threat may have spread to Anhwei Province, east of Honan and Hupeh provinces, was indicated in a dispatch from Wuhu today.

BOAT CAPTURED

River pirates near Wuhu captured a small boat, robbed the passengers and crew, stripped the ship of valuables and escaped with about $10,000 Mexican (about $4000.)

Ten pirates boarded the vessel as passengers, overpowered the ship's officers soon after the boat got under way, and forced the vessel to heave to when a pirate junk came alongside. Buccaneers swarmed aboard, completed their work, and disappeared into the darkness.

Bandits Wait on Time Lock

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—Four robbers held up the Interstate National Bank in the Livestock Exchange Building here today and escaped with $45,000.

The quartet, unmasked, took charge of the bank when the porter arrived to open the place. Officers and employees arriving for work were greeted with drawn pistols and held in a group until the time lock on the vault permitted its opening.

Before the vault could be opened there were twenty-seven persons under cover of the robbers' guns. The four men escaped in a motor car.

Ex-Wife Kills Man and Self

TAFT (Or.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Jack Sharpe, 47 years of age, was shot and killed at his home here last night by his former wife, Sue Sharp, 40, who then pressed the revolver to her temple and committed suicide.

The present Mrs. Sharpe was in the room. They had been married three months.

Current Kills Folsom Convict

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Frank Saur, 29 years of age, Folsom convict electrician, today was electrocuted when he lost his balance while standing on the crossbar of a power pole and fell on three lines carrying high voltage.

Saur was committed to the prison from Los Angeles county January 27, 1926, to serve from five years to life on a robbery charge.

BRONTE TO WED SOON, THEN VISIT SOUTHLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Rumored engagement of Emory Bronte, navigator of the first civilian flight between the American mainland and Hawaii, and Miss Martha Edwina Griffith, 25 years of age, of Terrell, Tex., was confirmed by Bronte here today, who said the wedding will take place here the 20th inst. She formerly lived in Reno, Nev.

The couple plan to spend their honeymoon in Central and Southern California.

PLOT AIMED AT CHILEAN CHIEF FAILS

Two Generals Among Crew Seized in Act of Setting Mine for President

SANTIAGO (Chile) Dec. 10. (AP)—More than fifteen persons, including two major-generals, are being held in connection with a plot against the life of President Carlos Ibanez thwarted by government agents.

The agents, familiar with details of the plan, permitted the plotters to go ahead and even watched them as they placed twenty-five pounds of dynamite under a railroad bridge across the Rio Maipo, twenty miles from Santiago, a short time before the Presidential train was due to pass.

Then the agents swooped down upon them, captured the plotters and disconnected the electric wires which were to have set off the charge.

The President, unmoved by the incident, went about his work today in his usual fashion. The government press bulletin described the group as "a number of high persons in conjunction with anarchistic elements."

Hunt Announces Selections for State Positions

PHOENIX, Dec. 10. (AP)—Governor-elect Hunt announced today the following would be appointed by him when he takes office next month:

Private secretary to the Governor, J. W. Strong.

J. W. Strode, Miami, Mila county.

Superintendent of girls' school at Randolph, Mrs. May S. Craig, Phoenix.

State prison, William Delbridge, Cochise county, superintendent; Tom Wills, Pinal county, assistant superintendent; parole clerk, J. Sanders, Yavapai county; yard captain, Martin Wright, Inspiration, Gila county; farm superintendent, Pierce Vensel, Maricopa county.

Industrial school, Jacob Hamblin, Apache county, superintendent.

Custodian of capital and grounds, A. E. Mann, Tempe.

Sunday Closing of Shows Held Discriminatory

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—An Evanston (Ill.) ordinance prohibiting the showing o motion pictures on Sunday has been held by Circuit Judge Sullivan to be religiously discriminatory and, thereore, unconstitutional.

His decision, announced yesterday, held that persons of faiths celebrating the Sabbath on days other than Sunday had the right to six days of amusement. At the same time he ruled that a referendum in Evanston in April favoring Sunday films did not compel the City Council to legalize them by ordinance.

An injunction to restrain the Evanston Police Department from closing Sunday theaters is still pending.

INDIAN SLAYER CONVICTED

OROVILLE, Dec. 10. (AP)—Charles Conklin (Indian Charley) was convicted of murder in the first degree here today for the slaying on September 22 of A. O. Panter. The jury recommended life imprisonment. He will be sentenced Monday.

LAVAL CABINET ATTEMPTS FAIL

Too Much Conflict, French President Told

Many Leaders Interviewed in Past Three Days

PARIS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Caught in a no man's land between bitter warfare of the Right and Left parties, the youthful Senator Laval today gave up his efforts to form a government.

He called on President Doumergue and informed the President he, like his veteran colleague, Louis Barthou, must renounce the task assigned him.

"I have sought conciliation, yet I have been confronted with nothing but conflict," Laval told President Doumergue, who announced he would call no other statesmen this evening.

For three days with infinite patience, Laval had caused no fewer than 100 Senators and Deputies to call on him at the Ministry of Labor and offer suggestions.

UNCLE SAM MAKING 'EM FORK OVER

Delinquent Taxpayers of Nation Forced to Disgorge $13,037,670 Last Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Evading payment of income taxes apparently is becoming a losing game. This was shown today in a report that last year $13,037,670 was collected from delinquent income tax payers.

In addition, the Internal Revenue Bureau collected $8,093,263 from delinquents in miscellaneous taxes, making the total from such sources $21,130,933. This was more than twice as much as the previous twelve months and $6,335,000 more than received from delinquents in any previous year.

A. E. Dunsmore, chief of the accounts and collections unit, explained that much attention has been given to devising means of trapping evaders and obtaining proper payment from those who pay too little through honest error.

In the last five fiscal years the bureau has collected a total of $68,127,049 in delinquent taxes, Dunsmore said, of which $43,036,550 was from income and the remainder from miscellaneous taxes.

STAGE DRIVER IN HIS OLD HAUNTS

Oscar Hert Back Again to Ventura Relay Barn

Undertaking Establishment Now on Historic Site

And Once Dashing Jehu Comes in Box, Not on It

VENTURA, Dec. 10.—Oscar Hert, former driver of the Wells-Fargo coach on the Lompoc-to-Los Angeles route, was back at the old relay barn in Ventura today.

But the scene had changed in forty years.

Oscar was not the swaggering, hard-pushing stage driver of 1894. He was an old man, dead.

And the relay barn. It had been torn down these thirty-five years to make way for the establishment of the Reardon Undertaking Company.

It was in 1894 and 1895 that Oscar used to lash his six-horse team along the dusty Camino Real into Ventura with the stagecoach swaying behind and the passengers peering timorously from the big windows.

With a flourish, he would pull up his horses in front of the stables, which housed fresh steeds waiting to dash with the lumbering vehicle and its load of passengers and mail. Then, with the horses changed and perhaps one passenger gone and another taken on, he would continue on the way.

A gunshot wound during a hold-up, from Black Bart, the noted Santa Ynez brigand, brought a close to Hert's stage-driving career in 1896. After that he took up other means of making a living.

When he died a week ago he was working on the Caswell ranch near Moorpark. Death came suddenly from a heart attack, taking him as he stood at a woodpile swinging an ax.

His funeral was conducted this morning at Reardon's chapel, the site of the old relay barn, and he was buried in the old Ventura Cemetery.

He leaves his father, C. J. Hert, at the Soldiers' Home, Sawtelle; two sisters and three brothers.

San Fernando Issues Defi to Gangsters

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 10.—San Fernando is going about it in the right way—and no foolin'. To cope with the crime wave if it should happen to hit here in more than ordinary degree, an extra night patrol has been added to the police force following the recommendation of Chief of Police T. W. Grady. This night patrol consists of two policemen who will walk about the town from 9 p.m. until dawn, armed with two sawed-off shotguns.

"And we mean business," said one of these policemen today. "There's a lot of talk going on now about a policeman getting himself into trouble with the politicians because he hauls off and shoots somebody that has it coming to him. That sort of politics doesn't go in San Fernando. We mean business with our shotguns. Burglars and gangsters had better give this town a wide berth."

Failure-to-Stop Charge Faced

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 10.—Frank Moreno of Live Oak street, Bell, is to face a charge of failure to stop and render aid when his truck and an automobile crashed in the 2500 block in Randolph street, here, Sunday. Moreno was brought before Judge Edward H Miller where his bail was placed at $1000, and preliminary hearing set for the morning of the 15th inst.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Kuhlman and Mr. and Mrs. John Marin of Temple City, were driving along the thoroughfare, when it is said the truck and machine crashed. Moreno is asserted to have jumped from the truck and left hurriedly on foot. The truck was registered to Mike Salena of this city. Salena was visited at his home and he informed the officers that Moreno was the driver. Later Moreno was arrested at his home in Bell and brought to this city, where the charge was preferred against him.

Mrs. Kuhlman was removed to the Huntington Park Hospital suffering from injuries to her head.

VAN NUYS CRACK SHOT GETS FINAL SUMMONS

VAN NUYS, Dec. 10.—The body of Silas W. Trout, 68 years of age, today was shipped by the Van Nuys Funeral Parlors to Franklin, Ind., a former home, for interment, following his death after a prolonged illness. Trout had been an employee of the Van Nuys branch of the Los Angeles Water and Power Department for many years. Despite his age, he was regarded as one of the best trapshooters in Southern California. For years he was a member of the local gun club, always winning first prize at the contest shoots.

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO IN SERIOUS CONDITION

UPLAND, Dec. 10. — Struck down recently by an automobile at Ninth street and Euclid avenue, Mrs. Ida Scott of the Upland Hotel, is reported to be in a critical condition at San Antonio Community Hospital. Mrs. Scott received a broken leg and other injuries when she stepped from the curb at the intersection, and failed to notice an approaching automobile, of which Conrad Stroh was driver. The front wheel of Stroh's car struck Mrs. Scott to the pavement. Stroh lives at 1200 South San Antonio avenue, Ontario.

NAMING OF GOVERNOR CONFIRMED

Appointment of Carlos Trejo y Lerdo de Trejada to Mexican Post Told

CALEXICO, Dec. 10.—Confirmation of reports that Gen. Arturo Bernal has resigned as Governor of the Northern District of Lower California and Carlos Trejo y Lerdo de Trejada has been named as his successor, was received here by Edmundo Aragon, Mexican Consul, late last night by long-distance telephone from Mexico City.

Bernal left last week for a visit to Mexico City, and, according to information received here, he is to be given a Federal appointment involving duty at Mexico City.

Gen. Bernal assumed the Governorship of the district on the first of September and, during the three-month period that he has occupied the executive chair, has replaced all of the important offices in the district with personal appointees, a majority of them from Mexico City.

Machinery has been assembled here and work was scheduled to be started on the proposed new highway from Mexicali to San Luis in the State of Sonora on Monday of this week, but the project is now being held up awaiting the arrival of the new Governor.

Rose Canyon Highway Opens on Saturday

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 10. — Formal opening of the new Rose Canyon highway, a $350,000 project built by the city, county and State, is scheduled for Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Bert B. Meek, Director of Public Works for the State, will cast aside the barrier at the north end of the six-mile road and officially place the highway in service as a unit of the State road system.

Meek is expected to head a parade of cars over the new road immediately following the casting aside of the barrier.

Details of the opening celebration were outlined at a meeting in Mayor Clark's office today. City and county road enthusiasts and prominent citizens joined in plans.

Mayor Clark will be chairman of the opening exercises, which will start at 1:30 p.m. at the north end of the Rose Canyon road.

STRENGTHENING OF WASH WEIRS URGED

CUCAMONGA, Dec. 10. — A project to strengthen weirs and retaining walls in Cucamonga Wash, has been set under way, officials of the Cucamonga Basin Protective Association announced today. This project is in keeping with the association's plans of flood control and water conservation.

Engineers in charge of the work are seeking to redirect water channels, in order that run-off water may be conserved in gravel beds, and so that floodwaters may not only be prevented from damaging groves but may at the same time be utilized for agricultural purposes.

Several similar projects are contemplated in Cucamonga district.

CLASS GIVES PLAY AS CHRISTMAS GIFT

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 10.—As its annual holiday gift to the community the student body of Redondo Union High School, through the oral English class of the school, will give the Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," at the school auditorium tomorrow night. The play, as given each year, is free to the public. Leading characters in this year's production include Irma Louise Carter and Roy Lyons. Mrs. Tillie Brandt Palmer, oral English director of the school, is in charge, and a program by the glee clubs and school orchestra will supplement the production.

TILE CONTRACT LET ON COUNTY HOSPITAL

HERMOSA BEACH, Dec. 10.—The contract for supplying all tile to be used in the new Los Angeles County Hospital Building, is acknowledged by the American Encaustic Tiling Company plant here. The order, one of the largest ever placed with any tile manufacturer, will call for approximately twenty carloads of the various types. The local plant is a branch of the Los Angeles plant of the company which also maintains factories and laboratories in Maurer, N. J., and Zanesville, O. Four hundred distinct specimens can be produced in the Hermosa Beach plant.

FATALITY DUE TO BRAKES

Driver, Neil M. Smith, Released After Inquest at Request of Son of Woman Killed in Crash

PASADENA, Dec. 10.—Failure of Neil M. Smith of 2071 Garfias Drive, to have his brakes in proper order, was blamed by a Coroner's jury today for the death of Mrs. Clarice Searle, 62 years of age, of 43 North Roosevelt avenue, who died from injuries incurred in a collision between her son's car and a machine driven by Smith. Although Smith was held responsible for the accident at the inquest held in the Reynolds & Eberle Mortuary, he was released by the police at the urgent request of Grant D. Packer, son of the victim.

"I don't think the boy was responsible for my mother's death and I should prefer to be behind bars myself than see him held on a manslaughter charge," Packer declared at the conclusion of the inquest.

The jury's verdict is that Mrs. Searles "came to her death as the result of a collision with an automobile driven by Neil M. Smith, who is held responsible for the accident due to faulty brakes and excessive speed."

Mr. Packer, who was driving the machine occupied by his mother, Mrs. Searles, admitted that he was an inexperienced driver and that otherwise it is barely possible he might himself have avoided the crash.

Smith testified that he applied the foot brake, but that it apparently suddenly became useless. He declared he had the brakes tested shortly before the accident.

A second traffic-death inquest held at the Burnham Mortuary, resulted in the exoneration of J. D. Freeman, motorman, in connection with the death of Harvey R. Ford, 68 years of age, 75 Eureka street, who died from injuries incurred when he was struck by a street car on Lincoln avenue.

The motorman testified that although he rang the bell, Ford continued walking directly into the path of the car.

Grand Niece of Gov. Pio Pico Before Board

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 10.—A grandniece of Pio Pico, Spanish Governor of California in 1846, today appeared before the Board of Supervisors and obtained an appropriation of $500 to aid in protection of roadways in the region of the Pico ranch, north of San Jacinto, from the raging torrents of the San Jacinto River. She is Miss Ruth Pico. With her, at the Pico home, situated on a slight rise in the valley south of Dry Lake, southeast of Moreno, is her mother. A grandfather, J. A. Aguirre, controlled a great fleet of merchant ships that brought silks and other finery from China to the San Diego port in the earlier days of California.

Miss Pico was accompanied to the board session by Attorney Miguel Estudillo, a member of another aristocratic Spanish family of the early California history. She explained to the Supervisors that a surfaced road leading from Lakeview to San Jacinto and passing by hers and other ranches in that district, is menaced each year by the high floods of the San Jacinto River. Normally, it is a dry stream bed, but rains turn the river into a raging torrent.

Through public subscription among the owners of property affected, Miss Pico has raised a sum of money, and Attorney Estudillo told the Supervisors the State Department of Water Rights has agreed to post money equal to a third of the total raised.

City Taxpayers Organized at Ventura Meeting

VENTURA, Dec. 10. (AP)—With lower taxes as its goal, the nucleus of a City Taxpayers' Association, in which all citizens are invited to participate, has been formed in this city.

A mass meeting of taxpayers will be held January 13, next, at a place to be decided later for the election of officers and adoption of by-laws for the new organization.

These developments grew last night from a dinner conference here, called by W. H. Glover, Ventura realty board member, and attended by more than a score of taxpayers, including prominent business and professional men.

No Liability in Case Allowed

ONTARIO, Dec. 10.—According to word from the State Compensation Insurance Division, the organization assumes no liability for claims in the death of Dewey Albright, city water department employee, who was fatally injured November 14 in a cave-in.

The State compensation insurance fund provides only for the payment of medical and burial fees, according to a letter to City Clerk D. B. Wynne.

No other claim would be accepted by the insurance bureau, S. Friedberg, senior claim examiner, said in the communication, for the reason that "it had not been established that the deceased left any dependents."

Albright was caught in a ditch cave-in, and received fatal injuries.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE STARTS NEXT WEEK

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 10.—More than 750 city and county school-teachers will attend the annual Teachers' Institute starting in the Santa Barbara High School the 15th inst., and continuing for three days. An elaborate program of speaking by prominent educators from all parts of the State has been arranged by school authorities. It has been announced that a large number of local instructors will attend the institute, to be conducted at the University of California at Los Angeles, following the local meeting.

Blythe Receives Electricity Over Brand New Line

BLYTHE, Dec. 10.—Marking the completion of a $330,000 power-line project, electricity was turned on over the new Southern Sierras Power Company transmission line yesterday at 1 p.m., the current coming to Blythe from the Calipatria station, seventy miles away in Imperial Valley.

The new power line was begun on October 2 and all work will be completed by the construction crews by Christmas Day.

The project included building of the transmission line and a substation at Blythe to cost $41,000. The poles are all steel and are spaced eight to a mile. The line will carry 90,000 volts of current and the city of Blythe will be given uninterrupted twenty-four-hour electrical service.

The new system replaces a local Diesel engine plant, in operation here for the past eleven years. The old plant has quite an erratic history for unreliable service and the new power line has received a good reception from local residents.

A construction crew of sixty-six men, camped on the desert southwest of Blythe, have been at work on the line for two months. The total number of men working on the line in this vicinity exceeds 100.

The Southern Sierras company recently acquired the Parker (Ariz.) Electrical Company, forty miles north of Blythe, and plans for the future call for a power line extension from the Blythe substation to Parker. A line to the Palo Verde mesa may be extended in the future for citrus development.

Supervisors to Answer Charge

SANTA ANA, Dec. 10.—Summons was served on the Orange County Board of Supervisors today for the five members to appear Friday morning before a deputy State labor commissioner at the City Hall, to answer a complaint filed against them, charging that aliens have been employed on public works.

The name of the complaining person was not included on the summons, filed through the office of Walter G. Mathewson, State Labor Commissioner.

Supervisors who prepared to attend, with Dist.-Atty. Z. B. West as their counsel, could supply no possible basis for the charge, unless it be in connection with the hurried recruiting of men to fight fires.

RACING PIGEON CLUB FORMED BY FANCIERS

CUCAMONGA, Dec. 10.—San Bernardino County Racing Pigeon Club, organized this week at the home of Ray R. Delhauer, 603 North Lemon avenue, Ontario, head of the pigeon department of the United States Army during the Wold War, will have as officers Virgil Rogers of Cucamonga, president; George Phibbs, Cucamonga, vice-president; Almon Carr, Ontario, secretary-treasurer. The membership includes, in addition to the officers, Roy Chappel, Cucamonga; Jack Whitney, Cucamonga; Charles Balding, Ontario; James Sprague, Victorville; Harold Taylor, Ontario, and Ray R. Delhauer, Ontario. Several utility and fancy pigeon fanciers of the district are anxious that a club be organized to include them and Delhauer is now planning such an organization.

PETITIONS PLANNED TO IMPROVE AVENUE

ARCADIA, Dec. 10.—If present plans are carried out, petitions for the widening and improving of Orange avenue from Santa Anita avenue east to Fifth avenue are to be circulated in the near future. Plans are to widen the street to eighty feet to conform to the width of the boulevard which is being opened through the Baldwin ranch and which will be connected with Orange avenue.

SUPERVISORS WILL APPEAL

Orange County Officials to Contest Ruling of State Superintendent Blocking District Separation

SANTA ANA, Dec. 10—An appeal will be taken to a ruling from the State Superintendent's office, blocking the separation of the Serra and San Clemente school districts, the County Supervisors decided, after a hearing and taking of testimony to set up an appeal to the State Board of Control.

San Clemente can separate from Serra, if the County Supervisors so decree, without consent of the State Superintendent, but would forfeit State school aid in so doing, it was revealed. As State aid is necessary, the board decided to appeal the case.

The State Superintendent's policy is toward more consolidation, instead of separation, it was stated.

Mayor Tom Murphine headed the San Clemente delegation before the board, while Serra was also represented and said that school district would be glad to get rid of San Clemente, as it furnishes a big problem.

Murphine pointed out that San Clemente is five miles from the Serra school, and that the building in which school is being held in San Clemente belongs to the city and the district cannot improve it.

Five years ago the whole district had an assessed valuation of $500,000, he said. Today it is $3,000,000. Separation would leave both districts three times as strong, financially, as the old district. Five years ago the Serra school had fourteen pupils. Today it has sixty-eight and San Clemente seventy. Murphine questioned the right of the State Superintendent to set up his authority against public policy in such cases.

FEMININE LEAD FOR PLAY ANNOUNCED

Miss Alice Marsden

VAN NUYS, Dec. 10. — Miss Alice Marsden, of Van Nuys, has been chosen to play the feminine lead in "The Colonel's Maid," production of the Van Nuys Community Players, which is to be performed Friday night in the Van Nuys High School Auditorium for the benefit of the local Community Sing. Mrs. Maime Howard Martin is directing the players.

Charles Tingle, formerly with the Ben Greet Players, and Ferdinand Mendenhall, have the leading male roles. Others in the cast are Stewart Albert, Mrs. Walter H. Crippen, Mrs. Gordon McDonough and Fred Rushton.

The Van Nuys Community Players, under the management of Mrs. McDonough, has a large following here. East one of its regular performances usually is greeted by a large audience.

Junior High Gym for Girls Will Be Built Soon

VENTURA, Dec. 10. — Construction of the new girls' gymnasium at Ventura Junior High School, will start soon after January, 1, next, E. L. Van Dellen, superintendent of city schools, has announced.

Plans for the structure, which, it is estimated, will cost $40,000, were approved this week by the Board of Trustees of the Ventura Union High School District, and bids, to be awarded on the 29th inst., were called for.

The gymnasium will be erected on the Junior High School campus facing Santa Clara street, near its intersection with Main. It will contain accommodations for 750 girls, physical education, corrective exercise, and lounge rooms.

The present gymnasium between the administration building and tennis courts will be devoted to classes for boys after the new exercise quarters are completed, it is planned.

Two Pay Fines for Possession

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 10.—Charles H. Campbell of this city, charged with possession of liquor, and Bert Williams, arrested on a similar charge, were before Judge Carson Hubbard in city court yesterday where each entered a plea of guilty, the fine in each case being $500.

The arrest of Campbell was made during the week-end when, it is asserted, he had been approached by a stranger who is said to have ordered a case of liquor for a person who was going on a trip. Campbell is said to have reached the place of delivery when the supposed customer was there, and the officers arrived in a few minutes. After Campbell was taken to jail, officers report, they visited his room and there found Bert Williams and also about fifteen gallons of whisky. Williams was arrested and charged with possession of liquor. While officers were at the Campbell rooms, it is said two telephone calls came in each for an order of liquor.

Chief of Police Will Hultquist also states that the officers found a book with a list of names and addresses of supposed customers. More than a score of them were names of local residents, some of them prominent, the Chief states.

HAMILTON SUCCEEDS TO CASEY'S PLACE

WALNUT PARK, Dec. 10.—With the resignation of Thomas M. Casey as president of the Walnut Park Water Company, Louis H. Hamilton, president of the City National Bank of Huntington Park, has been elected a member of the board of directors of the company, and Walter L. Cleveland, postmaster of Huntington Park, has been chosen president of the board of the water company. The other members on the board are Edwin H. Camp, E. F. McFarland and Victor Girard. McFarland is an attorney and Girard is at the head of the Victor Girard Company.

Since the arrest of Casey, asserted to have victimized a number of clients out of thousands of dollars, the Walnut Park Chamber of Commerce board of directors, with Ross Bartlett as president, has demanded that the books of the water company be audited by a public accountant. With the reorganization of the water company's board of directors, an audit of the books has been ordered, officers state.

GIRL ONE OF BANDIT GANG

Police Seeking Young Desperadoes in San Bernardino After Third Robbery in Twenty-four Hours

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 10.—After the third bold robbery was reported within twenty-four hours, police tonight started looking for a youthful bandit gang, one of the members being a girl about 20 years of age. Late last night the Robbins' Grocery Store was held up by a girl and young man just before closing time. At noon today two young men walked into the Star Loan Company offices and held up the proprietor and several customers.

While police were trying to identify one of the young robbers with the companion of the girl last night, the same two appeared late this afternoon at the Lilley Grocery and, ignoring holiday shoppers, backed a clerk against the wall and made away with an undetermined amount of cash.

All three robbed establishments are in the downtown district. The youths in each instance made their escape by leaping into their parked automobile and driving into heavy traffic. Both were heavily armed and showed no signs of nervousness. In both robberies today, shoppers were not molested.

DROWNED BOY'S BODY SOUGHT

Kenneth Ward Loses Life and Companion Rescued, When Canoe Upsets in Bay

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 10.—Search for the body of Kenneth Ward, 19 years of age, of 2836 Lincoln avenue, drowned yesterday in the bay 200 feet from the Coronado shore, was being carried on today by boats and shore police. The youth was drowned and T. W. Kearns, 3330 Highland avenue, his companion, escaped death when a canoe in which the pair were cruising about the bay tipped over.

A shore boat manned by sailors was standing near by where the tragedy occurred. Kearns was rescued by this boat but Ward, who was unable to swim, sank before aid arrived.

The accident occurred 200 feet off the Coronado shore, adjacent to the Union Oil Company's wharf.

The two had been on a pleasure jaunt in the canoe when waves tipped it over.

Ward was the son of Theodore Ward, a real estate broker. Kearns is a salesman.

Postoffice Site Offers Swamp This Postmaster

BURBANK, Dec. 10.—Postmaster Ketchum today denied that there is a possibility of Burbank obtaining a Federal postoffice building soon, contrary to the report of news dispatches that Congress is about to make such an appropriation. Postmaster Ketchum makes the announcement, he says, to halt various persons who have started to besiege him with offers of postoffice sites.

Just before Congressman Evans left here for Washington, D. C., recently, he told Postmaster Ketchum that, as usual, there would be a lot of red tape to go through before the Burbank appropriation would be made, and he doubted if early action in Burbank's behalf could be expected. This statement of Congressman Evans Postmaster Ketchum also included in his announcement today.

He adds that when the definite appropriation is made everybody in Burbank with a suitable site will be given an even chance to sell it to the government.

HOOVER, JR., HOME ON LIST OF BURGLARIES

PASADENA, Dec. 10. — Herbert Hoover, Jr., was among a score of residents of this city and vicinity whose homes were burglarized by John S. Grable, 21-year-old dapper burglar suspect, who was captured Monday night.

Detective Lieutenants Henry Collins and William Cropsey revealed that Grable has admitted burglarizing the former home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoover, Jr., on South Los Robles avenue, but no list of articles taken from the home has been obtained.

Grable was pursued and captured by a local resident, Gerald K. Brill, when Brill surprised him in the Brill home, 151 West Glenarm street.

WOMAN'S PURSE LEFT IN HER CAR STOLEN

ONTARIO, Dec. 10. — Mrs. J. Bedford probably won't leave anything lying loose in her car when she leaves it temporarily, hereafter. According to her story told to police she left a purse in her car while it was parked in South Euclid avenue. A thief stole the purse. In it were money and jewelry. One ring was set with an emerald and was plentifully set with diamonds, also. An overcoat went the same way as the purse and jewelry.

Lot Owners in New Effort for Building Permit

SANTA ANA, Dec. 10. — After failure in one court battle in which they sought a writ of mandate to compel the city of Laguna Beach to issue a building permit for construction of a dwelling on a beach lot at Arch Beach, Grace L. Booth and Stillman and Maurine G. Jamieson have started further proceedings in an effort to legally erect the building which they have planned.

The second suit against the city of Laguna Beach filed in Superior Court is in the guise of a complaint for quiet title. The action seeks to have the city of Laguna Beach set forth its claims to the property, also claimed by the plaintiffs, so that the matter may be definitely settled.

In the last suit it was learned that the city refused to issue the building permit on the ground that part of the property required as a site is city property. Plaintiffs are represented in court by the firm of Head, Wellington & Jacobs.

The Jamiesons are wealthy residents of Pasadena, it is reported.

Purse-Snatching Suspects Held

SANTA MONICA, Dec. 10.—"Do your Christmas purse-snatching early," seems to have been the slogan of three asserted purse-snatchers, arrested through the speed of Officer Hoffman in capturing the first suspect, according to a police report here.

Cries of "stop him!" attracted Hoffman's attention in the 1400 block on Third street. He "legged it" and apprehended Donald H. Fox, residing at a Santa Monica hotel, who assertedly was trying to escape with the freshly snatched purse of Mrs. Betty Johnson, 1223 Arizona avenue, this city.

Fox is said to have revealed that he and two others had planned to snatch purses in Santa Monica last night.

Officers Hoffman, Bray and Morton later arrested Thomas Rice, 1411-A Broadway, Santa Monica, and John Klasen, 2639 South Stoner avenue, West Los Angeles.

Mrs. Johnson was reported to have been walking with her mother, Mrs. Eva Tenant, when the purse was snatched. It was believed a man who, at the same time, had attempted to take Mrs. Tenant's purse, was Klasen. Mrs. Tenant, however had too good a grip on the purse. Police Judge Spencer will state the law's opinion of purse-snatching when the prisoners appear before him.

FIRE CHIEF SCANS HOSEMAN PAPERS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 10.—Examination papers of the thirty applicants taking the test for fire hoseman at the City Fire Department headquarters a few days ago were completed yesterday by Fire Chief Norval Wasson, who announces that James Roman Andrus, Ray Allen Walton, Lonnie Day Pickard, Leo Arthur Laney, William Henry Bruwell, Finis Lynn, Guy Burnett Stone, Worht Bagley Patten and Gairelt W. Wegner were the successful ones. This brings the eligible list up to fifteen, six having passed at a former examination held here. When a vacancy occurs in the fire department it will be filled from this eligible list.

FEDERAL-AID PLEA MADE

Riverside County Farm Bureau Board Wires Secretary Wilbur, Asking Help for Palo Verde Valley

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 10.—Plea for Federal aid for agriculturists in the Palo Verde Valley district was forwarded today to the Department of the Interior upon resolution passed by the board of directors of the Riverside County Farm Bureau. Faced with a financial crisis following the default in payments on a $4,000,000 bond issue for the flood-control project in the valley, and unable to meet the steadily increasing taxes on land in that district, landowners appealed through their local farm center for Federal aid and again today to the county directors of the Riverside bureau.

The bonds are worth about 20 cents on a dollar at their present rating, according to information furnished the directors, and there is little possibility that farms of the valley can meet the bonded debt and current taxation.

The request, in telegraphic form addressed to Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, follows.

"The Riverside County Farm Bureau directors at regular meeting today passed resolution earnestly requesting your co-operation with Congressman Swing and California Senators in their efforts for Federal aid for the Palo Verde Valley by means of Federal government taking over flood-control responsibility and reimbursing landowners for money already expended on project.

"Immediate assistance necessary to avert serious suffering of farmers in this community.

"PETER T. CARTER,

"President, Riverside County Farm Bureau."

A copy of the telegram was also sent to Congressman Swing.

Palo Verde Valley, it was pointed out to the directors, is a potential center of truck-crop production in this area, but development there is being retarded by high taxes. Transportation facilities are being improved for trucking by the California State Highway Department with the current improvement of the Sunkist Trail.

BOTH WIVES LEAVE HIM FLAT

One Gets Divorce—Other Annulment

George Howell and His First Bride

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—George Howell, who is reputed to have said that "women never go back on me" and to have married a second heiress without divorcing the first, lost both of them through court actions yesterday.

Almost simultaneously with the granting of a divorce to Mrs. Artelia Kahnweiler Howell, his first wife, a marriage annulment was granted to his second, Mrs. Marjory Heisenbuttell Howell. His first wife charged cruelty. She is the daughter of a wealthy Chicago insurance broker.

Howell married his second wife in Los Angeles a year ago, shortly after she inherited $670,000 from her grandmother. She is the daughter of Mrs. Max Strauss of New York. Howell's attorneys, however, succeeded in having a bigamy indictment against him stricken from the docket.

Long-Delayed Trial Has End

MACON (Mo.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Albert Layman, 63 years of age, of Blackwell, Okla., today was acquitted in Macon County Circuit Court here of a forty-one-year-old charge of assault with intent to kill Thomas J. Billings of La Plata, Mo., with an ax handle.

The case attracted wide attention because of the many years that intervened between the assault and bringing to trial of a man Billings claimed struck him in 1889 with the ax handle, inflicting injuries from which he was more than two years recovering. Witnesses more than 80 years of age were called to testify in the trial.

OAKLAND FACED BY MURDER MYSTERY

OAKLAND, Dec. 10. (AP)—A strangling mystery was added to police records today by the body of a woman given up by San Francisco Bay. She was identified as Mrs. Gabriella Vigh of Alameda. She was apparently strangled to death and thrown into the bay, Dr. E. V. Tiffany said after he performed an autopsy. Dr. Tiffany said the body had been in the bay about ten days.

GARMENT FACTORIES TRY FIVE-DAY WEEK

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—The H. D. Lee Mercantile Company announced today a five-day week with no reduction in wages will be placed in effect at its garment factories February 1, 1931.

The factories are located at Kansas City, Mo., South Bend, Ind., Trenton, N. J., Minneapolis and San Francisco.

'CAMILLE' IN PREMIERE AS JAZZ OPERA

Mary Garden Applauded but Audience Not Wild Over Production

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The modern opera, "Camille," based on Alexander Dumas's romance written by Hamilton Forest, a young Chicagoan, had its premiere tonight before an audience that was encouraging, but not enthusiastic.

There was generous applause for the favorite of Chicago operagoers, Mary Garden, making her first appearance of the season in the title role of the work by her young protege. There was more applause for the tall, sandy-haired Chicagoan who dared to put modern music, dress and talk in a serious opera.

But for the most part the applause was weak.

"Camille" proved to be more of a "jazz opera" than most persons expected. Whole sections of the music score were devoted to rhythmic, modern music while strains of "jazz" formed a background for other scenes.

In one scene, which caused a murmur throughout the audience, Miss Garden mounted a table and sang a snappy tune called "Parisienne" while other members of the cast kept time by swaying their bodies and snapping their fingers.

GREAT FIGHTING SHIPS VISIONED

Admiral Pratt in Forecast to House Committee

Believes Men of War Will Also Carry Planes

Support Given $134,000,000 Building Program

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—A revolutionary change in the construction of the powerful modern battleship rather than its abandonment by the major powers was forecast before the House Naval Committee today by Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations.

The gray-haired naval student of 62 years of age, who will retire from the scene long before any ship of the radical design he depicted today will flaunt the colors of any naval power, predicted that the capital ship of the near future will be in effect a combined aircraft carrier and battleship. This vessel, he disclosed, will combine great offensive gun power with ability to launch destructive bombs from the air at targets hundreds of miles in the distance.

SEE EARLY NAVY PLAN

Admiral Pratt advised Chairman Fred A. Britten, Republican, Illinois, and the twenty other committee members that in his opinion it will not be long before the Navy will be asking Congress to build an experimental ship of the type he visualized today. He gave no details regarding speed, tonnage, armor, number of planes or gun equipment beyond emphasizing abandonment of the large capital ship, if future vessels are properly modified to meet modern conditions, is not yet in sight.

Admiral Pratt's revelations regarding his conception of modern battleship trends was brought out during his appearance before the committee in support of the Navy's $134,000,000 new warship construction program. Another highlight of his testimony included the statement that the Navy hopes to have Congress authorize construction of all ships needed to bring the American fleet up to the London treaty tonnage limits before the treaty expires in 1936. This would mean warship authorizations totaling close to $1,000,000,000.

CONSTRUCTION URGED

Admiral Pratt said, however, that because of the high costs and a desire not to build all its new ships in a few years the Navy plans to spread its building program out over a number of years beyond the expiration date of the treaty.

Admiral Pratt advocated immediate authorization of the cruisers and submarines and aircraft carrier, carried in the $82,000,000 Britten bill introduced Monday. He specifically urged construction of a 10,000-ton six-inch gun cruiser equipped with flying deck which he said is necessary as it is extremely possible that upon the success or failure of this vessel will rest the future design of the capital ship.

IGNORANCE OF TAX LAW PLEADED BY LEGISLATOR

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—State Representative Lawrence O'Brien, sent to the State Capitol of Illinois by his constituents to help make laws for the commonwealth of his State, knew so little about the laws of the national government that he considered himself exempt from income tax payments.

Representative O'Brien testified to this effect today when he took the stand as the first witness for his defense after government prosecutors had built up a case in which they showed he had failed to make returns for an income of $500,000 a year for the years 1926, 1927, 1928.

The evidence produced by the government tended to show that O'Brien had an income approximating $500,000 annually for the three-year period. Much of this income, it was shown through checks issued to O'Brien, came from the sanitary district, several of whose members are soon to stand trial on charges of grafting millions. O'Brien, it was also shown, had dipped heavily into the funds of the Lincoln Park Board and the city under hauling contracts given his cartage company.

Christian Science Site Purchased

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 10. (AP)—Trustees of the Principia Christian Science institution here today announced the purchase of 1300 acres extending two and one-half miles along the Mississippi bluffs south of Elsah, Ill., and thirty-five miles north of St. Louis as the site for a proposed new four-year Christian Science college. It will take the place of the present junior college department here and will cost $3,500,000.

Construction will begin next spring.

WOMEN INDORSE PARK PROJECT

Federation of Clubs Backs Frazier Mountain Plan

Action Announced by Head of Bakersfield Group

Move for Arboretum Will Be Taken to Legislature

BAKERSFIELD, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Members of the executive board of the California Federation of Women's Clubs have indorsed unanimously the plan to make Frazier Mountain, with its sanctuary of pines, a great national shrine and arboretum for the protection of bird and animal life, it was announced here today by Mrs. Thomas Jaynes, president of the local Woman's Club. The indorsement was made by the State board at its recent meeting at Norco and means that the dream of the local club women is now one step nearer realization.

With the approval of the California Federation of Women's Clubs representing hundreds of thousands of women throughout the State, as well as carrying an indorsement of the State Audubon Society, service clubs and realty boards, the project will be placed before the State Legislature for action.

It is the plan of the local club to make Frazier Mountain a Federal bird reservation and national park. Today in the United States there are more than seventy of these national reserves and California, itself has three, one of which is the Tule Lake bird refuge established during President Coolidge's administration.

PLEASANT RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Shoulders droop under weight of years. Young, yet beauty has fled. Cheeks are sallow and drawn. Unsightly pimples. Keep your system clean and you keep the beauty of youth. Its energy. Its irresistible charm. Then life is not a failure.

Clogged bowels and inactive liver cause poisons to seep through the system. Health vanishes and with it beauty and energy. Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets will help save you from this dark hour. For 20 years they have been prescribed in place of calomel to men and women seeking health and freedom from constipation. They act easily and smoothly. No dangerous griping. Take nightly before retiring. Results will amaze you.

Thousands of men and women would never be without Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets, a vegetable compound. Know them by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c. All druggists.—[Advertisement.

Canadian Wilderness Finally Gives Up Secret of Missing Air Pilot

The Body of Capt. E. J. A. Burke, Vancouver Pilot, Lost for More Than Two Months in Northern British Columbia, was found yesterday at a point near Wolfe Lake by Pilot W. E. Wasson, according to dispatches from the North. Capt. Burke died of exposure while attempting to reach civilization with his two companions, Emil Kading, mechanic, and Bob Marten, prospector, after their plane had been forced down in the wilderness. Kading and Marten were both rescued alive in serious condition. At right (above) is Capt. Burke and on the left is a group of navy pilots sent out to search for the missing airmen. (P. & A. photo.)

NOTHING COSTS SO MUCH AS FAILURE

s the customary and seemingly prudent thing business to seek to "limit its losses" in times of ression.

don't forget that you can "sweat" the punch of a business organization no less than out of a efighter.

re might be neither point nor timeliness to this ning if at the moment all business in America e bad.

all business in America isn't bad by a long t—on the contrary a host of businesses today are ing ahead full tilt to record sales and profits!

you are naive enough to think that Prosperity be conjured back by political fiat, organized ing, or Providential grace—go ahead, have fun.

the meantime if you want your business to rch abreast with that sound and successful fraternity mentioned above there are these simple gs to be done:

See to it that your goods honestly measure up to the times — in style, value, quality, utility

See to it that your sales energies are planned to do the job, not merely keep within the budget.

See to it that your advertising is bull's-eye in aim, sure-shot in appeal, siege-gun in amount.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST knows something about that prescription because it is taking it.

And it is going steadily ahead in these times as for thirty years past, at its average rate of an additional hundred thousand readers every year.

It offers alert American business a success-paved avenue to the minds and pocketbooks of the sanest, soundest, richest three million families in the world.

You can't buy its values elsewhere; if its cost as an indispensable part of any bigger-business-program right now should worry you, remember this:

Nothing costs so much as failure!

HIGHEST PEAK IN AFRICA SCALED BY LONE CLIMBER

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—A dispatch to the London Daily Mail from Dar-Es-Salaam, Tangayika, today said that Kilima-Njaro, the highest mountain in Africa, had been ascended for the first time by a lone climber.

The climber is a young Spaniard, Andres Espinosa of Bilbao. Previously never fewer than two attempted the ascent of the mountain, but Espinosa started alone without carriers and guides, but taking an ice pick and haversack with tinned food.

He spent nine days wandering in the snow and was obliged to spend three nights in a cave at a height of 18,000 feet before the weather allowed him to reach the summit.

Kilima-Njaro is 19,710 feet high.

TINY FIST BLUFFS ITALY

San Marino, Small Republic With Velvet-Clad Army, Refuses to Be Bullied by Snarling Neighbor

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune]

ROME, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—The Republic of San Marino is only thirty-eight miles square and has a population of hardly 14,000, but it is the oldest state in Europe and nay, proud, and just will not be bullied. Or so it today informed its big neighbor, the Kingdom of Italy, which not only adjoins, but surrounds it.

San Marino has an army, a very elegant army which wears velvet breeches and never has to do much but nevertheless there seems to be no threat of war in her new complication with Italy which further darkens the European horizon.

But San Marino refuses absolutely to extradite the Marquessa Vittoria Brambilla and her 7-year-old daughter Lili, who the court at Milan holds must spend six months of the year with her father in pursuance of a separation decree granted when the couple split up.

The Marquessa, who is grand dame in Italian society, and sister of the late diplomat of the same name who was Chancellor at the Italian Embassy in Washington from 1914 to 1920, has been in San Marino with her daughter since last summer, seeking refuge there from the Italian police. She is lodged in the best hostelry in the capital, which is the Albergo Titano, and there rests in peace aware that the republic of San Marino, her champion, is the same republic that resisted Diocletian, Napoleon and also once harbored Garibaldi, standing off all comers.

State's Congress Districts' Population Disclosed

Census Figures Basis for Reapportionment

Evans Represents 1,169,495; Second in Nation

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Each of the two Congress districts in Los Angeles county has more than double the population of any other district in the State with the single exception of the Eleventh District, to the south and east of Los Angeles, according to official figures issued today by the Census Bureau.

These three districts are within 36,000 persons of containing half the population of the State.

SHOULD GET TEN

On the basis of these figures the section of the State south of the Tehachapi should be represented by at least ten of the twenty Congressmen the State is stated to have under the Reapportionment Act, instead of the three the Southland has at present. Six of the additional nine Congressmen due the State should come from the south when the State is reapportioned, according to the figures.

On a rough estimate Los Angeles county appears to be entitled to at least four additional Representatives, making allowance of one for the territory between Tehachapi and Los Angeles county, and one additional for the Eleventh District.

The Ninth District, represented by Representative Evans of Glendale, is now the second largest in the country, having 1,169,495 inhabitants. It is surpassed only by a Detroit district and is larger than the Tenth District, represented by Representative Crail, formerly believed by many to be the most populous. Although Crail claims 1,250,000 population for his district in his Congressional biography, today's figures show that it has 1,038,997, or 100,000 fewer than Evans's district.

OTHER DISTRICTS

In the Eleventh District, represented by Phil Swing, the total population is set at 612,075. This district embraces Imperial, Inyo, Mono, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego counties.

The totals for the other California districts and the names of the Representatives are as follows:

First, eleven counties, 263,748; Representative Lea, Democrat.

Second, sixteen counties, 157,680, Representative Englebright, Republican.

Third, six counties, 410,922 vacant.

Fourth, San Francisco, 289,354, Mrs. Kahn, Republican.

Fifth, San Francisco, 345,040, Representative Welch, Republican.

Sixth, Alameda county, 474,883, Representative Carter, Republican.

Seventh, seven counties, 440,329, Representative Barbour, Republican.

Eighth, eight counties, 474,728, Representative Free, Republican.

The total population for these eight districts is 2,856,684, as against a total for the three southern districts of 2,820,567, a difference of only 36,117 persons.

the Pacific and Atlantic oceans, is the only pilot to have accomplished both feats, is one of two pilots to have completed a westward flight across the Atlantic to New York, and holds the record for a flight between England and Australia.

THOUSANDS OUTSIDE

Only immediate friends of the couple witnessed the ceremony, but outside the church 10,000 persons waited to catch a glimpse of the bride and bridegroom. A number of air force officers were present and formed an arch of honor at the doorway under which the couple passed as they left the church.

The bride was attired in white and silver with a long tulle veil. She was attended by four bridesmaids. Her husband wore his air force uniform and was accompanied by his friend and companion on his trans-Pacific flight, C.T.P. Ulm.

SAUL'S FLIGHT ROMANCE ON ROCKS

DUBLIN (Irish Free State) Dec. 10. (AP)—Almost simultaneously with receipt here of news of the marriage of Charles Kingsford-Smith, the flyer, and Mary Powell in Melbourne today, it was learned another romance of the Southern Cross flight is not to end so happily.

The romance arranged between Capt. J. P. Saul, navigator on the epochal world flight, and Miss Zenu Marchant, a Dublin girl, is not to take place, it was announced. Their engagement followed their meeting on the eve of the flight when Miss Marchant went to the airdrome to kiss Capt. Saul good-by. They were to have been married when the captain came home.

Tokio Police Reveal They Have Seized Two Others as Plot Participants

TOKIO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Police today made public results of their examination of Tomeo Sagoya, supposedly misguided young patriot who shot and seriously wounded Premier Yuko Hamaguchi, November 14, last.

The reports disclosed opposition to the London naval treaty figured largely in Sagoya's motives, and that two accomplices have been seized and indicted on charges of attempted murder.

Authorities said the accomplices, Ainosuke Iwata, president of the Aikokusha, or "Love of Country" association, and Yoshikatsu Matsuki, a member of the organization, assisted Sagoya in the plot.

Iwata is described as a man of strong and narrowly patriotic ideas and is accused of having given Sagoya a desire to assassinate the Premier. Matsuki is asserted to have provided pistol target practice for Sagoya on the outskirts of Tokio.

WOMAN MANAGER OF PRIZE FIGHTERS DIES

DETROIT, Dec. 10. (AP)—Death last night ended the career of the first woman manager of prize fighters in Michigan. She was Mrs. Edna May Grenier, 27 years of age, wife of a Detroit fireman, who built up a "stable" of young fighters after starting with a cousin, Frankie Mack. She was interested in various other sports and was an expert swimmer and rifle shot.

RIVER CONGRESS RAPS RAILWAYS

Road Executives' Attack on Waterways Scored

Gathering at Washington Adopts Resolution

Louisiana Senator Elected President of Group

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Delegates to the Rivers and Harbors Congress today passed a resolution calling "unwarranted" recent attacks by railway executives on waterway programs.

The resolution charged the railroads with taking advantage of depressed conditions to intensify their "unfair" opposition to waterways.

The congress heard the case of the railroads bluntly presented by Samuel O. Dunn of Chicago, editor of Railway Age.

Dunn said the country does not need inland waterways; that the railroads can haul freight cheaper and government aid to waterways is threatening the railroads with disaster.

DISPUTED BY BROOKHART

All his conclusions were disputed by Senator Brookhart of Iowa, who followed him. The Iowa Senator said the railroads have contributed to the depression by exorbitant rates; that they have approximately $7,000,000,000 "watered stock" in their valuations and if they do not readjust themselves to meet motor and water competition, the government might find it necessary to take them over.

President Hoover was praised for his attitude toward waterways and kind words were spoken for Secretary Hurley and Maj.-Gen. Brown, chief of army engineers, in the resolutions.

Senator Ransdell of Louisiana was elected president, succeeding Representative Riley Wilson of Louisiana. The convention ended today.

NEW PORT PLEA MADE

Commissioner Sandberg of the United States Shipping Board, told the congress that growing traffic through Pacific Coast ports demands increased facilities. He cited the fact these ports move 27 per cent of the country's total ocean-borne trade and 29 per cent of the country's outbound traffic.

"The strategic position of the Pacific Coast," he said, "with those great potential markets in the Orient and South America, and constantly increasing traffic between the Pacific Coast and Europe, holds forth exceptional opportunities for greater activities in Pacific Coast harbors and ports."

While the country's foreign trade increased 15 per cent in the last five years, he said, the Pacific Coast's oreign trade increased 54 per cent.

CUTTER HUNTS RUM SHIP TO TRANSFER SMUGGLERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10. (AP) The Coast Guard cutter Montgomery is looking for a rum runner tonight—just any rum runner—as a solution of its problem of what to do with nine liquor smugglers aboard.

The nine men were the crew of the liquor ship Chapel Point, which caught fire and sank last night off Cape Colnett, Mexico. The Montgomery had been following the rum runner and, of course, when it caught fire had to rescue the crew under the old law of the sea.

What to do with the crew? Capt. Blake, commander of the Coast Guard here, wirelessed to the captain of the cutter to find another rum ship and transfer the survivors. This would have to be done outside of the so-called twelve-mile limit. For some reason rum runners never hang around Coast Guard cutters, so the problem is not easy.

The Montgomery is said to be in the vicinity of the liquor ship Malahat. When the Chapel Point left the Panama Canal it had aboard 7000 cases of whisky and 5000 gallons of alcohol and rum, presumably for delivery to California points. Whether the cargo is all lost has not been determined.

Deal Proposed if Sunnyvale Becomes Dirigible Base

WASHINGTON, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—The House Naval Committee today postponed until tomorrow a vote upon the selection of a dirigible base in California.

Representative Coyle of Pennsylvania, a Republican member of the committee, announced tonight that in event Sunnyvale is selected, he will introduce a bill providing for the purchase of Camp Kearny as an auxiliary dirigible base and air field.

Many members of the Naval Committee have long been of the opinion that whichever of the rival sites is selected for the base the other should also be acquired and supplied with mooring mast, reservicing equipment and personnel so that it could handle the dirigibles on practice flights and during maneuvers.

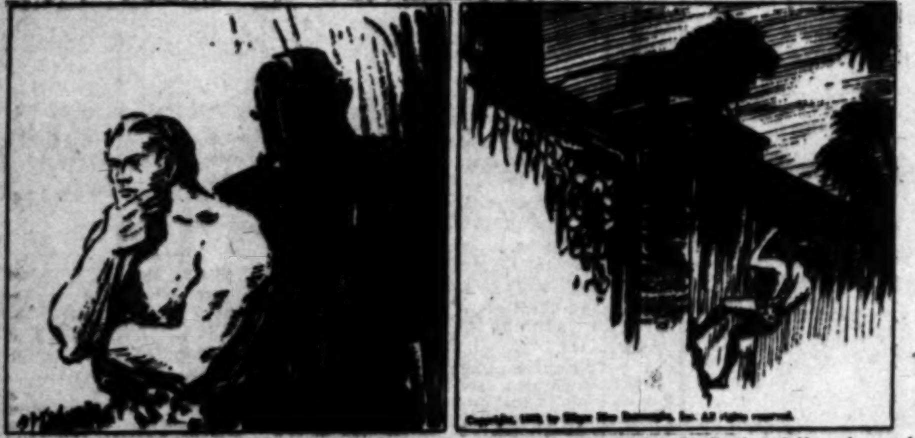
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

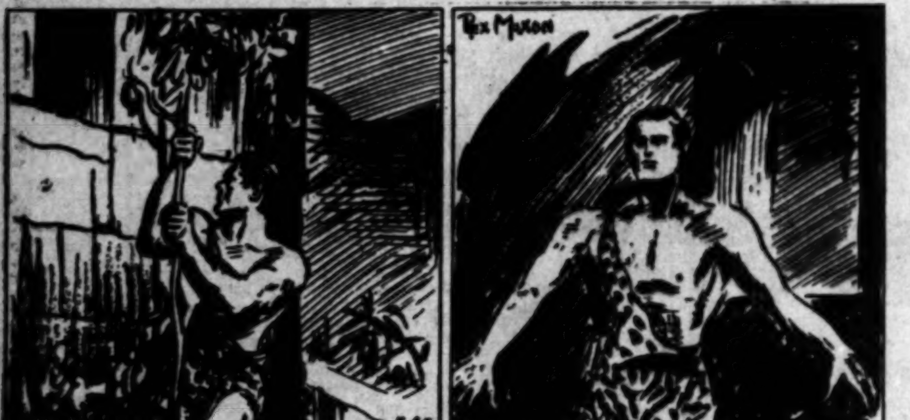
By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Copyright, 1930, by Edgar Rice Burroughs, Inc. All rights reserved.

Alone now, Tarzan might make his way through the valley of Opar to safety. But no such thought entered the ape-man's mind. Gratitude and loyalty were strong characteristics of Tarzan. La had saved him from the fanaticism of her people. Saved him at a high cost—power, position, even safety. She had risked her life for him and become an exile from her own country. The fact that the Bolgani had taken her, for what purpose he could only guess—made Tarzan resolve to succor her.

He must know whether La lived and if so, he would devote every energy to rescuing her and escaping from this hideous valley. Another day found the ape-man again outside the palace grounds. When darkness settled Tarzan approached the gates. Throwing the noose of his grass rope over one of the carved lions that topped the wall, the ape-man ascended quickly to the summit and dropped lightly into the garden below, without being discovered.



REX MAXON

Now he crept stealthily toward the ivy-covered east tower. Up the age-old vines he climbed step by step. Far above ground he found an unbarred, open window, opening into an unlighted chamber. Entering, he groped cautiously about in the darkness. Again a heavy fragrance greeted him. Tarzan was annoyed. This would obliterate all other odors and place upon him a heavy handicap in his search for La.

Behind the ape-man was the open window, the silent jungle night, and freedom! Ahead—lay danger, and quite likely, death! Which should he choose? For a moment he stood in silent thought, and then, raising his head and squaring his great shoulders, he shook his black locks defiantly and stepped boldly toward the nearest door. Room after room he investigated until he had made the entire round of the tower, but his search was fruitless.

Plan for Phone Stock Exchange in Merger Told

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company today announced a plan by which holders of Class A stock of the National Telephone and Telegraph Corporation may exchange their shares for Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company shares.

The exchange offer, to simplify the capital structure of the Associated company and its subsidiaries, is subject to cancellation without notice March, 1, 1931.

Under the exchange plan holders of Class A stock resident in the United States may receive one-half share of the $6 first preferred stock and one-quarter share of the Class A stock of the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Company. The combined call price of the Associated stock received in the exchange will be equal to $83.75 per share as compared with the present call price of National stock of $60 a share.

Producers Cut Copper Price on American Mart

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Producers today reduced the price of copper in the domestic market 1 cent to 11 cents a pound, delivered, the price at which custom smelters have been selling the metal.

Domestic fabricators also lowered their prices on copper and brass products to the equivalent of 11 cents a pound for copper.

These reductions followed a cut of 1 cent a pound in the export price to 11.30 cents a pound, f.o.b. European base ports, earlier in the day by Copper Exporters, Inc.

Trade circles reported that although producers have reduced their quotations to 11 cents, they were remaining out of the market, as they have sold sufficient metal to cover requirements of domestic fabricators for the next five months and foreign consumers for about two and one-half months.

EDISON OWN BOND RETAILER

Sale of New 4 1-2s Will Raise Over-the-Counter Total to $15,000,000; Capital Cost at New Low

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Successful in selling two previous bond issues directly to the public under the customer-ownership plan, the Southern California Edison Company proposes again to act as its own retailer in distributing the $5,000,000 4½ per cent refunding bonds of 1955 authorized yesterday by the State Railroad Commission.

Over-the-counter sale of this issue will bring the total amount to $15,000,000 of bonds sold by the company without the aid of underwriting and distributing syndicates. The $5,000,000 5s of 1952 and the $5,000,000 5s of 1954 were marketed in this manner.

HIGHER ISSUES CALLED

Also interesting in connection with this company's financial history is the fact that the 4½ per cent coupon rate on the new issue will be the lowest price ever paid by the Edison company for long-term capital raised through bond issues. The bonds now outstanding are all 5 per cent issues, the higher coupon obligations having been refunded.

The new 4½s will be priced according to market, probably around a 4.50 per cent basis, and will be sold by the same Edison security salesmen who sell the Edison preferred stocks. The Edison company was one of the pioneers in distributing preferred stock under the customer-ownership plan, and is probably the first to extend this principle to the selling of bonds.

Edison security salesmen make no special effort to push the bonds over the stocks. Having the bonds to sell, they are in a position to meet the requirements of an investor who may prefer a bond over a senior stock.

While this procedure of selling investment stocks and bonds directly to the public is money out of the pockets of investment houses, it is not a serious threat at the future of the investment business. There are not many business corporations with the financial background necessary for the distribution of securities without the aid of an intermediary. Nor are there many companies that can afford to set up the retail sales organization required for the sale of securities.

ALWAYS NEED MONEY

Public utility companies lend themselves to this program through the nature of the business. Utilities are in constant need of new money to finance new construction and additions to supply service for growing communities, and can afford to maintain sales organizations to market their own securities throughout the year. Utilities are also allowed rates for service that virtually insure the safety of interest and dividend payments.

To provide the capital for its $28,000,000 budget in 1931, the Edison company will sell next year new issues of preferred stocks and bonds, and also offer subscription rights to common stockholders for a portion of the capital.

The proceeds from the new 4½s of 1955 will be used to reimburse the company for expenditures already made this year under the 1930 budget. Part of the proceeds will go to reimburse the treasury for the retirement of $3,338,000 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of the Mt. Whitney Power Company, a subsidiary, and also for the retirement of $660,700 Santa Barbara Electric Company 5s of 1941.

A pioneer in the motion-picture field, Paramount-Publix today ranks as one of the established leaders of the industry, conducting its operations in the production, exhibition and distribution of films upon an international scale. The Publix theaters in the United States and Canada now number more than 1200 and form a waiting market for the film productions of the organization. To attain world-wide distribution, British and European studios are rapidly being acquired for the production of pictures in ten languages. The company has a 50 per cent interest in the Columbia Broadcasting System.

The progress characteristic of the corporation's development has been continued into 1930 with per-share earnings for the first nine months equal to $4.50, up 11.5 per cent from the similar period of last year.

Lawrence, for the past eight years chief examiner of the division of surety companies of the Treasury Department of the United States, will on January 1, next, become associated with the International Re-Insurance Corporation of Los Angeles as vice-president, Carl M. Hansen, president of the company, announced yesterday.

Mr. Lawrence has a wide acquaintanceship among insurance commissioners of the various States and supervising officials generally, as well as among the officials of the several companies and his addition to the International Re-Insurance Corporation's staff is expected to strengthen materially the organization, Mr. Hansen said. The new official is a graduate of the George Washington University and a member of the District of Columbia Bar Association.

COTTON CROP OF STATE VALUED

California Growers to Get More than $17,000,000 for 1930 Product

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 10. (AP) California's 1930 cotton crop is worth more than $17,000,000 on the current price basis, R. E. Blair, cotton statistician of the Federal-State crop-reporting service, announced in a report here today.

Should the weather conditions for the remaining harvest period be favorable, the report said, the equivalent of 250,000 gross weight bales of 500 pounds each will be harvested from 270,000 acres. It was estimated 163,000 bales had been ginned prior to the 1st inst.

Durant Motor Offer Off Soon

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 10.—Stockholders of Durant Motor Company of California have until the 24th inst. to decide whether to surrender their stock at $6.90 a share to the company under its plan to retire 94,600 shares of the 294,600 capital shares outstanding. Retirement is for the purpose of placing the remaining stock in a better position to pay dividends and to place the assets in such a position as to make it possible to borrow money from time to time.

The proposed distribution of capital assets will amount to $652,740 on the basis of $6.90 a share. The stock is of $10 par value and currently quoted at 6 3-4 bid, 7 asked. Larger stockholders representing 83 per cent of the stock have agreed not to participate in the distribution.

Dividend Rate of Checker Cab Cut

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Checker Cab Manufacturing Company declared today three monthly dividends of 15 cents a share each, placing the stock on a $1.80 annual basis, against $4.20 previously. The dividends are payable the 2nd of January, February and March, to stockholders of record the 20th of each preceding month.

Morris Markin, president, stated: "In view of the uncertainties in the general business situation for the early part of 1931, directors considered it a conservative policy to begin dividends for the new year at a moderate rate." Dividends of $4.20 paid this year exceeded estimated earnings. The company has, however, accumulated a substantial surplus from profits in former years when no dividends were paid.

DIVIDEND INCREASED BY TUNNEL COMPANY

DETROIT, Dec. 10.—Detroit and Canada Tunnel Company declared today a semiannual dividend of $4 a share, placing the capital stock on an $8 annual basis, against $6 previously. The company operates a tunnel for vehicle traffic under the Detroit River linking the downtown sections of Detroit and Windsor, Ont. The tunnel was opened early last month.

DIVIDEND CUT

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. — Woodruff & Edwards, Inc., today declared a quarterly dividend of 25 cents a share on the Class A stock, placing the issue on a $1 annual basis against $2 heretofore.

STEEL BACKLOG POINTS UPWARD

Unfilled Orders Show Sharp Gain in November

Figures Exceed Expectations of Wall Street

Trade Reports Improvement in Business Confidence

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation increased 157,873 tons during November to total 3,639,636 as of November 30, against 3,481,763 tons on October 31, 3,424,338 September 30, 3,580,204 August 31, and 4,125,345 tons on November 30, 1929.

The increase exceeds Wall-street estimates and was the largest gain for any November since 1925. It compares wtih an increase of 38,763 tons in November last year and a gain of 57,425 tons last October.

Expansion of the bookings for two consecutive months was regarded in the financial district as one of the most favorable developments of the year. While the month was subnormal so far as demand for steel products was concerned there was a marked improvement toward the end of November over the first part of the month and at that time good-sized contracts were being obtained.

BETTER TONE NOTED IN TRADE

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—The weekly iron and steel trade reviews today reported an improvement of confidence in the industry, although the Iron Age estimate of steel ingot production was off 1 per cent to 38 per cent of rated capacity.

That survey said, however, the week's developments had been "preponderantly favorable" and although improvement in business had been slight in some cases and had not extended to all products, "the trend now seems definitely upward." The increase of $1 a ton in prices of bars, plates and shares and prospective increases in rail contracting are principal factors influencing sentiment.

In regard to the price increase Steel says: "There is a unanimity of opinion, among producers and consumers alike, that a constructive step has been taken. Important consumers are sympathetic with the move to place steel on a more remunerative basis, believing it precedent to a recovery in general business."

Public Utility Boosts Rate on Common Stock

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—American Water Works and Electric Co., Inc., today declared a quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the common stock, placing the issue on a $3 annual basis. The dividend is payable February 2 to stock of record January 9. Previously the stock was on an annual basis of $1 cash and 5 per cent in stock.

The directors stated that they believed the change in the dividend was warranted by the earnings prospects and the financial condition of the company.

Net income after all charges and taxes for the twelve months ended October 31, last, was announced at $7,233,803, equal after preferred dividends, to $3.47 a share on 1,740,948 shares of common stock, as against $7,448,874, or $3.78 a share on 1,654,978 common shares in the preceding twelve months.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—An opening advance in cotton, attributed to the relatively firm showing of Liverpool and a rally in Egyptian, was followed by declines in the market here today under southern selling and renewed liquidation.

This was attributed largely to the action of the stock market, and while it was not generally mentioned in connection with the decline, the reported suspension of trading in the Alexandria futures market for fifteen-day period, may have had an unsettling effect on sentiment.

Prices for all months made new low records for the season, with March selling off 10.32 and with the midafternoon market showing net decline of about 15 to 17 points.

COTTON BELT IN QUANDARY

Reduction in Acreage Raises Problem of What to Substitute for Favorite Staple

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—With December cotton down to 10.10 cents a pound—the lowest of the year—the question of restricted cotton acreage in 1931 becomes of first importance. On the 1st inst., the government's estimate of the cotton crop this year was 14,223,000 standard bales—a decrease of nearly 600,000 bales under 1929.

The farm board is working desperately in an endeavor to obtain a drastic reduction in acreage. Certain banks in the cotton States are reported to be withholding credit in their eagerness to cut down acreage by at least 10 per cent.

But the whole problem turns on the question of what the farmer can substitute for cotton. Changing from cotton to something else cannot be worked out in a minute, nor a year. For the farmer, in most cases, has little or no credit left with which to engage in other farming lines. His capital is very largely tied up in his land, which too often is overloaded with mortgages.

It is easy to suggest an acreage cut, but the farmer rightly asks: "What can I substitute, and how?"

And in the answer lies the solution.

Silver has been used as money by more than half the people of the world for centuries, particularly in India and in China, where 750,000,000 of people live and work and "do business." Therefore a decline in the price of silver is really a world event.

Last January, silver was selling at 46 cents an ounce. Since then it has continued to drop, and yesterday it sold at 33 cents per ounce, a new low record. And the reason—

China has been selling her silver and buying gold with the credit. Today it is a "buyer's" market in silver—even more than in January.

What can be done about it? One suggestion is to devise a way to have China or India come into the market on the "buying" side. But both of these nations are trying to crawl up to a gold exchange standard and so are no longer buyers of silver.

Unquestionably, the present low price of silver—showing a drop of nearly 30 per cent in eleven months—is regarded by many economists as well as bankers as one of the major causes of the present world depression. For every drop in silver means a curtailment in purchasing power on the part of a billion people.

The Greyhound bus lines, the outstanding motor-bus system in the United States, has carried 22,000,000 Americans more than 125,000,000 motor miles during 1930.

Four years ago, the company began operations on 800 miles of route, which touched only a few major cities. Today this company completely covers the United States with a network of more than 40,000 miles of routes, stretching from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and from North Dakota to the Gulf of Mexico.

What has caused this tremendous growth? I would say that good paved roads and cheaper transportation are at the foundation of the growth. Then, the modern busses are comfortably upholstered, well ventilated, and the routes work on a definite time schedule.

Perhaps the great expansion in this field can all be summed up in two words—efficient management.

California Bank Adds Special to Usual Dividend

Directors of the California Bank yesterday added a special dividend of 25 cents a share to the regular quarterly payment of $1 a share, according to the announcement made by James R. Page, president. The dividend is payable January 1 to stock of record the 26th inst.

NEW YORK, Dec. 10.—Extra dividend actions today included the declaration by the Singer Manufacturing Company, the Moreland Oil Corporation of Detroit, and the International Superpower Corporation, an investment trust sponsored by Calvin Bullock.

The Singer Manufacturing Company voted an extra of $2.50 and a regular quarterly of the same amount, payable the 31st inst., to stock of record today. In the previous quarter a similar extra was paid, while at the same time last year the extra was $3.50.

Moreland Oil declared an extra of 5 cents and regular quarterly of 15 cents on the Class B stock. International Superpower declared an extra of 10 cents a share in addition to the regular quarterly of 25 cents.

CONSOLIDATED STEEL DECLARES REGULAR

Directors of Consolidated Steel Corporation declared yesterday the regular quarterly dividend of 43 3-4 cents a share on the preferred stock payable January 2, next, to stockholders of record the 15th inst. Waller Taylor, president, stated that earnings for the year have been satisfactory when viewed in the light of conditions which have prevailed in the building industry. The company has never made a policy of issuing either annual or semi-annual earnings statements.

STOCK MARKET RESUMES DROP

Many Issues Crash Through Low Mark of Year

Short Covering Near Close Cuts Down Losses

Group Average Only Shade on 1930 Minimum

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Just a month from the date of the November lows, the stock market today suffered a setback that sent many prominent shares through their old minimums.

A flurry of short covering in the last ten minutes reduced the losses considerably and the average net decline was about 2 points, but the total turnover of 3,146,950 shares—the largest since mid-November—measured the extent to which business had increased on the down side.

The composite for ninety leading stocks closed at 124.9 against the year's low of 123.4. However, early in the afternoon it stood only half a point above that minimum, and since the heaviest selling came thereafter it was assumed before the technical recovery the market had been in new low ground. Nearly a million shares changed hands in the final hour.

Steel stocks and some of the rails picked up a point or two when the weekly trade reviews reported continued improvement in sentiment.

United States Steel Corporation's unfilled order report disclosed an advance of 157,873 tons in November, which was not only better than expected but also the best November gain since 1925 and the second successive monthly upturn. However, the market seemed to be more impressed by the decline in car loadings and the reduction of 1 cent a pound by copper producers. The latter development was not unexpected, for it was pointed out the rise in price after the curtailment had been reached was rapid; furthermore, producers were said to have satisfied requirements of consumers for some time.

New York Central rallied rather mechanically when the directors declared the regular quarterly dividend, but fell back. Pennsylvania, Southern Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio and Chicago Northwestern made new lows.

Westinghouse, Bethlehem Steel, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, American Water Works, American and Foreign Power, Timken, United Fruit and Case were also sold to 1930 minimums on extreme losses of 3 to 5 points. United States Steel dropped to 138½, within half a point of its low, and General Electric to 44 5-8, but both closed only a point lower.

Late improvement in silver prices failed to help the far eastern exchanges, but European rates were firm.

COPPER MARKET TONE STRONGER

Custom Smelters Forced to Advance Prices

Available Stock Inadequate to Meet Demand

Lead Believed Due for Boost; Zinc Still Weak

BY CHARLES F. WILLIS,
Editor The Mining Journal, Phoenix

It has been an encouraging week in the copper field, with the custom smelter prices gradually raising from 10½ to 11½ cents and as the reports come of the putting into effect the recently agreed-upon curtailment program. Copper producers are still holding for 12 cents f.o.b. Connecticut Valley and 12:30 for export.

There has been no material change in the lead or zinc situation although an early increase in price is expected for lead as conditions justify better than the 5.10 f.o.b. New York figure. Zinc continues weak with moderate sales at 4.07 to 4.10 f.o.b. St. Louis.

Zinc buyers seem to be awaiting the publication of the November figures and they will have an important bearing on the immediate future of that metal. Consumers have not bought for forward requirements and, if the statistics show an improved condition there is a good market in prospect.

LEAD FIGURES BETTER

Lead buying is maintaining a fair volume, largely because of the feeling that the price is going to increase. There is still but little inclination to cover forward needs except through January.

Lead continues to show a little better statistical position. Total world production of lead in October was 152,016 tons, as compared with 148,506 tons in September, and 148,-506 tons in August. Production during the month was at the average daily rate of 4904 tons, as against a daily average of 4950 tons in September.

Of the total world production the United States contributed 50,402 tons in October, compared with 48,491 tons in September. The Mexican output in October was 23,308 tons, while the Canadian was 13,243 tons, and the Australian 15,457 tons. The Canadian output represented considerable gain over September, when the production was 12,918 tons.

COPPER DEMAND BETTER

While the producers have continued to hold out for 12 cents for their metal, there has been practically no metal sold at that figure. When the price was first set, the custom smelters were able to supply the available market and could only get 10½ cents. The demand has been increasing and, as the demand increased and taxed the ability of the custom plants to furnish the amount necessary, the price has advanced so that now there is but a normal spread.

Foreign consumers have been rather kept out of the market by the unprecedented spread of 1½ cents between the domestic price and the foreign parity and they have been waiting to ascertain the ability of the producers to hold to their figures. Reports indicate that there is now a greatly improved foreign demand. The price crisis, however, is by no means over for domestic consumers could lay off the market for five months and foreign consumers two and one-half months if they desired.

The price situation is largely in the hands of the custom smelters who are forced to establish a price for their intake, for which they have to pay cash. These plants cannot afford to pay more than they can sell for on an immediate turnover and the profit in smelting and refining and the volume of business being done does not warrant any gambling as to price. Custom plants would like nothing better than to have ample demand at 12 cents as they have no wish to cut price.

LARGE FABRICATORS BUYING

A factor in the copper market that will tend to improve the situation is the policy adopted by some of the larger fabricators of regarding their metal already bought as reserve stocks or an investment and to buy, from day to day, their requirements for orders booked. This maintains a steady volume of copper business which helps the custom plants to dispose of their intake.

While considerable copper has been bought from the custom smelters from 10½ to 11½ cents, the ultimate buyers of copper products have not been getting the benefit of it as the fabricators price lists are maintained on the 12-cent basis, thus permitting them to continue buying the raw product.

Announcements have been coming fast and furious regarding the copper curtailment program which indicates that it is to be far more than the gesture which has characterized similar announcements in the past. From Canada comes the production cuts at Noranda, Granby and Brittania.

The Anaconda group, including Andes, Chile, Inspiration, Greene-Cananea and the Butte mines, have all cut 10 per cent, Calumet and Arizona and the New Cornelia mines have cut an additional 10 per cent, Nichols Copper have cut down their refinery production 15 per cent and so on down the line.

The mines in North and South America have shown their willingness to adjust themselves to the conditions but no definite announcements have come as yet from the African mines. The extent to which the Katanga mines of Belgian Congo are willing to curtail is believed to be the crucial point in the solution of the overproduction muddle in the copper industry.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Union Oil Stocks Lead General Decline on Local Mart as Selling Operations Increase

Professional operations for the decline coupled with forced liquidation struck the Los Angeles Stock Exchange with renewed vigor yesterday and plunged the list still lower into the depths to unprecedented bottom prices. Bear forces concentrated most heavily on Transamerica, Union Oil and Union Associates, all of which hit new low prices along with Standard Oil of California, Western Air, Signal Oil, Emsco, Hancock Oil, Citizens National Bank and others.

Transamerica was ably supported. Although a total of 18,700 shares of the stock crossed the board quotations wavered within ⅛-point range. The issue marked the new bottom at 13 7-8, and finished 14, off 1-8 net.

Combined sales of the Union Oil issues reached a total of 14,500 shares. The operating company struck the new low at 22 7-8 and ended at 23, down 1 5-8 net, and the Associates lost the same amount with final sales at 21 3-4 after having hit 21½. Standard Oil of California yielded ⅛ to 48 and finished at 48 1-4. Richfield lost ⅛ to 6 1-8 and Signal the same amount to 17.

Hancock Oil also dropped ½ to 9. Western Air Express and Emsco Derrick were among the outstanding weak spots on a small turnover. The former on a transfer of 100 shares broke 3 points to 13 and Emsco sank 3 points to 5 on sales of 200 shares.

Citizens National Bank broke through 90, the former resistance level, with a ½-point drop to 89½. Security-First National reacted a point to 90½. Pacific Gas and Electric hit a new low at 46 1-4, off 3-4. Southern California Edison yielded ½ to 45 5-8.

Sales aggregated 47,212 shares, valued at $1,001,376; previous day, 43,473 shares, valued at $854,905.

CORPORATION SECURITIES CO. OF CHICAGO

THESE companies were created to acquire and hold as investments, enough of the securities of the Insull Group of Public Utility Properties to insure continuity of policy and management throughout the Group. As stated by Samuel Insull, they were organized "to establish some rallying point of ownership and friendship for the various companies with which my name is associated."

Adhering to this policy, more than ninety per cent. of the holdings of Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and Corporation Securities Co., of Chicago, are in the five major companies of the Insull Group, namely, Commonwealth Edison Company, of Chicago; The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, of Chicago; Public Service Company of Northern Illinois; Middle West Utilities Company, and Midland United Company.

Stocks of both Insull Utility Investments, Inc., and Corporation Securities Co., of Chicago, are listed on the Chicago Stock Exchange, and participate in the earnings of the companies of the Insull Group.

The properties in the Insull Group are fully described in Booklet LT3 which will be sent upon request.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Bonds continued their decline today. Offerings were not as large as yesterday, but buying interest was lacking except at prices considerably below the market, and all classes of domestic obligations were reactionary, with losses in some gilt edged bonds exceeding a point.

The market made an effort to steady at the opening, when price movement narrowed, but few bids were made above the previous close and the liquidation carried many issues to new lows for the year. Rails lost a full point in the averages, and the composite average for thirty bonds was revised at 94.4, representing a drop of 7-10ths for the day and 1½ points for the week.

There have been varied rumors about Wall street, a strong pool was being formed to support the bond market, but this was not credited generally.

In the rails the largest losses were in Burlington general 4s, Milwaukee 4½s "F," Chicago and Western Indiana 4s; Erie 5s of 1975; International Great Northern first 6s, Kansas City Southern 5s, Missouri Pacific 5s "G," Pennsylvania gold 5s and Frisco 4½s, all off 2 points.

Liquidation in the utilities was more widespread than any time this week.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

Stock sales today, 704,800 shares.
Stock sales year ago, 897,000 shares.
Bond sales today, $2,334,000.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Trading swelled to the largest volume in nearly a month in today's curb market, as the list continued to move down grade.

A long list of issues penetrated further into new low ground, although there was some recovery in the final hour. Transactions aggregated 704,800 shares.

In the utilities, Associated Gas "A" dropped nearly 3 points to within a fraction of the years low, then reduced its loss to 2¼, net. Electric Bond and Share dipped 2 points and closed off 1¼. Duke Power dropped 12½ points to 123, its previous low.

Gulf Oil declined nearly 4 points to a new minimum at 66⅝, but recovered to 68. Standard of Ohio lost 3 points. Cities Service touched 16⅝, but closed at 17½, off only ⅛ of a point. Humble and Standards of Kentucky and Indiana closed fractionally higher. Reduction of the copper export price by 1 cent to 11.30 cents a pound caused some selling of the copper issues, Newmont losing 4 points and Roan Antelope sagging more than a point to a new low.

A few industrials closed higher, but the general trend was downward. Columbia Pictures declined 3 to another new bottom.

Investment company issues sagged.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Why Industry Builds Steadily in the CENTRAL Manufacturing DISTRICT

There has been a steady construction of plants and factories in the Central Manufacturing District since its inception in 1922. This industrial building activity is increasing continuously. Manufacturers and distributors choose the District because of its location, and the all-important fact that it has every industrial facility at hand, including neutral switching service by the Los Angeles Junction Railway.

Our buzz-saw words!

OUR REPUTATION FOR BEING UNPLEASANT . . and disregardful of financial ethics . . is partially founded upon our stressing the fact . . that the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA . . is an old-fashioned, small-town institution.

In other words, we have no side-line corporations to detract time or attention from THIS business. We imagine that is why we've been IN this business for 37½ years, through four major depressions.

WE USE NONE OF THE 36 DOLLAR SHRINKING METHODS . . of making loans . . so this foreclosure era . . during which we've SOLD $1,200,000 of properties . . . brings us no embarrassment, worry or hush-mouth trepidation.

When times get EASY we use the lessons we've had through four such periods of depression to keep US from getting extravagant, careless and neglectful of the fundamentals of economy and caution which have brought three State records to the MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA.

If loyalty to old-fashioned ideals, thus expressed, is unpleasant or unethical, then YOUR ill-will is our punishment. But we enjoy doing business with clients who come all the way UP to the 10th floor, in Los Angeles, because they're old-fashioned, too.

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Demand for heavy rolled steel products shows only a moderate decrease since a month ago. Activity in bars is limited and specifications for shapes show some seasonal moderation. The recent advance of $1 per ton on bars, shapes and plates for first quarter shipment has been uniformly adopted, but so far contracting for that period is rather light.

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Copper unsettled; electrolytic spot and future, 11.

Iron, quiet, unchanged.

Tin steady, spot and near-by, 23.12; future, 23.37.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Dec. 10. (AP)—Sales have been closed on a few moderate quantities of finer grades of fleeces. Strictly combing 64s and finer Ohio and similar wools bring 29 to 30c grease basis, and strictly combing 58s-60s, of similar lines, sell at prices in the same range. Interest remains dull in 56s and 48s-50s grade of fleece wools, but offerings of the bright fleeces of these grades are nominally quoted at 28 to 29 cents in the grease.

Corn Futures Sharply Off in Heavy Selling

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Corn broke 3 cents a bushel today from an early advance that accompanied an increase of speculative buying of future deliveries. Buying was based on unexpected smallness of receipts and on prospects of rainy weather over the corn belt. However, selling out by early buyers disclosed the market was minus adequate support, and a transient upturn in wheat also was wiped out.

Corn closed heavy, 1⅝@2⅛c lower than yesterday; wheat, irregular at ⅛c decline to an equal gain; oats, ⅛@⅜c down, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 30 cents.

July wheat scored an upturn of about 2 cents but like old crop months failed to hold the gain. Oats were governed chiefly by corn.

Provisions went lower responsive to downturns in the value of hogs.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Late arriving offerings by rail and truck more than doubled the early estimated receipts. Trade was very active and unevenly higher on many killing cattle with a limited number holding about steady. The sudden upturn leaves the market in an unsettled condition and quotations on steers and she stock are more or less nominal until receipts are plentiful enough to really test demand. Bulk of the stocker and feeder steers held over from earlier in the week were disposed of.

A load of 780-pound fed yearling California steers topped at 10.00 with a load of 982-pound Californias at 9.75. Three loads of 925 to 1000-pound steers brought 9.00@9.25 with a few head at 9.35. A load of 1002-pound Arizona steers cashed at 8.50 with a load of 832-pound Arizona Mexican type steers at 7.25. Around six loads of rather plain light southwestern feeder steers scored 5.25@6.00.

A load of 690-pound fed yearling heifers from the same feed lot as the top steers brought 9.00 with other heifers at 7.50 down. A few outstanding fleshy dairy type cows sold up to 6.65 with bulk of the good cows at 6.25@6.50. Most common to medium she stock sold at 4.75@6.00, with low cutters and cutters from 3.00@4.50, a few going down to 2.50. One outstanding 2030-pound bull sold at 6.75, with other good animals at 6.00@6.25 and medium kinds down to 5.50.

CALVES—Calves and vealers shared the active demand at strong prices. Vealers were very scarce, a few head of good kinds selling to 13.50. Southwestern calves to killers went at 6.50@9.00, with a few lots down to 6.00.

HOGS—With only three loads and a few trucked in hogs available, demand was a little better and sales were made on a steady to 10c higher basis. A load of 184-pound eastern butchers topped at 9.75 with two loads of 168 to 190-pound averages at 9.50 and 9.60, respectively. A few lots of 130 to 235-pound truck-ins made 8.75@9.30, with 266-pound packing sows at 8.00.

SHEEP—With nothing offered quotations continued unchanged, medium to choice lambs, 75 pounds down being quoted at 6.75@8.00 and medium to choice ewes, 3.00@4.00.

YESTERDAY'S QUOTATIONS

Slaughter cattle and calves: Steers, 600 to 900 pounds, medium, 7.75@9.25; common, 6.75@7.75; 900 to 1100 pounds, good, 9.00@9.75; medium, 7.75@9.00; common, 6.75@7.75; 1100 to 1300 pounds, good, 8.90@9.75; medium, 7.75@8.90. New Sale Rule for Stocks on Broker Hands

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—The New York Stock Exchange, in an effort to make its regulation of the redistribution of securities more flexible, has altered its rule placing the entire matter of secondary distribution in the hands of a special committee, it was announced late today.

This committee will govern the sales to the public of securities held by members on their own shelves, as distinct from the transactions executed for customers for commission on the floor of the exchange.

The exchange's rule on the redistribution to the public of blocks of securities purchased by members for their own account has been very strict, heretofore, particularly in the matter of payment of commissions to salesmen.

The change in the rules merely sets up a committee to govern this aspect of members' business, and exactly what changes in procedure may be made are not yet apparent. It is felt in brokerage quarters, however, that the sale of securities with which members may be burdened will be facilitated.

Chile Promulga una Ley Arancelaria Prohibitiva

SANTIAGO DE CHILE, Diciembre.—El gobierno chileno ha publicado hoy un decreto de nuevo arancel, que viene, digamos así, a rodear el país de un alto muro aduanal. Los nuevos derechos afectan a 447 artículos, muchos de los cuales quedan gravados con derechos 35 por ciento más altos que los que causaban. Dentro de sesenta días estará vigente la nueva disposición arancelaria.

Aunque considerada ésta como una ligera modificación del plan original de subir todos los derechos, la verdad es que están incluidos en ella muchos importantes artículos de comercio, que afectan el intercambio entre los Estados Unidos, Europa y Chile.

Ortiz Rubio Present Planes para Remediar la Situación

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Diciembre 10.—El congreso mejicano ha recibido hoy las recomendaciones del presidente Ortiz Rubio, que aboga porque se voten leyes restrictivas de las importaciones y fomentadoras de la industria nacional, a fin de combatir por tal medio la crisis económica mundial.

Al presentar sus recomendaciones, el presidente consintió en que Luis Montes de Oca, su ministro de Hacienda, se presentara el viernes ante el senado a explicar su política hacendaria y el convenio sobre la deuda extranjera, que han sido muy atacados allí últimamente.

El presidente echa la culpa de buena parte de la depresión que aflige a Méjico a los negociantes extranjeros, que hacen su dinero en este país y van luego a gastarlo en otros.

Piloto Aéreo que se Embarca en el Mar del Matrimonio

MELBOURNE, Diciembre 10.—El comandante aéreo Charles Kingsford-Smith, aviador transatlántico y transpacífico, se ha unido hoy en matrimonio con la señorita Mary Powell en la Iglesia Escocesa de aquí. La joven es australo-irlandesa.

La boda ha sido el desenlace de unas relaciones amorosas que se iniciaron en 1927, después del vuelo transpacífico del famoso aviador. Viajaba éste en un vapor de Australia a Vancouver, cuando conoció a bordo a la muchacha irlandesa de dorado pelo, y se enamoró de ella.

Poco antes de emprender este año su vuelo de Irlanda a Nueva York en el "Southern Cross", anunció su compromiso de enlace, y dijo que, en obsequio a su futura, tan luego como diera cima al mencionado vuelo, abandonaría definitivamente los viajes aéreos a larga distancia, y se dedicaría al trabajo relativamente oscuro de promotor y piloto de líneas aereas postales y de viajeros.

Fallece un Conocido Novelista Vagabundo

LONDRES, Diciembre 10.—Ha terminado la aventura de la vida para Bert Kennedy, el novelista errante, que combatió a los indios en el sudoeste de los Estados Unidos y se fue a Alasca en la fiebre del oro. Durante sus peregrinaciones escribió veinte libros.

Kennedy, que tenía 69 años, falleció el sábado tras largo período de enfermedad; pero durante varios días no se propaló la noticia de su muerte.

Entre los libros que deja figuran "A Tramp's Philosophy" (La Filosofía de un Atorrante); "A Man Adrift" (Un Hombre a la Deriva) y "The Hunger Line" (La Fila del Hambre).

Le Sacan Cinco Dientes y Recobra la Vista de un Ojo

CHICAGO, Diciembre 10.—Cuando llegó a su casa la señora Lillian Wallace, que volvía de sacarse cinco muelas en la oficina de un dentista, sintió adolorida la quijada y se la frotó con la mano para mitigar el dolor. Al hacerlo, acertó a taparse el ojo derecho, y ¡oh, sorpresa! descubrió que podía ver con el izquierdo, que tenía catorce años de estar ciego. Dice el dentista que los dientes extraídos llevaban mucho de estar infectados, y que, según él cree, determinaron una presión que tenía paralizado el nervio óptico.

Proyéctase una Fiesta para los Inválidos

Va a celebrarse mañana, a las 3:30 p.m., una fiesta de Navidad para los niños de la escuela del Hospital Ortopédico, en el Shell Christmas Circus, sito en la esquina del bulevar de Wilshire y la calle de Catalina. Presidirá la festividad Le Roy Owen, presidente de la Cámara de Comercio Menor.

Don B. Miller, superintendente de las diligencias Union Pacific, presentará a todos los niños con Santa Claus.

Charlas Infantiles para Chiquillos de Escuela

III.

En un principio no sabía muy bien qué era lo que la amedrentaba. A veces la despertaban de un profundo sueño en plena noche, le ponían su capucha y abrigo, y se la llevaban de una casa a otra (At first she did not know what it was that she was afraid of. Sometimes she was wakened out of a sound sleep, in the middle of the night, dressed in her hood and coat, and taken out of one house into another). Cuando salía de paseo con su madre, tenía que usar un espeso velo negro sobre la cara, que no le debaja ver las muñecas y los bastones de dulce de los escaparates, y le presentaba todo oscuro, feo y cruzado de delgadas líneas (When she went out walking with her mother, she had to wear a thick black veil over her face, that kept her from seeing the dolls and candy canes in the shop windows, and made the world look dark, ugly and criss-crossed with fine lines).

Como ninguna de las demás niñitas tenía que ponerse velo, Clara no entendía la cosa; pero no tardó en averiguar de lo que tenía miedo. Lo tenía de un hombre grande y sonriente llamado "padre", que trataba mal a su madre y quería llevarse consigo a Clarita (As none of the other little girls had to wear veils, Clara could not understand. But by and by she found out what she was afraid of. It was of a big smiling man called a "father", who treated her mother unkindly and who wanted to steal little Clara away).

Concert Groups Unite for Radio

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Formation of Columbia Concerts Corporation, a merger of seven concert bureaus throughout the country, to serve programs to radio listeners over the seventy-six stations of the Columbia Broadcasting System, was announced today.

The step was taken, it is said, to "satisfy the insistent demand of the radio audience for the best artists and the finest music."

The merged organizations are Arthur Judson, Inc., Metropolitan Musical Bureau, Wolfsohn Musical Bureau of New York, Inc., Evans and Walter, Haensel and Jones, Community Concerts Corporation and Judson Radio Program Corporation.

THOUSANDS BESIEGE BANKS IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Thousands of excited depositors congregated at eight branches of the Bank of the United States, one of the smaller banking organizations of the city, tonight, as a reassuring statement from the New York Federal Reserve Bank and the Wall-street banking fraternity was expected momentarily. Police reserves were called to handle the situation, and had their most serious problem at a branch in the Bronx where a throng collected demanding their funds. All those who were able to get inside before closing were paid in full.

FOUR KILLED AS AUTO AND TRAIN COLLIDE

DAKOTA CITY (Neb.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Four persons were killed late today when a Lincoln-to-Sioux City motor train collided with a light sedan near here. The dead were identified as: J. F. Faniels, Sioux City, Iowa; Frank Simmons, South Sioux City, Neb.; Leslie Hokum, Fremont, Neb., and Otis Sizemore, believed to be of Lake Erickson, Neb.

All four of the victims were riding in the automobile.

ANNA PAVLOWA AGAIN TO DANCE IN AMERICA

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—After a six-year absence abroad Anna Pavlowa is coming back to dance before American audiences. Her manager, George Engles, received a cablegram from London today completing arrangements for a tour through seventy-five American cities, opening in New York in October.

Mexican Relief Plans Submitted by Ortiz Rubio

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Mexican Congress had before it today recommendations of President Ortiz Rubio to pass laws restricting importations and encouraging national industry as a means of combatting the world economic crisis.

In presenting his recommendations the President consented to allow Luis Montes de Oca, Secretary of the Treasury, to appear in the Senate Friday and explain his financial policies and the foreign debt agreement, which have been under fire there recently.

The President charges much of Mexico's depression may be laid at the feet of foreign business which makes money in Mexico but spend it in America and elsewhere.

Rockefeller, Jr., Wins Tax Cut

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) Dec. 10. (AP) John D. Rockefeller, Jr., today won tax reductions totaling $100,000 on his North Tarrytown estate by action of the town Board of Trustees. The Rockefeller assessment was about $700,000 and the oil millionaire protested the levy.

REPUTED RED FIRES AT DANISH OFFICIAL

COPENHAGEN, Dec. 10. (AP)—A reputed Communist today fired a revolver at Minister of Social Affairs Steincke while the Minister was speaking. The bullet went wild.

Charles Nielsen, who was said to have fired the shot from the gallery, was arrested with three other men. The Minister continued his speech after they had been removed.

JUGO-SLAVS DROWN IN BOAT ACCIDENT

SOUCHAK (Jugo-Slavia) Dec. 10. (AP)—Throngs of peasants returning from the peasant congress at Zagreb were thrown into a panic and at least four of them were drowned when the gangway from the coasting vessel Topola collapsed here yesterday, throwing 100 passengers into the sea.

WANT-AD NEWS FOR BUSINESS BUYERS

Meat market, said to be completely equipped, located in corner grocery can be bought or rented.

"Gas station, clears $25 per day," avows party, advertising to attract buyer for service station business—setting price at $3600.

WRIGLEY TO TRADE GUM FOR WHEAT

Company to Buy Canadian Grain With Money Due for Products in Provinces

TORONTO, Dec. 10. (AP)—The William Wrigley, Jr., Company, Ltd., has decided all money owing it in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta from next Friday to May 1, 1931, is to be accumulated to purchase wheat for delivery in May, 1931. F. A. Ross, president of the company, made announcement to this effect tonight.

He said the company proposes to take wheat in exchange for its products. Col. Ross said the purposes are as follows:

The company, rather than take cash out of Western Canada, will leave its money there in Western Canada's own coin—wheat.

The company believes wheat at 65 cents a bushel is cheap and the company will make money by holding it, indefinitely, if necessary.

The company believes the plan will relieve to some extent a carrying strain on farmers, pools, western business and banks.

Announcing the formation of the "Wrigley wheat investment fund to buy and hold 1,000,000 bushels of Canadian wheat," Mr. Ross said the offer is "in no sense a gamble, nor is it an advertising stunt."

MOTHER KILLS SELF

SPOKANE, Dec. 10. (AP)—Children returning from school today found their mother, Mrs. Grace Fay, 35 years of age, hanging in the basement. Police said they learned she had been despondent over her health.

SHE WILL BE BRIDE OF MURAL PAINTER

Mrs. John Reginald McLean

MRS. M'LEAN WILL MARRY GIRARD HALE

Former War Nurse Applies With Mural Painter for License in Los Angeles

Mrs. John Reginald McLean, formerly Kathleen Burke of Santa Barbara, a nurse in the World War who won many decorations in active service, and Girard Van Barkaloo Hale, mural painter, yesterday filed an application for a license at the local marriage license bureau.

They plan to be married in Los Angeles Tuesday morning, and after the ceremony will leave for New York to depart on January 10 for Morocco for a four months' tour of Northern Africa, according to an announcement from Santa Barbara.

Mrs. McLean and Mr. Hale first met on the battlefield of Soissons in 1918 while they were engaged on ambulance duty. They met again in Peru on an archeological expedition, and again at Santa Barbara, where Mr. Hale went to continue his painting.

The bride-to-be married Frederick Forrest Peabody shortly after the war. He died in 1927, and two years ago the widow married John Reginald McLean, a mining engineer of Santa Barbara. That marriage came to a tragic end eight days after the wedding when the bridegroom was killed almost instantly in an automobile accident near Santa Maria.

Mr. Hale, a direct descendant of Stephen Girard, early American banker and financier, is a member of a prominent New York family. His mural paintings are known throughout the world, and his most noted works decorate the Utah State Capitol at Salt Lake City. He gave his age as 44 and Mrs. McLean, 46, on the license application.

Works Board Held Liable for $17,608

According to a Finance Committee report, adopted yesterday by the City Council, the Board of Public Works must dig up $17,608 which the City Attorney rules was illegally expended from funds of Municipal Improvement District 67, the improvement of Devonshire street between Zelzah avenue and Santa Susanna avenue.

In directing the improvement project, the board included water mains, and the City Attorney contends this expenditure was unauthorized, and the board therefore liable.

WATER ROUTE CHOICE GIVEN

Merriman Favors Parker for Aqueduct Start

Engineer Makes Informal Report at Luncheon

Cost Considered Low, and Silt Problem Belittled

"Parker, Ariz., seems to be the point from which water can be brought most economically into the Metropolitan Water District from the Colorado River," Thaddeus Merriman, famous water engineer, said yesterday at a luncheon at the University Club. Merriman is chairman of the board of review engaged by the district to determine which route the aqueduct shall follow.

Inasmuch as the board's findings and report are to be made public about the 20th inst., he did not amplify the statement and declined for that stated reason to elaborate upon other statements in his discussion of the project. Whether his remark about the Parker site indicates that the Parker route as a whole is most favored above the five other proposed routes, or whether he merely referred to simple intake facilities were subjects of some discussion among those who heard his talk.

DIFFICULTIES POINTED OUT

The other routes, Merriman said, immediately following the statement about the Parker route, present particular geological difficulties. The so-called all-American canal route, he indicated, is not well thought of because there would be so much taking out of water on the way that at times none might be present at the terminal. The best route, he said, will cross the great San Andreas earth fault on the surface, looking at it in terms of first safety and later upkeep from the possibility of earth movements.

Merriman referred to a previous speaker's statement that the project is expected to cost approximately $200,000,000, and he said that taking this guess, "the cost will be cheap enough on a per-capita basis . . . the unit costs will be very low." He figured roughly that with more than 2,000,000 population in the district the cost would be but about $100 per capita, with a $5 per year cost in addition.

WORLD'S GREATEST PROJECT

"There are benefits to be written off against the cost," he said. "Increased valuations will carry a large part of the cost."

He said that increased population as well as the increased valuation resulting from the bringing of more water will help lower the cost. Then he set forth that New York, his headquarters, spends six times per capita more for its schools and three times more for its police than it does for water. This was offered to show the great cost of the aqueduct will not fall heavily on each individual and that its completion will result in lowerng even that burden.

"It is one of the greatest engineering projects of all time and most certainly the greatest water project," Merriman said.

He told his hearers that there is nothing to worry about in the silt prevalent in Colorado River water. It can be largely eliminated by a river dam for that purpose or settling basins near the intake and by intermediate and terminal basins of the sort. He said ultra-violet rays in the East appear to act as a powerful settling agent and pointed out that such rays are much more prevalent in Southern California than in the East. The river, he said, carries about as much silt at one proposed intake site as another.

SULPHATE DANGER SLIGHT

A question arose as to the effect on the water of sulphate beds in the Virgin River basin. He answered: "I don't believe they will cause the slightest trouble."

He said the bed proper includes only an acre and a fraction area, that the whole impregnated area is not greater than six acres and that even if the sulphates should begin to give trouble the bed could be buried ten feet deep for $50,000. He said the water from the aqueduct will be excellent for either domestic or irrigation use.

The route, he said, best should lie altogether in California because outside the State its part would be subject to taxation by outside interests and that jurisdiction thereover also would be divided. The Parker route, he said, lies entirely within California.

Parker is fifty or sixty miles below Needles and below the Boulder dam site. He indicated that many engineering and cost difficulties stand in the way of taking water out above the dam site and pointed out that water taken out below would have to be lifted in some manner, probably by electricity such as is proposed to be generated at the big dam.

Merriman said that since he ar-

DON'T CALL ME BOUNCING BABY!

Infant Has Imitated Medicine Ball

Patsy Cook
Her short life has been just one move after another.

"OOGLE ah glub ug blah flimph?"

Wide-eyed and insistent, Patsy Cook, 8 months of age, looked up yesterday and made the above inquiry of nurses at the Children's Home Finding Society, East Twenty-fifth street and Griffith avenue. Which, translated, meant:

"Hey, what's the big idea—movin' me around like this?"

Nor did the nurses blame Patsy for squawking; for they were aware that the little girl foundling has been passed around like a medicine ball since she came into the world last April.

Patsy made her debut at the Sylvan Lodge Hospital. When the mother, described as a beautiful young woman, about 20 years of age, was ready to leave, she asked the hospital authorities to keep the baby a few weeks. But she neglected to return.

On May 19, Sylvan Lodge Hospital closed, and Patsy was referred to the Benedict Maternity Hospital, Hollywood. One day, shortly afterward, the beautiful young mother appeared there and promised to pay $15 per week for support of the child, explaining she was unable personally to care for her.

Yesterday the Benedict Hospital decided to "hold the sack" no longer; so Patsy was given into the custody of Policewoman Rose Pickerell of the City Mothers' Bureau. And then, after another wait, she was sent to her present address.

PORT FUNDS SOUGHT FOR JOBLESS AID

Evans Urges Harbor Board to Send Plea for Part of $150,000,000 Fund

Part of the $150,000,000 which President Hoover has requested of Congress for public improvements as an emergency appropriation to remedy the unemployment situation is to be used to start work on the 12,500-foot breakwater extension from Los Angeles Harbor toward Long Beach, according to a telegram received by the Harbor Commission yesterday from Representative Evans, at Washington, D. C.

Evans urged the commission to take up with district and division engineers the specific sum that will be necessary to get the work under way until the appropriation of $8,300,000 by Congress is made available to complete both the breakwater extension and harbor dredging.

Harbor Engineer Nicholson was delegated to confer with the engineers on the necessary sum and to forward the information to Washington.

Representative Evans's telegram follows:

"Understand that if the President's request for $150,000,000 emergency appropriation is granted by Congress that part of this will be allocated to harbor improvements. Prospects for this appropriation carrying are good in my opinion. Suggest that you urge district and division engineers to at once ask that a specific sum be allocated to Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors so that work then soon can begin."

EAGLE ROCK PREPARES FOR YULETIDE RELIEF

Formation of an Interclub Association to handle the distribution of Christmas baskets and other charities was effected by merchants of Eagle Rock at a meeting of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday. The purpose of the organization is to prevent overlapping of the work of the various club and civic organizations. The committee to handle the work was made up of one member from each of the following organizations: The Woman's Club, the Parent-Teachers' Association, the American Legion, the Kiwanis and the Ministerial Association.

Student Union Plans to Occupy Building Soon

Occupation of Kerckhoff Union Building at the University of California at Los Angeles probably will be effected during the Christmas holidays, it was announced yesterday by university authorities. The building is nearing completion and will be ready for furnishing before students return to school in January. It will house all student offices, including the graduate manager's department, students' co-operative store, men's and women's lounge and a cafeteria.

Funds for the building were donoted in 1929 by Mrs. William Kerckhoff.

PAN-PACIFIC TO ELECT

Pan-Pacific Association for Mutual Understanding will hold its annual election of officers at its dinner next Monday at 6 p.m. at the City Club. Mrs. James Burgess will talk on "Indians of Today" and Mrs. Florence Summer will tell of the "California Mission Indians. Miss Henrietta Gloff will talk on "Indian Crafts and Ceremonials."

AQUEDUCT QUIZ SCOPE WIDENS

Six Names Added to Twenty Already Subpoenaed

Jury Inquiry on Aqueduct to Last Several Days

Negro Politician Scheduled to Talk Today

Six or more additional witnesses will be added to the twenty already under subpoena when the grand jury meets today to resume its inquiry into the distribution of Los Angeles aqueduct water, a part of the inquisitorial body's investigation of municipal affairs.

The water situation, brought to the attention of the jury last Tuesday, will probably consume several days more, it was indicated last night. The jury Tuesday spent most of its time trying to determine if the city received full pay for water used on a 4000-acre ranch in the San Fernando Valley, or whether a large amount was admitted to the ranch property by way of a by-pass around a meter. More evidence on the same question was scheduled for today.

PLAN NEW ANGLES

While the jurors planned new angles of investigation, it was learned definitely yesterday that Presiding Judge Doran and Presiding Judges Wood and Fleming had received copies of a resolution passed by the jury last Tuesday, wherein the jurors asked that their term of service be extended sixty days beyond the first of the year so that they might complete the municipal investigation.

While the various jurists appealed to would not comment on the situation, it was understood that Fleming, who will have charge of the 1931 grand jury, and Presiding Judge Doran believe that the matter of extension is entirely within the jurisdiction of Judge Wood, in charge of the present jury. It was also learned that Judge Wood will probably make no decision in the matter until he ascertains the position of the investigation at the first of the new year, when the present jury will ordinarily disband.

NEGROES TO TESTIFY

This morning George Brown, Negro politician, and Officers Kelso and Scott, also colored, are scheduled to enter pleas in Superior Judge Wood's court to recent indictments charging them with conspiracy to violate the liquor laws.

The indictment of Brown, Kelso and Scott was the first result of the grand jury's municipal investigation. When the transcript of grand jury evidence in the case was made public yesterday it was revealed that various police officers from Newton-street division charged Brown with approaching them with a proposition of organizing vice in the Central-avenue district. Brown, according to a dictograph conversation entered in the evidence, asserted that he had influence with certain officials in the City Hall.

PORTER RETAINS FAITH IN MOSHER

Mention of W. J. Mosher, confidential secretary to Mayor Porter, in the grand jury transcript as a friend of Hugh Macbeth, colored politician and now George Brown's attorney, has not lessened Mayor Porter's confidence in him, Porter announced yesterday.

"Have you requested Mosher's resignation?" the Mayor was asked.

"Not yet," replied Porter.

The answer was pointed out as being somewhat vague, and the Mayor then put himself on record as still supporting Mosher.

Avocado Group Meets to Bar Damaged Fruit

Agricultural inspectors from five counties met yesterday at the office of County Agricultural Commissioner Ryan to discuss standardization of avocados.

The gathering, presided over by Deputy Commissioner Wilson, was called at the instance of Ryan to prevent an influx of immature and damaged avocados.

Samples of types of fruit barred by the standardization law were on exhibit. It was disclosed by Wilson that since the wind storm last month, 3700 pounds of avocados valued at approximately $1500 have been destroyed by the county because they did not meet requirements.

The law requires a minimum of 8 per cent oil content in the fruit, of which there are 400 named varieties and hundreds of unnamed seedlings, Wilson said.

ENVOY FOR FIESTA RETURNS TO CITY

John Steven McGroarty

McGROARTY BACK FROM SPAIN TRIP

Author, Twice Decorated on European Tour, Meets Blizzard in Indiana

John Steven McGroarty returned to Los Angeles yesterday from Spain, where he presented King Alfonso with an official invitation to attend the sesquicentennial celebration of the founding of the pueblo of Los Angeles, which is to be held September 4, 1931. Assurance of King Alfonso that he will attend the celebration here unless unforeseen circumstances arise, and that he will be accompanied by Queen Victoria were brought back by Mr McGroarty.

While on his journey, which included tours through Spain, Italy, France, Switzerland and Germany, as well as a voyage through the Mediterranean Sea, Mr. McGroarty was presented with two decorations. King Alfonso conferred on the Californian the Order of Isabella the Catholic, and in Rome, the Pope bestowed upon Mr. McGroarty the additional order of Knight of St. Gregory of the civil division.

PLAY RECOGNIZED

In presenting the decoration the Spanish ruler said the honor was given in appreciation of the invitation of the city of Los Angeles and in recognition of the friendly spirit shown in the writings of Mr. McGroarty, and for the sentiments expressed for Spain and her people in the Mission Play. The honor conferred in Rome is presented to Catholics and non-Catholics alike for unusual services to literature, art and humanity.

During his stay in Madrid, the California writer visited the site of the new University of Madrid, where buildings and equipment with an eventual value of $30,000,000 are in the course of construction.

"The new buildings under construction for the University of Madrid," Mr. McGroarty said, "are an evidence of one of the most interesting developments in European education. The present university was founded as the old Salamanca, the oldest university in the world. Some few years ago, when the people of Spain wanted to make a gift to their King, he replied that he would like them to restore the University of Madrid.

KING GIVES PARK

"King Alfonso gave his own Moncloa Park and the officers of the university raised the $30,000,000 fund which they have on hand, purchased 1000 acres of land adjoining the royal park and now have under way an institution that will be among the leaders of the world."

Not all of the journey to Spain and the return to Los Angeles was easy and comfortable, the author said last night. Upon his return to MRS. GANN calls Mrs. Longworth "Alice" and Mrs. Longworth calls Mrs. Gann "Hello Dolly;" but what I want to find out without any more fooling is—who is going to sit at the head of the table?

PADRE OF THE RAINS

Father Ricard, the "padre of the rains," was a sweet, merry old man in whose heart there was, to the last, considerable of the mischievous little boy. He had a grand time stirring the scientific world into conniption catfits with his sun-spot theories.

WHAT MAKES RAIN

His theory of rains was not, however, as it was stated in the newspaper dispatches. His idea was that the sun has two hemispheres. The sun storms—sun spots—on the two sun hemispheres are traveling in opposite directions. One set—when in line with the pulling power of other planets—causes earth storms. In the other hemisphere the sun spots cause fair weather.

TIRED STORMS

All California storms, he believed, start in the Pacific Ocean near the Aleutian Islands; they come upon us from Cape St. Rupert.

They strike north of San Francisco. Some start toward Southern California, but become exhausted before they get to us.

He said that when the influence of the moon upon the weather has been figured out—as well as the sun—it will be possible to predict weather conditions a hundred years ahead.

WE WANT TO KNOW

It may be "all jake" with Howard Jones; but the public has something to say in the premises.

No football coach can make a public statement that another coach is guilty of conduct so rotten that he ought to be kicked out of football; then coolly wave it away and say it is "all right." The public contributed several million dollars to football in Southern California this season. We, also, have a right to know whether it is "jake."

WE ARE STAKES

Federal Farm Commissioner Teague skates gracefully around the cause of the financial depression. Everyone knows perfectly well the cause.

The industries of America have been concentrated in the hands of a comparatively few men. These men—indifferent to their responsibilities—gambled in Wall street.

They preserved the polite fiction that they were gambling with their own money. In truth, they were gambling with our lives, our happiness and prosperity.

UNNECESSARY

The Bank of Hollywood should never have been allowed to close its doors. It represented only a fly speck in the financial world of Los Angeles. If a reorganization were in progress certainly other interests should have held a net under it. At a time when the public is badly worried at best this minor incident might have started a run on every bank in town. It is no use to spend large sums of money advertising Los Angeles as a "white spot;" then allow a bank which represents less than one-quarter of 1 per cent of Los Angeles banking to put a red-ink blot on the white spot.

LEAGUE TERMED FAILURE

Institute Speaker Bucks United States of Europe; American Tariff Policy Condemned

BY CHESTER G. HANSON
"Times" Staff Representative

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 10. (Exclusive)—The League of Nations and the protective tariff of the United States were under fire from two speakers who addressed the session of the International Relations Institute tonight.

In a discussion of the United States of Europe, Dr. Charles E. Martin, professor of political science of the University of Washington, said, "We must conclude that the League of Nations has failed to afford the economic relief which the world stands in need of today."

He advocated the formation of the united states of Europe not only because of the League's failure to afford the needed relief, but also because the League "is a prolific cause of political unrest and thus interferes with the establishment and maintenance of permanent peace." He discussed advantages and disadvantages of such a union, one of the former being that Europe would become prosperous and could pay her debts to America.

Dr. Henry F. Grady, dean of the college of commerce of the University of California, in a paper on international implications in the new tariff, expressed the opinion that "our present economic depression has been augmented in no small degree by our national economic short-sightedness" and "disregard of world factors in formulating legislation has acted as a boomerang on our own well-being."

He noted that the bankers of

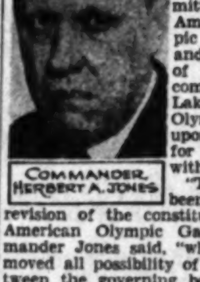
OLYMPIC GAMES CHIEF PICKS FILMS FOR NAVY

Harmonious relations between governing bodies of the Olympic Games here in 1932 were forecast yesterday by Commander Herbert A. Jones of the United States Navy, a member of the executive committee of the American Olympic Association and a member of the active committee of the Lake Placid Olympic sports, upon his arrival for a short visit with relatives.



COMMANDER HERBERT A. JONES

"There has been a complete revision of the constitution of the American Olympic Games," Commander Jones said, "which has removed all possibility of friction between the governing bodies, and I look for Los Angeles to conduct one of the most successful meets ever held."

Commander Jones is in charge of providing entertainment generally for the Navy, principally motion pictures.

He revealed that his office in Washington recently has signed a contract for $875,000 worth of sound motion-picture equipment for 310 exhibiting units in the Navy—afloat and ashore. The sum was obtained through appropriation and contributions from ships and stations.

The contract, Commander Jones said, will provide equipment for twenty battleships, sixty-two cruisers and auxiliaries, 120 destroyers and equipment for some Coast Guard vessels and all transports, with the average ship giving twenty-eight programs per month.

An idea of the enormous demand for films to supply the projection equipment on all ships and stations is had by the officer's estimate that the Navy uses approximately 90 per cent of films by titles produced in the United States. This percentage is not to be confused, he said, with total production of all films, but only as to titles.

Commander Jones expressed the deep appreciation of the Navy toward the patriotism of producers who are supplying the service with sound films at the price formerly paid for silent pictures—a saving of $760,000 annually to the Navy.

DRAGNET TO BE RESUMED

Motorcycle Squad to Stop Only Suspicious-Looking Autos in Drive Against Banditry

The so-called police dragnet, abandoned about a month ago after several months of operation, was ordered resumed last night by Chief of Police Steckel as part of the department's campaign to combat the current wave of banditry.

In its new form, however, the dragnet is to be less widespread in scope than heretofore, and fewer officers will comprise the personnel for its execution. The order was addressed to the night motorcycle squads, numbering about fifty-seven men, and stated that only suspicious-looking cars are to be stopped and investigated.

When in force before the dragnet resulted in practically every automobile being halted for examination at whatever intersection the squads happened to be working. Now, however, according to the new instructions, a person accompanied by members of the family or friends will be allowed to proceed uninterruptedly—unless the car, in the opinion of the officers, "looks suspicious."

The new order means that instead of patrolling the highways, the night motorcycle squads will post themselves at various intersections and concentrate on the apprehension of criminals rather than traffic violators.

KANSANS PLAN PROGRAM

Kansans will meet this evening in Veterans' Hall, 246 South Hill street. A program will be given by Manual Arts High School drama students, under direction of Miss Cline.

WHIPPING CASE PAIR MAY DIE

Long Beach Physician Said to Have Blood Clot

Husband of Accused Nurse Has Heart Attack

Beating Victim Denies Any Slurs on Woman

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—Death was said tonight to threaten two persons as an aftermath of the beating which Dr. Bernard Nelson, elderly physician and surgeon, is said by police to have received in his office yesterday from Mrs. Ernest Donahoo, who used a loaded quirt, and her husband, who plied the butt end of a revolver. Mrs. Donahoo had been employed as a nurse by Dr. Nelson for nine years.

MRS ERNEST DONAHOO

Dr. Nelson's condition was announced tonight by his physician, Dr. Campbell, to be critical. A blood clot caused by the beating may cause death, the physician said.

HEART ATTACK

The other said to be near death, although he had sufficient strength to walk to an ambulance, is Ernest Donahoo, who collapsed in a cell at Long Beach Jail late this afternoon and was taken to the General Hospital at Los Angeles. The official report made to police is that he is in a grave condition following a heart attack.

Meantime Dr. Nelson dictated a statement from his cot in St. Mary's Hospital here in which he emphatically denied having made remarks reflecting on the character of Mrs. Donahoo which were said to have brought on the beating.

Mrs. Donahoo and her husband were arrested today at their home, 1020 Orizaba avenue, each charged with suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon. It was several hours later Donahoo had the heart attack in his cell.

STATEMENT TAKEN

The asserted beating of Dr. Nelson took place in his office, 605 East Tenth street, yesterday afternoon. The physician's statement was taken this afternoon by Detective Sergeant Le Barron and Detective Lieutenant Wood after Dr. Campbell had notified the police of his patient's grave condition.

Dr. Nelson's statement set forth that the Donahoos walked into his office and that Donahoo demanded the physician give him $100. This Dr. Nelson states he refused to do.

There was a revolver in a drawer of the physician's desk, and Donahoo is said to have caught up this weapon and to have struck Dr. Nelson over the head twice with the butt.

LASHING CHARGED

At the same time, Dr. Nelson charges, Mrs. Donahoo lashed him with the loaded quirt.

The physician adds he pressed a buzzer connecting with a drug store downstairs, and that M. Berger, the druggist, responded. Donahoo, who had locked the door of the physician's office after entering, according to the physician's statement, admitted the druggist, but kept him covered with the revolver. Finally, the statement sets forth, the Donahoos left.

Dr. Nelson declared he had never made remarks reflecting on Mrs. Donahoo, but, on the contrary, had frequently befriended her and her husband financially, and by obtaining hospital service for Donahoo following operation for a goiter.

"FLYING CARPET" READY TO GO

Halliburton Will Tour World Via Skies

They're Going Places to See Things

The Flying Carpet is the name given by Halliburton to a specially equipped Stearman biplane, powered by a Wright Whirlwind J-5 motor, which was prepared here at the writer's order by the Aero Brokerage Service Company of the Los Angeles Airport under supervision of Ed L. Erickson.

Stephens is a former pilot of the T.A.T. lines. The first lap of the trip will be to New York via Tulsa, Memphis and St. Louis.

The plane and its passengers will go aboard a liner at New York, leaving the remainder of their itinerary to be mapped in consultation with geographic experts in London. Africa, Arabia, Russia, India and the South Seas are among the places mentioned by Halliburton yesterday as probable places to be visited.

LEAGUE HELD TO BE FAILURE

America, free of the control of a Congress, handle their affairs with a keen regard for international conditions. The raising of tariff barriers by the United States, he said, has led foreign countries to follow with the same move. The result, he argued, is to make European recovery more difficult, which, in turn, accentuates our own economic problems of production and trade. Grady quoted figures to show the effect on the trade of foreign countries of tariff increases by the United States.

"Our practice of insisting that our tariff policy is purely a domestic question is the height of folly," he said. "We are creating antagonisms and ill-will that fine words and diplomatic missions will not be able to dissolve. We are fostering and giving leadership in international economic warfare when the world needs peace and true international amity. The world must be liberated from the shackles of tariffs and trade restrictions. The world needs the leadership of America in this regard, because of her dominant position, and it is not too late for us to give that leadership."

Japan's vital interest in the hope for the return of prosperity to the United States was portrayed in a talk given before the afternoon session by Tokuya Sakurauchi, manager of the Yokohama Specie Bank of San Francisco. He quoted statistics to show that Japan is having her own troubles in the line of unemployment and depression, added to which are bumper crops of rice and cocoons. He was optimistic, however, as to the ultimate outcome for Japan, but said that her greatest hope lies in recovery of her export trade conditions.

"The most important factor in the improvement of Japan's foreign trade," he said, "is no doubt, the early recovery of the United States' prosperity, because America alone absorbs 40 per cent of Japan's entire export trade and Japan, in turn, takes her important raw materials, representing more than 30 per cent of her entire import, from America."

Prof. Yamato Ichihashi of Stanford University, in a discussion of political and social developments in Japan, expressed the opinion that Japan will succeed in avoiding revolution.

JAPAN'S PROGRESSION

"Japan," said Prof. Ichihashi, "has progressed from autocracy to bureaucracy, and then to democracy. This latter development was founded fifteen years ago when party government began to function. This political progress has been achieved in half a century in spite of the highly developed bureaucratic instinct of the Japanese inherited from the past and in spite of the bureaucratic constitution — even without making so much as one amendment to the constitution.

"Practical interpretation of the constitution of 1889 has enabled the Japanese to bring into being the two-party system of government. That is as far as any government has advanced where democratic principles are accepted and observed. This political development, together with the growth of her economic and military life, has caused Japan to rise to the position of a world power."

In a discussion on Japan as a factor in Pacific relations Dr. Herbert H. Gowen of the University of Washington said there is nothing to fear in the line of war with Japan, but felt that continued commercial rivalry might cause a little trouble. Possible irritants should be removed, cultural relations should be developed and we might learn a lot from the Japanese in cultural matters if we were inclined to do so.

INDIA'S TROUBLES

Dr. Herman Schwartz, president of the Pacific School of Religion at Berkeley, was presented at a luncheon by Bishop Charles Wesley Burns of San Francisco and gave a short talk on human values in India, where he traveled extensively. India's troubles, he thought, are not so much political as they are deeply social. India is wretchedly poor. Her population has increased at the rate of about 1,000,000 a year for the past fifty years.

From a study of statistics at an Indian maternity hospital he learned that 60 per cent of females giving birth for the first time are between the ages of 15 and 16 years. In the United States it runs around 23 and 24 years for the great bulk of first births.

One of the guests of honor at luncheon today was Senator Del Valle of Los Angeles, whose son-in-law, Dr. Henry F. Grady, dean of the college of commerce of the University of California, is director of the institute. The Senator's daughter, Patricia Del Valle Grady, is an active worker at the institute.

LIGHT SYSTEM SUIT ON TRIAL

Contractors Seek Payment on Pasadena Contract

City Engineer Holds Work Not Up to Standard

Action Recalls Conviction of Former Official

Hearing on a petition for a writ of mandate to compel the city of Pasadena to accept a $250,000 lighting system installed on South Lake avenue, began yesterday in Superior Judge Yankwich's court. In the suit G. W. Bond & Son, and Ducey & Breitenstein seek to mandamus City Engineer George K. Hooper to accept, as complete, installation of the lighting system. Joined with the city in opposing the writ is the Marbelite Corporation of America, which furnished the poles. This concern has filed a lien against possible assessments collected in the district by the city to protect its investment in supplies.

Attorney James H. Howard, former City Counsel of Pasadena, offered a motion to intervene in behalf of taxpayers of the assessment district involved. Judge Yankwich denied his right of intervention, but permitted Howard to remain as a friend of the court and to present his views.

Records reveal that the contract for installing the lighting system was awarded to Ducey & Breitenstein on May 28, 1929, by W. C. Earle, former City Engineer, now serving a term in San Quentin prison on conviction of grand theft. Ducey & Breitenstein later sold the contract to Bond & Son. The latter concern asserts it completed the project, which was denied approval by Hooper, present City Engineer.

The city's representatives announced they are withholding approval and payment of the contract because the project as completed is not up to standards set by contract specifications.

WATER ROUTE CHOICE GIVEN

rived here November 27, last, he has gone over with other members of the board the very detailed data presented to them by district engineers whose work he praised. He paid a compliment to William Mulholland, veteran Los Angeles municipal water engineer, saying:

"It is due in a great measure to Mr. Mullholland that the Pacific Coast is what it is."

Incidental remarks by the engineer included the following summarized:

Any route that brings water to Los Angeles from the Colorado River must use tunnels. Romans built the first tunnels. Rome eventually had seven aqueducts. About 1100 years ago the population of the Southwest was greater than it is today when something unknown to us caused a migration. Climatic conditions are different here today than then. New water will give Los Angeles a greater growth than it has had heretofore. Problems of population concentration grow increasingly complex. When this country, geologically speaking, is as old as New York's this country will be as free from earth movements. New York's once was as twisted as is this. Colorado River water silt, while voluminous, is not of a nature that remains long in solution.

The club's large dining-room, with a capacity of 500, was filled during the luncheon and subsequent talk by Merriman.

OLYMPIC CHIEF NAVY'S AMUSER

The officer also affirmed the existence of a high morale in the service, and pointed out that the present recruit to the warship's decks comes as a carefully selected man. Commander Jones's figures show that last year 70,000 applied for admission to the Navy, 45,000 passed the medical examination, but only 17,000 were selected for duty, due to the high entrance requirements.

Commander Jones is accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Ethlyn Jones, a daughter of the late E. W. Sargent, and while here they are staying with Mrs. E. B. Yoakum of Flintridge, a sister of Mrs. Jones.

situation here," Supervisor Thatcher declared at the close of the conference. "While we are waiting for a decision on the validity of the use of the bond issue for this new work, we will do everything possible to get the preliminary work started."

City Attorney Aide Job Ends

Elimination of one deputy City Attorney assigned to the Harbor Department at $350 a month, and restoration of a salary of $500 a month to Clyde M. Leach, deputy City Attorney assigned to the Harbor Department for the last seventeen years, has been approved by the Finance Committee of the City Council and an ordinance to that effect is being prepared by City Attorney Werner, the Harbor Commission was informed yesterday by City Clerk Dominguez.

Leach, who has been receiving $300 a month since H. H. Harris was made assistant City Attorney assigned to the harbor's legal staff, will be Harris's only associate in harbor work. Ivan Hiler fills the job to be abolished.

ISAACSON WILL SPEAK

"Great Achievements of the Jew in America," will be discussed by Rabbi Isadore Isaacson tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Temple Israel, Hollywood. B. Ernest Ballard, organist, will be in charge of the musical program, which will include solos by Miss Genevieve Schrader.

Caroline Looney Testifies Man Tried to Sell Back Rings Stolen From Her

Not content with holding up Caroline Looney, actress, in her apartment, George Bevan, 26 years of age, attempted to sell to her two rings which he took at the time, Miss Looney testified yesterday in Municipal Judge Ballard's court. Bevan is charged with burglary, robbery and extortion. The case, unfinished yesterday, was continued until tomorrow.

GEORGE BEVAN

The actress declared that Bevan, masked, invaded her apartment on October 28, last, through a bathroom window and at the point of a revolver took two diamond rings valued at $1300 from her and $31 cash from Hugo Rock, who was visiting her. Three days afterward, she said, he telephoned to her and offered to sell the rings for $800. Later, after numerous telephone conversations, he agreed to take $175 for them, she said. She met him by agreement near the Third-street tunnel, but he fled as she approached, she testified.

He was later arrested by police on information given by Miss Looney.

Jolly Saint Prepares to Handle Many Letters Sent by Children of City

Santa Claus officially opened his headquarters at Shrine Al Malaikah Temple yesterday for the twenty-fourth consecutive year, when more than 100 letters written to the jolly saint were delivered by Postmaster O'Brien to Recorder George J. Ramsey.

This custom of forwarding all such letters found in Los Angeles mail boxes has been followed for twenty-three years. Each letter is read and where warranted, an investigation is made so that the Shriners, in dispensing Christmas cheer, may be sure that no deserving child or family is overlooked.

This work is in addition to the annual Christmas tree party for 4500 poor school children who will each receive a bag filled with presents on the night of the 23rd inst. at the Shrine Civic Auditorium. Headquarters to handle donations of clothing were opened yesterday at 661 West Jefferson street, where a force of investigators under Mrs. Elizabeth Morrison will inquire into all worthy cases.

Contributions of clothing and other useful articles may be sent to this address and distribution will be made regardless of race, color or creed.

CONNEALLY DEATH CASE UNDECIDED

Coroner's Jury Unable to Determine if Asserted Beating Caused Demise

A Coroner's jury yesterday declared itself unable to determine whether Luke E. Conneally, 42 years of age, came to his death as the result of an asserted beating by Roy A. Trider, held by police as a murder suspect.

The direct cause of Conneally's death last Sunday at St. Vincent's Hospital was septicemia and septic meningitis, an autopsy showed. Dep. Dist.-Atty. Barnes requested that Trider be held pending an investigation.

In the verdict the jury stated that Conneally was reported to have received a beating by Trider at 980 West Vernon avenue on November 28, last. The beating is asserted to have taken place when Trider went home and found his wife, Pauline, 32, in Conneally's apartment, next door. Neither Trider nor his wife testified at the inquiry, conducted by Deputy Coroner Monfort at the Coroner's office, on advice of Joseph Fainer, attorney.

Barnes said he will seek to determine whether the blood poisoning from which Conneally died resulted from wounds received in the asserted beating.

Two Societies Convene Today

Inspection of sound apparatus in Hollywood studios will open a three-day convention today of the American Physical Society and the Acoustical Society of America, which are convening at the University of California at Los Angeles.

Business sessions of the organizations will begin tomorrow, when separate sessions will be conducted in the Physics-Biology Building at the university. A joint session will be held tomorrow afternoon during which two U.C.L.A. instructors will speak. They are Dr. Vern O. Knudsen and Leo P. Delsasso.

CHRISTMAS COMES EVERY DAY

When Friends' Cards Are Thus Utilized

Rich in Remembrance

Irene Rich suggests making a permanent record of the good wishes of one's friends by incorporating them in the decoration of lampshades, hat boxes, waste-paper baskets, card tables and similar objects.

PASTE-POT and shears, shellac and brush—and a flair for the artistic! These, in the opinion of Irene Rich, film actress, constitute the answer to a question as old and perplexing as what to do with old razor blades—what to do with old Christmas cards.

Instead of being discarded, Miss Rich suggests, cards, when the holidays have passed, can be used in the general decoration scheme of lampshades, waste-baskets, card tables or you name it. The shellac, applied to the article when finished, makes for preservation, and thus, she points out, may the well wishes of friends be made permanent.

TALE OF CAR WRECKS WINS WIFE DECREE

Repairs for automobiles wrecked while driving in an intoxicated condition took most of her husband's $200 a week income, Mrs. Gladys McCaughan yesterday asserted in winning a divorce from J. A. McCaughan, automobile salesman. Superior Judge Collier granted her a divorce.

Two Persons Die in Traffic and One Driver Held

One man is dead and another held on suspicion of manslaughter as the result of an automobile collision last night at One Hundred and Eighty-second street and Western avenue.

The victim was D. M. Cooley, 45 years of age, of 143 North Hope street. His car, according to the police report, was struck by a machine driven by J. J. Carroll, 54, oil-well operator of 3400 London street, and in which W. H. Coons of 250 Kenneth Drive was a passenger. The impact hurled Cooley from the car and he was dead when picked up, his neck having been broken.

Capt. Stanger of the Seventy-seventh-street police division, who booked Carroll, stated witnesses told him the latter had passed a boulevard-stop signal and had tried to rectify his mistake, but too late to avoid the crash. Coons sustained slight hurts in the collision but Carroll escaped without injury.

A gray-haired woman of frail build and about 70 was killed instantly last night at Beverly Boulevard and Belmont street, where she was struck by an automobile driven by Morry Berck, in business at 730 South Los Angeles street.

The woman, a pedestrian, wore a neat gray silk dress with red dots, black shoes and hat and brown coat. Berck was detained for questioning.

Nurses File Claims Against Mary Nolan

Mary Nolan, motion-picture actress, must pay a total of $158 today or face a hearing before Deputy Labor Commissioner Moriarty on four claims filed with the nurses engaged by her to attend her during a recent illness.

The nurses filing the claims are Edna McPherson, who asks $7.50 for attending Miss Nolan one day; Emma De Sack, $110, from November 15 to the 1st inst.; Elma Kastenbader, $7, and May Clemons, $33.50, for services in November.

When Deputy Moriarty communicated with Miss Nolan at the Universal studio, he said, she promised to reimburse the nurses when she receives her check today.

Willys Company Head Arrives to See His Dealers

Preparing for next year's business program, L. A. Miller, president of Willys-Overland, Inc., and of the Willys-Overland-Pacific Company, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Toledo, O., and arranged to meet with heads of Willys Distributors, Inc., and Southern California dealers operating under them.

Miller registered at the Biltmore. He is accompanied by Ward M. Canady, president of the United States Advertising Corporation, advertising counsel for the company, and H. C. Tillotson, president of the Tillotson Manufacturing Company, who has been closely associated with the Willys-Overland interests for many years.

Manufacturing, merchandising and advertising programs of the automobile concern will be outlined to the distributors during Miller's stay. Miller also will meet with G. V. Orr, vice-president of the Willys-Overland-Pacific Company, and other officials of the Western plant.

Cultural Center Advocates Meet

A gathering of those interested in the furthering of a movement to bring an international congress of the arts to Los Angeles in 1935 was held last night at 1041 Menlo avenue, where the plans suggested by Theodore Repay were discussed.

Mr. Repay's idea is to make Los Angeles the cultural center of the nation through the furtherance of musical and artistic work. L. E. Behymer, Orra E. Monnette, Alma Priester, J. Kanst and others were present and spoke briefly on the subject.

Just how the movement should be started best was not determined and the gathering adjourned to some future date when organization will be taken up and discussed fully.

Justice Wins in Recall Election

A recall election directed at John Zaring, Justice of the Peace of Belvedere Township for fifteen years, failed yesterday by a majority of 1049 votes, Registrar of Voters Kerr announced last night. The final count showed 387 ballots cast for the recall of the justice and 1436 against.

The recall petition that preceded the election charged that liquor produced in Justice Zaring's court had not been disposed on properly, that he lacked judicial temperament, a proper knowledge of law for the administration of justice and was without poise and dignity.

Justice Zaring declared the recall against him founded on "personal spite and hatred."

MISSOURIANS INVITED

The next social rally of the Missouri Society will be held Tuesday evening in Moose Hall, 1024 South Grand avenue. President James A. Land announces the Mission Bell trio will feature the program.

AUTO HURTS PEDESTRIAN

William Epstein, 45 years of age, a pedestrian, suffered probably mortal injuries at Ninth and Mateo streets yesterday by being struck by an automobile of which R. Loeffer of 1219 Sunol Drive was the driver. Loeffer was not held.

Today's Bible Text

And all the angels stood around about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen.—Rev. vii:11, 12.

NOT ENOUGH

How much do announcers get? feelingly asks a contemporary. Some get more and some get less. And some of them don't get all that's coming to them, if you ask us.

IT'S A FACT

The number of automobiles in the United States averages one for every 4.5 persons. The .5 doubtless stands for the fragments of humanity strewn along the street on a week-end or holiday.

TWO TOURISTS

Col. Lindbergh and the Prince of Wales are to do South America simultaneously soon. We venture that the Prince will have a hard time stealing the show from the first citizen of Detroit.

GRAFT ETERNAL

The Tammany Tiger always is good when he's caged, but New York's chief trouble through more than half a century seems to be a question of keepers who persist in leaving the cage door open.

SILENCE IS GOLDEN

Many of us who are constantly harassed and harangued on the telephone would feel that we, too, had a golden instrument if, like the Pope's, it was arranged so that only outgoing calls passed through it.

SANTA COMING TO WHITE HOUSE

California has a special interest in the White House Christmas this year on account of the President's three grandchildren who were born in this State and who have just gone to spend the holidays with their grandparents in Washington. Many a man who would not choose the national responsibility which President Hoover has assumed will envy him the privilege of playing Santa Claus to these eager, enthusiastic youngsters.

HANDICRAFT

A noted sculptor, now on a visit to California, stated in a public address a few days ago that the measure of civilization is in the handicraft which materializes the ideals of man. He declared that the education which inculcates the idea "learn to work with your head so you will not have to work with your hands" is entirely wrong; and he believes the time will soon come when a person who cannot create something beautiful with his hands will be either pitied or despised.

HOME OF HEALING

Mary Pickford laid the corner-stone of our new county home of healing on a recent afternoon. Gov.-elect Rolph said this corner-stone in a temple of healing is a milestone in our progress toward universal kindness and humanity.

Dr. Morgan, president of the American Medical Association, pronounces the new hospital the largest of its kind in the world. Master of Ceremonies Mattoon says it will stand as a monument of life-saving for decades to come. Supervisor Shaw is of the opinion that, while it may be the largest structure of its kind, yet bigger than this is the ideal it typifies.

The survival of the fittest is the law among brutes. But a higher law has been enacted by Deity: The fittest must help the unfit to survive.

Folks struggle in from everywhere for our sunshine and its healing qualities. Southern California is the home of health. But many diseased beyond help drift in with hope. Few places in the world need a hostelry of health to cure these sick indigent as does this city.

The church was once the only institution that bothered about the weak. But religion is fast working out into the world and city and county are taking over many of the good offices of the priest. Religion is becoming a practical thing.

It was an excellent idea to have the corner-stone laying in the holiday season. The Christmas spirit and peace are uppermost. Bandits may multiply; but all the world has not gone awry. There is yet a star in the night.

POLITICS AND UNEMPLOYMENT

The figures themselves tell the story and fully justify President Hoover's sharp rebuke to members of Congress who, in the guise of unemployment relief, have piled into the Congressional hoppers appropriation bills totaling $4,500,000,000 in excess of the amounts called for by the 1932 budget. The President rightly called this "playing politics with human misery" and pointed out that the economic consequence of such excess appropriations would be to produce more misery by increasing the tax burden.

Neither increased taxes nor a bond issue will aid the situation, the President declared. The tax increase would prevent unemployment relief through private enterprise, while a bond issue would withdraw capital needed by agriculture and industry and increase taxes at a somewhat later date.

"Prosperity cannot be restored by raids upon the public treasury," said the President. "No matter how devised, an increase in taxes in the end falls upon the workers and farmers, or alternately deprives industry of that much ability to give employment and defeats the very purpose of these schemes."

The wincing of the gallèd jade under the President's lash was evidenced by the attempt in Congress to make it appear that the President is against relief measures. His record is sufficient answer to such puerile attacks. The President is a relief expert; he knows what the situation calls for and how best it can be met and when he declares that the appropriations he has recommended represent the maximum that the Federal government can undertake, without doing more harm than good, the declaration itself carries a strong presumption of accuracy.

The budget estimate of $3,932,000,000, with other commitments for 1932, bring the probable government expenditures for the next fiscal year to $4,332,000,000, which is in excess of the estimated revenues by $400,000,000. It must be obvious that an additional sum more than equal to this could only be obtained by borrowing upon a war-time scale, which would deplete the capital market of all its surplus, and it is absurd to suppose that such an activity on the part of the government could have any other effect than that of further depression.

The President is not only right, but he is wise in calling the situation to public attention before it is too late. The exposure of this attempt to capitalize the depression for political objects should be sufficient to end it.

PEACE

College men are meeting at Riverside in a peace conference and Navy officials are calling for more men, on the same front page. And so the poor dove of peace is having a slim chance to rear her young.

This is a funny old world. One day it howls itself hoarse over armistice and the next day it throws up its hat for war. You can't count on it.

The college professor advances four major suggestions to insure peace: (1) The repudiation of a mechanistic conception of the universe; (2) the elimination of old prejudices; (3) a belief in the friendliness of the universe, (4) aligning ourselves mentally and spiritually with worth-while effort.

But the youngsters do not know what all this means, and they are the ones who want to fight. A new generation comes along and does not know the horrors of war.

We cry, "Peace, peace!" but over in Europe they cry, "War, war!" We bow our heads in prayer and Mussolini sticks out his chest. We dedicate houses of healing and Mars fills them with casualties.

Soldiers of Germany and France leap into one another's arms at armistice and then French soldiers are planted in the Ruhr Valley. More seeds of hatred are sown. Communism pleads for peace and then sends its bears into the China shop.

If there were no Deity in heaven, it would be hopeless!

A fine suggestion comes from France: A school of peace with Mlle. Louise Weiss as director has been founded. We have our Army and Navy academies, so why not a school of peace? Teach the oncoming hot bloods the futility of war.

And why not a Department and Secretary of Peace as well as a Department and Secretary of War?

NEW YORK VICE CASES

What is New York officialdom coming to? Hard on the heels of the scandal involving many members of the judiciary of Manhattan and Brooklyn come charges that the police system is corrupt from top to bottom—so sordid, in fact, that it even stoops to the robbery and "framing" of women of the underworld.

A vice squad stool pigeon tells of fifty-seven cases in which thirteen police officers, whom he named, had falsely testified against women who were illegally arrested. Police lieutenants and other officers of the force were found to have bank accounts largely in excess of their legitimate incomes. If women in lodging-houses refused to pay for "protection" they were arrested without evidence, to give others a lesson.

A prosecutor in the Women's Court admits that he accepted bribes for "laying down" on his job. One woman testified that she had paid $575 for immunity, hers being one of eighty-two cases in which the prosecutor was involved. Other girls testified to being beaten up by policemen when they refused to pay tribute to them. Innocent women victims of the police are said to be numerous and before the investigation is completed hundreds may testify.

The New York vice cases are somewhat like those of Philadelphia a few years ago. In neither scandal has there been anything to indicate proper oversight of the police or any timely attempt to punish the culprits. The two cities have been altogether too tolerant of such unsavory states of affairs. But though the awakening has been late in each city, it bids fair to be thorough.

SHIFTING ADMINISTRATIONS

The news dispatches from London make better reading for premiers than those from Paris. But at that Mussolini is sitting the prettiest. They don't dare to oppose him.

The LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

EDUCATION ain't what it used to be.

Ourville has a brand new grammar school and it isn't much like the school from which we used to play hookey. It is so unlike it that you could hardly bribe one of the pupils to play hookey. It is a $200,000 playhouse. There isn't any other place in town in which they could have half as much fun. And there isn't any other place in town so beautiful to behold, for both outside and inside it is artistic, designed to inspire children with appreciation of the beautiful. It looks more like a Moorish palace than the gaunt, bare, square building in which we spent so many of our halcyon boyhood days.

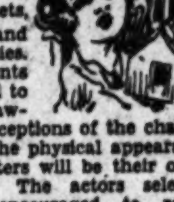
In the kindergarten there is just the sort of fireplace to make children dream of Santa Claus and a fishpond with live fish in it and a lovely little fountain. In the first-grade room there is a playhouse—the Three Bears' house—the furniture and drapes and rugs for which are being made by the little folks, who learn the foundations of arithmetic and design and harmony in the making. In another grade there is a store in which children learn arithmetic by going to market and getting so much of this, that and tother out of a dollar. In the art room very little tots are taught to make surprising things which they take home and show their parents with pride, and larger children are taught more about art than most of their parents ever knew. In the music room possibilities of exceptional talent are eagerly looked for in every child in the school, and frequently parents are surprised by being informed that their offspring have hidden talent. After school many of them go back there to learn to play piano, violin or other orchestral instruments.

Where All Play Is Good Work

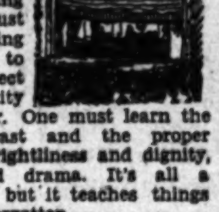
And physical education nowadays is such an important part of schooling. Our 6-year-old John comes home proudly wearing a paper medal for correct posture—and correct posture learned that young may mean physical well-being later on. There is a big, sunny room filled with comfortable cots for delicate children and a walled-in roof garden for sun-bath groups. There are regular medical and dental inspections and there will be a summer health school.

Yet nearly all of it is play. They learn by doing instead of just from books and the different departments work together. Pupils who learn correct posture in the physical education class draw pictures of it in the art class and demonstrate it on the baseball field during recess.

Skipping Lightly to U.C.L.A.



We went from the Ourville school to the University of California at Los Angeles, where we saw much the same ideas applied to grown-up pupils. There students of drama, art, costuming and interior decorating have been working together for weeks for the presentation of "The Golden Youth," an adaptation of a play by Witter Bynner, to be presented in Royce Hall December 12-13. They have made all the stage sets, the costumes and the properties. The art students have been told to put into drawings their conceptions of the characters, so that the physical appearance of the characters will be their original creation. The actors selected have been encouraged to really "create" the characters. Mrs. Louise P. Sooey, head of the art department; Mrs. Beryl K. Smith of the art department and Miss Virginia Van Norden, who teaches costume designing and interior decorating, have advised and somewhat directed the production, but the greatest freedom possible has been allowed the students in the working out of their own artistic conceptions. In this city of innumerable stage productions, amateur and professional, it is doubtful if any other has been presented which is so completely the creation of the actors themselves.



And most of us, even in this notably theatrical city, have little realization of how many useful things one has to learn in order to stage, costume and produce a play. The exact sciences as well as the arts must be called into play. One learns that the hilt of a dagger jeweled with gumdrops will flash like Excalibur, but one must shellac the "jewels" to keep the actors from attempting a sword-swallowing act. One must know something of chemistry to get one effect and of electricity to get another. One must learn the value of contrast and the proper balance of sprightliness and dignity, of comedy and drama. It's all a bushel of fun, but it teaches things never to be forgotten.

Joshua Little Says

The funny thing is that a lot of the fellows who are talking hard times have steady jobs, are earning just as much as ever and can buy more for it than before.

It shows how sheep-minded most of us are. And sheep-minded people are the ones most easily fleeced.

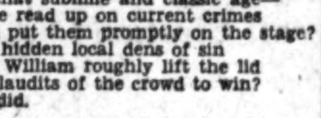
Four-fifths of us are in that class, earning as much as last year and able to buy more for it. So four-fifths of us are more prosperous than we were in "good times."

QUAINT SLOGAN

Milwaukee has a quaint slogan which is half warning and half statement of fact. It reads, "Gunmen Dodge This City!" It has the lowest rate of burglar insurance of any city in the country and it claims that its citizens are 86 per cent safer from burglary or theft than citizens of New Orleans, New York or St. Paul; that they are 114 per cent safer than residents of Los Angeles and 125 per cent safer than Chicago dwellers. Milwaukee claims that quick trials, punishment adequate to the crime and police divorced from politics, account for this gratifying state of safety.

THRILLS

The greatest adventurers today are the scientists who sit in the laboratory and go on voyages of discovery among the atoms, electrons, rays and the combinations of various chemicals. To read of their findings is as thrilling as the report of the discovery of a new continent. In fact, the scientist is revealing a new heaven and a new earth.



JUST A REG'LAR PLAYWRIGHT

By James J. Montague

In Mr. Shakespeare's stirring times,
  In that sublime and classic age—
Did he read up on current crimes
  And put them promptly on the stage?
From hidden local dens of sin
  Did William roughly lift the lid
The plaudits of the crowd to win?
  He did.

Did Shakespeare, whom, of course, we call
  The master of dramatic art,
Make copy of a ruffian brawl
  To stir a shopgirl's tender heart?
Did he exploit low alehouse fights
  To make a drama a success,
Which might last out a hundred nights?
  Yes, yes!

Did he look on life's baser side
  So he might win a tear or sob,
Or work up thrills that satisfied
  The simple yearnings of the mob?
Was Mr. Shakespeare ever known
  To swipe a play, and then forget
To say it wasn't all his own?
  You bet!

Considering his worldly way
  Of thinking of the pounds and pence
And seeking, when he penned a play,
  How he might swell his audience,
Can we, at this enlightened date,
  Revere this very human man
And still insist that he was great?
  We can!

WHAT OTHERS THINK ABOUT IT

THEY SAY NICE THINGS NOW

[Detroit Free Press]

A special correspondent writing from the French capital reports that articles about "gangster America" have practically vanished from the newspapers of that city, and that other stories abusing the United States are being soft pedaled. In contrast, French writers are commencing to emphasize our good points and recount how nice we are.

One of these personages tells his fellow countrymen that "among the traits I observed in Americans that struck me most favorably was their generosity," and another, Francois de Croisset, a dramatist, declares that "when Americans learn the art of doing nothing, they will become a perfect people."

This is all very nice, and a self-flattering interpretation of the change of tone of the French press would be an assumption that as Gallic journalists have come to know us better, they have learned to understand and appreciate us more. But it will be dangerous and self-deceptive and rather juvenile to succumb to any such imagining as that.

The French are an extremely practical people underneath their carefully cultivated and regulated emotionalism, and if for the moment their spokesmen are flattering instead of insulting us, if they have quit calling us "Shylocks," and are discoursing about our generosity, they are doing so with a purpose. What that purpose may be is naturally more or less a matter for speculation at present. But perhaps it is a good general guess that the French journalists who have traveled here have learned that the hard names they and their countrymen have been hurling at us have accomplished nothing for them, but on the contrary have created irritation, dislike and suspicion which may be bad for France later. There seems to be a sudden recollection in Paris of the old saying that you can catch more flies with molasses than with vinegar.

REFRIGERATOR DRAINS

[Chicago Tribune]

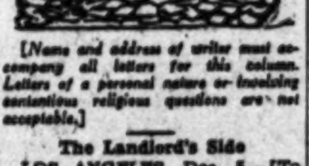
The president of the Plumbing Contractors' Association suggests a conference about refrigerator drains. In apartment buildings equipped with mechanical refrigeration these drains have no use whatsoever, but owners are still put to considerable expense to install them. The plumbers' union says, in effect, that if the owner will not spend money for needless refrigerator drains he can't hire any union plumbers to install bathtubs. The argument, needless to say, is a powerful one.

It has been suggested that the subject might prove of interest to the grand jury investigating racketeering. Mr. Rupert J. Weber, president of the Plumbing Contractors' Association, proposes a conference of architects, journeymen plumbers, plumbing contractors and the city health department. Such a conference can do no harm, but the absence from the conference table of building owners and renters who are forced to pay for the unnecessary work is not a hopeful circumstance. They are better represented on the grand jury.

CHEAPER TO PAY RENT

[New York Sun]

Fewer persons changed their residences in New York this year, which is accepted as indicating that in hard times it is cheaper to pay rent than to move.



LETTERS TO The Times

[Name and address of writer must accompany all letters for this column. Letters of a personal nature or involving contentious religious questions are not acceptable.]

The Landlord's Side

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I note in The Times that the City Prosecutor's office warns apartment-house owners of the consequences of moving tenants' furniture without process of law when they are in arrears with rent. 'Tis strange how our prosecutors and judges whom we elect to protect us law-abiding citizens almost invariably protect the lawbreaker and dead beat with more zeal than the honest citizen. Instead of putting the dead beat wise to their rights you might have told them to pay their rent and they wouldn't be put out. There are thousands of dead beats who get at least four months' rent free out of twelve on account of our protective laws. It should be lawful for any landlord to put a tenant and his furniture on the sidewalk, using all necessary force to do so without process of law when said tenant does not pay rent when due. It would be right and proper. Landlords pay taxes, interest on money invested, etc. They must have rent for their property or go to the wall. It takes money and time to remove a tenant by process of law, and while suit is pending the beat gets from thirty days to three months' rent free and the landlord is out two or three months' rent. A judgment against the tenant is worthless. Landlords and creditors are not getting a square deal under our present laws.

An Appeal for the Trees

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Relative to an article recently in your paper headed, "Killing the Forest Children," I wish to state that constructive relief for this situation must lie in the adoption of reforestation, in the replacement of trees where possible, to take the place of those destroyed.

This subject concerns America very deeply and should be adopted to relieve the fear of economic loss, entailed in the annual use of trees to celebrate Christmas.

Our organization believes that the remedy for the matter lies in arousing a spirit of tree planting, beginning in schools, churches and other nurseries of character and that each and every department of public service should be called upon for aid.

OLGA SHUEY,
President Los Angeles League of City Beautifiers.

True Neighborly Feeling

FULLERTON, Dec. 5.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As the Los Angeles Times enters upon its fiftieth year of conspicuous service to Southern California we wish to be numbered among those who offer sincere congratulations on your past achievements and who extend the most cordial of good wishes for your success and prosperity through the coming years.

The directors of this chamber wish also to make acknowledgement of your courtesy to Orange county in featuring so strongly its crop record during the year just closed.

Be assured of our warm appreciation of your very neighborly attitude toward us.

FULLERTON CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
A. R. Volk, President.
H. M. May, Secretary.

Everyone To His Trade

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Would it not have been more appropriate to have given the honor of laying the corner-stone to our hospital to some physician or nurse of outstanding achievement in their profession and service to the United States than to have given it to a movie queen? Would the theatrical profession ever think of asking a physician or nurse to lay the corner-stone of a theater? G. HANSEN.

Favors Church Tax

EAGLE ROCK, Dec. 6.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I was much pleased to see the letter in Friday morning's Times, headed, "Untaxed Property," signed by F. H. D. This is a good and timely suggestion. We are all paying more than our share of taxes, for the protection of the churches which are well able to pay their just share of the cost of running the city.

No less an authority than President J. A. Garfield said, "The divorce between church and state ought to be absolute. It ought to be so absolute that no church property anywhere, in any State or in the nation, should be exempt from equal taxation; for if you exempt the property of any church organization to that extent you impose a tax upon the whole community." (In Congress, June 22, 1874.)

By all means let us tax church property. The churches preach the Golden Rule. Let them practice what they preach.

R. BAILY CARSON.

We read that each seat in a London theater is equipped with a night lamp. Many Americans addicted to reading in bed would turn out the light and settle for a snooze when the play palled. J. F.

The season is upon us when mechanically minded fathers buy electric trains for their book-minded sons. And what a grand time father has assembling and running these same trains! J. F.

In protest against the entertainment tax many motion-picture theaters in Germany were closed during July.

"WRAP IT AS A GIFT"

BY JANE FREDERICKSON

"Wrap it as a gift" we say to the salesperson and our purchase, be it a modest one or one costing several dollars, is whisked away to some fairy booth and comes back in an attractive box, well beribboned and looking as festive as the Christmas season requires. All that is left for us to do is to furnish and write the card, or if we are sending the package direct from the store, a swagger card and envelope are furnished. As much attention is paid to a box of wee handkerchiefs as to an expensive satin pillow for the davenport.

Performing these miracles with our Christmas or birthday gifts and our bridge prizes must cost the business houses a pretty penny not only at the Yuletide season, but during the entire year. However, they do it with a smile and act as though they liked it. It must mean thousands of dollars spent during the year by the larger firms and a proportionate amount by the smaller ones to "wrap it as a gift," but it makes life infinitely easier for the shopper.

Father and brother no longer dread Christmas buying, so easy has it been made for them. From the invitation to "Park the car free" to the young lady who is ready with delightful suggestions as to what would be appropriate for Aunt Lou and Sister Sue, the entire personnel of the stores stands ready to help. One only need tell the shopping adviser the age and sex of the one for whom the gift is intended and the amount one wishes to spend and he is given a choice of articles, any one of which he knows would make happy the giftee. No longer need the masculine members of the family surreptitiously hunt around at night when the rest of the family are in bed for Christmas wrappings and ribbon. Their packages are delivered to them all ready for the card. And the men wonder how they ever endured the years when they wandered around the stores aimlessly, usually coming away with something that they knew was not appropriate because they could no longer endure the shopping ordeal.

Of course, the feminine members of the family miss a little of the Christmas spirit that came with the last-minute wrapping of packages. We miss the spreading of the gifts on the cleared dining-room table, where ribbons, tissue paper, cards, seals and any boxes we have been able to accumulate form an intriguing confusion out of which we wrap, tie and label our gifts. A few years ago the shops obligingly had a special booth for the wrapping of gifts, but those of us who tried to have them done usually got weary of standing in line, waiting our turn, and went home and did our bungling best. Today we simply say, "Please wrap it as a gift," and an expert makes it so attractive that we are thankful that we live in this year 1930 when the merchants are sitting up nights conjuring ways to make our Christmas shopping and choosing of gifts easy.

We cannot fail to notice that the always-courteous salespeople—there are no other kind tolerated by the stores any more—do not lead us to a $10 display when we say we would like to pay $5. They try to find the very best thing on the $5 table, so that we go away pleased that we have kept within our budget and have found something appropriate.

All honor to the merchants, large and small, who have everything possible arranged so that our Christmas shopping may be easy and efficient.

PAINTED CANYON

Mysterious and awe-inspiring place!
Great walls of rock that shut the world away
Rear up their craggy heads to the blue day
Whose golden fingers cunningly can trace
And brighten to a stranger, clearer grace
Those vivid rainbow hues on rock and clay
That give this canyon grim a name so gay.
Here Solitude must wear her sternest face.

Yet, on the sandy floor, by rock and stone
The slender wild blue lupin lifts her spear
By golden poppies and verbena rose—
Nor dwell these nymphs of beauty quite alone
For swift, among the fragrant sages near,
A humming bird his colored journey goes.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Women's Gym?

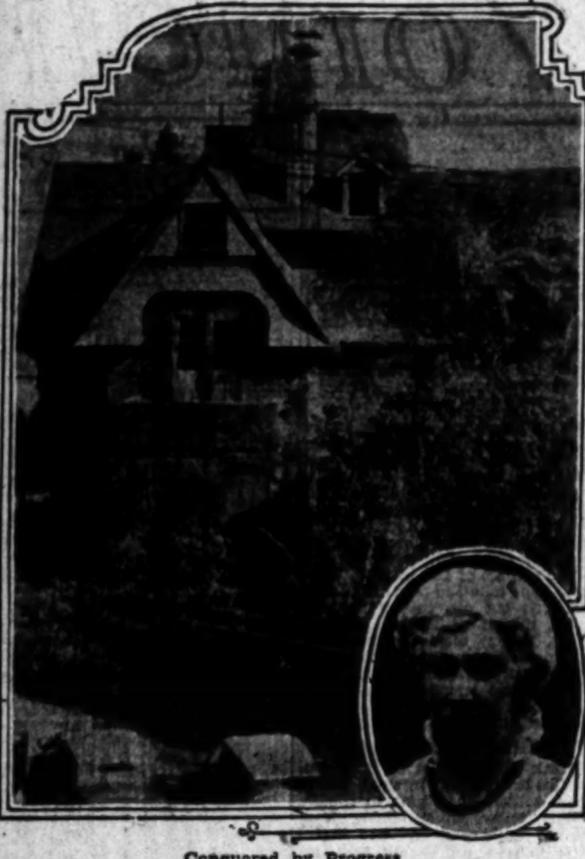
BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

A delightful gymnasium class for women is held in the Eagle Rock High School, 1750 Yosemite Drive, Eagle Rock, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, 7 to 9. There is no charge for instruction, which includes folk games, basketball, reducing exercises and health rules, but each student furnishes her own gym suit and soft-soled shoes, which may be bought for about $2.50, or may be composed of easy-fitting beach or hiking costumes.

Other gymnasium classes for women in this neighborhood are at 7 to 9 p.m. in the following schools: Aragon, 1118 Aragon avenue, Thursdays; Glassell Park, 2211 West Avenue Thirty, Tuesdays, Thursdays; Loreto street, 3408 Arroyo Seco avenue, Tuesdays.

Once Queenly Residence Vacated



Conquered by Progress
Wills home on Fort Moore Hill and its mistress, Miss Fanny Wills.

WILLS MANSION DESERTED

Last of Stately Homes on Fort Moore Hill Evacuated by Its Sorrowing Mistress

The old Wills home, last of stately Fort Moore Hill mansions whose masters once ruled the city's business life and whose mistresses were social queens, is fallen. It timbers still stand, to be sure, but its life has gone out. It is passing from a residence once the center of gay life in the eighties to just an old building in which the county will house some of its lesser officers until it falls in fact.

Miss Fanny Wills, its last mistress, is moving out and it is very hard for her. It is the first time in her life that she has moved her home. And her hair long since whitened.

SEEKS SOLACE IN COUNTRY

"I am going out into the country," she said, "and I don't want anybody to know where I'm going."

Like some fine old monument of the past, the Wills mansion stands now on Fort Moore Hill. Towering old palms and shrubs that are almost tree-like from age stand forbiddingly around it like a last guard.

By late in the eighties some of the wise city fathers of Los Angeles, then but a town of 20,000 souls, had provided for the piping of water up on Fort Hill. It became a prize location for homes as it towered over the Plaza and town below it with magnificent mountains and valleys spread panorama-like around them.

BATHTUBS EVEN!

In 1884 the Wills came and Mr. Wills, long an attorney in Washington, Pa., retired. He built a fifteen-room home on one of the choicest sites atop the hill. Bathtubs from Boston were among its extravagances. It was a show place of the city. In its day it has seen lighting done by candle, kerosene, gas and finally electricity. Treasures that have become antique within its walls and whose use continued until yesterday, are being moved out of it. In one corner of the acre-lot an old adobe wall of a still earlier day is crumbling back into the earth from which it came.

From this point between what now is Broadway and Justicia street a little northeast of the rased Fort Moore site, still stands The Cottage, once fine home that Andrew Glassell built for his southern wife. It long since was deserted by its line. It, too, is coming down.

WAY FOR PROGRESS

Other such houses, too, are coming down, many of them. As least those which stand in the way of Spring street, which to make another great traffic lane for a city of more than 2,231,000, is pushing itself through from Temple street to Sunset Boulevard. The sound of the bar and hammer of the workmen rises harshly up among the moaning zephyrs that gently sway the palm fronds.

The extension of Spring will go through about 1800 feet of the east side of Fort Hill, overlooking the old Pico House on North Main street. In some places the cut will be from sixty to seventy feet deep. The project will have cost about $1,235,000 on completion.

But from atop old historic Fort Hill it is just another great black, ugly finger poking its way through falling, flying stone and timbers, wiping out something that belongs to a bygone day to make ready for the now and the future.

COMPLAINTS FOR BURGLAR PAIR ISSUED

Men Accused of $250,000 Robberies Hear Bail of $25,000 Set for Each

Twenty-four hours after the announcement of their arrest as the suspected leaders of a large burguary ring believed to have robbed the homes of wealthy Hollywood and Beverly Hills residents of rugs and valuables worth more than $250,000, H. L. Sanders and Peter Ryan yesterday were charged with seven counts of burglary in a complaint issued by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McIsaac.

Sanders was arrested at an apartment-house at 5330 Olympic Boulevard after he had driven up in front of the place in a large truck. The officers, Detective Lieutenants Malina, Woolman and Burris of the police robbery detail, and Vannice and Lennen of the burglary squad, assert they have recovered stolen property valued at more than $100,000.

Sanders and Ryan were arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard on the seven counts of burglary and their preliminary hearing set for the 17th inst. Their bail was set at $25,000 each.

Last Tribute Paid C. J. Daly, Realty Dealer

Funeral services for Carroll J. Daly, prominent bay district real estate dealer, were conducted yesterday at St. Mark's Roman Catholic Church, Venice. Interment was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Santa Monica. The rites were attended by a large group of civic leaders, with members of the Venice Realty Board serving as pallbearers.

Mr. Daly met death last Saturday night in Los Angeles when he was struck by a hit-and-run motorist shortly after leaving an improvement association meeting. He had been active in real estate circles twenty-five years, the last fifteen of which were spent as a resident and developer of Venice. He was chairman of the board of governors of the Venice Realty Board and an officer in numerous other similar organizations. He was 45 years of age, unmarried, and lived with his sister, Mrs. Josephine Regensberg, and a niece, Miss Elizabeth Regensberg, at 19 Avenue Nineteen, Venice.

Actress, Given Alimony, Told to Find Work

MRS LILLIAN STODDARD

Mrs. Lillian Stoddard, known on the screen as Lillian Lane, divorced her husband, George Stoddard, an attorney, in Superior Judge Fleming's court yesterday after she had told how he had neglected her for football games and the law business.

In addition, Mrs. Stoddard testified, her husband drank too much liquor, and once when he left his office with another woman she followed him to a "chicken garden" where he bought the woman a chicken dinner.

Judge Fleming gave the plaintiff $100 a month alimony, but told her this will not be permanent, as there are "plenty of opportunities for a talented young actress" to support herself in Hollywood.

Stoddard allowed the case to be defaulted.

First Wife's Aid Wins Annulment for Second One

After each side had filed suit for divorce, the marital woes of Adelbert E. Williames and Eva M. Williames ended yesterday in an annulment, won by the wife. As her corroborating and convincing witness, she put her husband's undivorced wife, Addie Jane Maxson Williames of Philadelphia, on the witness stand in Superior Judge Price's court. The witness testified she is Williames's wife and was on April 8, 1917, when he married the plaintiff. Williames let the annulment go by default. He is a chiropractor, and Mrs. Williames is a nurse.

Mrs. Williames charged cruelty in her cross-complaint, for which she substituted her complaint for annulment.

Judge Price awarded to the wife custody of the son, Adelbert, Jr., 12 years of age, and ordered Williames to pay $20 a month toward his support. Attorney Morris McLaughlin represented the wife.

ALTERED PLANS MADE OFFICIAL

Supervisors Vote to Allow Contractors' Claim

Changing of Specifications Aired at Hearing

Use of Patented Cement in Building Defended

Following a public hearing in which it was asserted irregular changes were made in the specifications for the new $210,000 infirmary at the County Farm at Downey so as to require a patented cement mixture, the Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to revise the plans and guarantee payment to the contractors who, unknowingly, were parties to the transaction.

The hearing before the board followed a protest made by the Los Angeles Municipal League against payment for the work on the grounds that the specifications for the building had been changed without the necessary sanction of four-fifths of the Board of Supervisors.

GRAVES BLAMED

According to testimony before the Supervisors, the plans for the structure had been changed by County Architect Muck to require the use of approximately $2500 worth of pumicite, which is a natural deposit of silicon, for a mixture with the cement used in the walls of the building.

The county architect admitted making the change in the specifications, but declared he did so on order of former Supervisor Graves, who at the time was a member of the board and in charge of the architectural department.

ACT OF GOOD FAITH

Testimony before the board by several building engineers and contractors revealed that the mixture, although unauthorized in the specifications, made a much better building wall.

The steps were taken yesterday on an act of good faith toward the contracting company of Sarver & Zoss, who also made the change, thinking it was on order of the Board of Supervisors. Had the board refused to revise the plans the contractors faced the loss of a large sum of money.

In voting to revise the specifications and pay the contractors the Supervisors, however, declared that hereafter no plans or specifications of any sort are to be changed without the sanction of four-fifths of the board.

Last Rites for Descendant of Noble Line Set

Funeral services for Mrs. Clarice Octavia Searle, 62 years of age, who died Monday of injuries she received in an automobile accident in Pasadena, will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the Wee Kirk o' the Heather. Mrs. Searle, who had lived in California since 1913, traced her ancestry back to the French and English nobility of the sixteenth century. Her husband, Ernest William Searle, is on a business trip to Australia and was notified of her death by cable. Mrs. Searle was born in Tasmania.

Mrs. Searle was first married to Frederick Augustus Packer, prominent citizen of Tasmania and for fourteen years clerk of the Tasmanian Assembly. Following his death she married her present husband. In her early life Mrs. Searle entertained extensively and was one of the hostesses in Tasmania to King George of England, who then was the Prince of Wales, on his tour of the British colonies.

Manslaughter Charge Filed Against Driver

Lafayette Blocker, 28 years of age, of 5509 Fortuna street, yesterday was charged with manslaughter as a result of the death of Mrs. Laura M. Hall, who was struck by Blocker's automobile and killed on the 7th inst.

According to the complaint filed by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Barnes, Blocker was driving north on Ascot street at approximately forty miles an hour when his car at Forty-seventh street crashed into one driven by L. M. Hall of 4872 Bell avenue, Bell.

Blocker asserts he was driving at only twenty-eight miles an hour and had turned his head to glance at an approaching ambulance.

Blocker was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard and ordered released on $1000 bail pending preliminary hearing on the 22nd inst.

Myron Graves Funeral Today

Funeral rites for Myron O. Graves, Los Angeles attorney, who was fatally injured Monday in an automobile accident at Yosemite Drive and Eagle Rock Boulevard, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Graves was 68 years of age. He resided at 4703 Vincent Road. He leaves his widow.

The injuries which resulted in Graves's death were suffered when his automobile suddenly burst into flames and he lost control.

THIRD BANK ROBBER SUSPECT ARRAIGNED

Graham Norton, 33 years of age, asserted by police to have been the third bandit in two 1928 bank robberies for which Lynn Keith and P. G. Miller, a Negro, now are serving sentences in San Quentin, was arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday on two counts of robbery. His bail was fixed at $20,000 pending preliminary hearing on the 19th inst. The complaint charges that Norton obtained $6000 from a branch bank robbery on March 21, 1928, and $1200 from a similar robbery on March 19, 1928.

MOTHER PUSHES SUIT FOR SON

Young Husband Appears Merely as Witness in Annulment Case

Only as a witness, and not as plaintiff, Allan G. Rayner yesterday testified at the hearing on a complaint for annulment of his marriage with Bethel L. C. Rayner. The plaintiff was his mother, Mrs. Marie Rayner, the young husband not being even joined as plaintiff with his guardian ad litem. He is 20 years of age, and the girl-wife is 19.

Rayner testified that he was 19 years of age when they married May 7, 1929, without parental consent. They separated September 1, 1929. Superior Judge Moncur annulled the marriage on grounds that both parties were under age at the time.

TILLERS OF SOIL PLAN CONCLAVE

Fruit Grower and Farmer Organization Will Meet From 17th to 19th Inst.

Preparations are under way for the reception of between 600 and 700 persons scheduled to attend the sixty-third annual convention of the California Fruit Growers and Farmers, at the Alexandria from the 17th to 19th inst.

In addition to several hundred growers and farmers, agricultural commissioners from fifty counties and various other agricultural authorities will be present and make addresses. The convention will be held under the auspices of the State Department of Agriculture and in co-operation with a number of organizations interested in agricultural pursuits.

Among those slated to speak are G. H. Hecke, director of the State Department of Agriculture; C. C. Teague, California's member of the Federal Farm Board; H. J. Ryan, Los Angeles County Agricultural Commissioner, and representatives from organizations and educational institutions engaged in research work.

Marketing, standardization and quarantine will form the principal subjects of discussion.

WIFE TELLS OF ESPIONAGE

Having to work was bad enough, but the last straw was her husband's following her to and from work because he was suspicious of her, Mrs. Dollie B. Connelly yesterday complained in asking for a divorce from Robert L. Connelly, a clerk. She testified her husband compelled her to go to work. Superior Judge Yankwich granted her a divorce.

S.A.F.E. LINE STARTS NEW PLANE TRIPS

First Passengers Over Third Coast-Coast All Air Travel in From New York

First passengers to travel over the third all-air mail and passenger service to link New York with Los Angeles are scheduled to land today at 7:11 p.m. at United Airport, Burbank, in a trimotored Fokker monoplane of Southern Air Fast Express, division of American Airways.

Since the S.A.F.E. line inaugurated operation of a mail-passenger line eastward, passengers have been carried to Atlanta, Ga., and the mail flown on to New York.

A new tie-up with Eastern Air Transport now allows passengers to be carried through to New York by air with landings at Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia.

The trip over the southern route consumes three days of air travel, with overnight stops at Dallas or Fort Worth, Tex., and at Atlanta. A branch line of Eastern Air Transport, to be instituted January 1, next, will make it possible for Los Angeles passengers to continue to Miami, Fla., with the plane-change terminal at Atlanta.

F. G. Coburn, president of American Airways, and C. R. Smith, vice-president of the S.A.F.E. line, were present at ceremonies yesterday at Atlanta when the westbound ship took off for Los Angeles, according to Ed Sharpe, assistant to Coburn.

Milton B. (Farmer) Page, under sentence of 180 days for possession of a racing form chart, will surrender before noon next Saturday to serve his jail term, his attorney, Clifford Thoms, declared yesterday in Municipal Judge Curtis's court.

Thoms sought a delay to allow Page to wind up his business affairs. Judge Curtis declared that a continuance will be illegal, but said that he will not sign a warrant for Page's arrest until Saturday. Appeal bond of $5000 was ordered forfeited.

The sentence was imposed by Municipal Judge Sheldon, following Page's conviction by a jury several months ago. It was confirmed last week by the Appellate Division of Superior Court.

CRASH WIDOW ASKING $25,300 IN DAMAGES

For the death of Charles L. Leach, truck driver, killed when a small car overturned his truck at First street and Normandie avenue August 11, last, Mrs. Alice G. Leach, widow, is suing Catherine and Gretta Booth, occupants of the small car, for $25,300 damages. According to the complaint, the defendants' car was traveling fifty miles an hour when it struck the truck, knocking the larger vehicle forty feet.

CHAMBER SUPPORT URGED

Campaign Under Way to Increase Consumption of Locally Made and Distributed Products

Stronger support of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce by the business and industrial institutions of this area, because of the work which that organization is now doing to aid the speed return to normal business conditions, is being urged by leaders here in all of their contacts with executives of local firms, according to President John C. Austin of the Chamber.

Pointing out that the effectiveness of the Chamber of Commerce work is wholly contingent upon the support given the institution, Austin said that a more intensive effort is now being made to swell the membership list as a means of providing funds to carry out the various campaigns to increase the consumption of locally-made and distributed products and provide work for unemployed.

One important advertising campaign is now in progress in this county, with all of the chambers of commerce in the area co-operating in urging people to ask for products either made or distributed by recognized and established firms here, when making their purchases.

The campaign is being conducted through the medium of forty-seven newspapers in Los Angeles county and it is anticipated that it will be continued for six months.

In every city in which the newspaper advertisements appear, supplemental work is being done by the Chamber of Commerce of that community, including the presentation of speakers at luncheon meetings, at women's clubs and through churches, as a means of increasing the demand for commodities directly supplied from this area, Austin said, in disclosing some of the details of the work.

"We are conducting this campaign to the end that industries may be kept in production, distributors established here may be kept active, and both kept in a healthy condition so that employees may be retained on pay rolls," Austin said.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the tea with which Mrs. Howard Leland Rivers entertained Tuesday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Mrs. Raymond Richard Bristol (Elizabeth Rivers,) a recent bride, the occasion also being a formal opening of their new home at 1201 Tower Grove Drive, Beverly Hills.

Rich autumn tints were employed in the blossoms and foliage forming the decorations of the house while pink roses and maidenhair ferns with pink candles adorned the tea table in the dining-room.

Mrs. Rivers was assisted by Mrs. Joseph D. Radford, Mrs. Murray M. Harris, Mrs. Ernest B. Rivers, Mrs. Edward S. Pauly, Mrs. Salisbury-Field, Mrs. Arthur W. Kinney, Mrs. Glen Huntsberger, Mrs. Ralph Huntsberger, Mrs. W. E. Dunlap, Mrs. Kenneth Barton, Mrs. Nairn Rivers, Mrs. Ethel Rivers Hopkins, Miss Edith Pinkham, Miss Georgellen Ferguson, Miss Margaret Bell and Miss Evelyn Stern.

In the evening Mrs. Rivers gave a dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Bristol, to which forty members of the younger set were bidden.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Sophia Abendschein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Abendschein, to Samuel Harris was solemnized Saturday, the ceremony taking place in St. Stephen's Church, Hollywood, with Rev. Phillip Easlet officiating.

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin fashioned along Princess lines, her veil of tulle falling from a Juliette cap of pearls and held in place by orange blossoms. She carried a shower of orchids, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Leonard Beidle, sister of the bride, assisted as matron of honor, in frock of gold satin, and carried Macame Drew rosebuds. Miss Alma Granger, maid of honor, wore Nile green satin and carried pink roses. The other attendants, Misses Clara Finley, Elsie Wedler, Mrs. Clarence Gaffers and Mrs. James Rorex, wore frocks of pink chiffon and carried bouquets of gold and copper-hued roses. Little Leila Jean Howlett was the dainty flower girl and Leonard Beidle, Jr., carried the ring. Elmer Hartwig served as best man and Leonard Beidle, Thomas Howlett, Clarence Gaffers, James Rorex and Bruce MacDonald ushered. Mrs. Paul Schweitzer and George Hull, a school friend of the bride, in Rhinebeck, N. Y., sang preceding the ceremony. Mr. Abendschein gave her in marriage.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents, 5336 Lemon Grove avenue, followed the ceremony.

Christmas Candlelight Tea

Pi Beta Phi will hold a formal Christmas candlelight tea Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. P. M. Young, honoring Mrs. B. C. Gerwick of Berkeley, province vice-president, who is here on her annual visit to the active chapters of Pi Beta Phi at University of Southern California and University of California at Los Angeles.

With soft candlelight and Christmas decorations of poinsettias and tulle, the sorority colors of wine and silver blue will form a charming background for the Christmas program. John Claire Monteith, baritone, with Mrs. Daisy Dunham at the piano, will give a program of Christmas carols from many lands, and Miss Meriam Brownstedter will give a Christmas reading.

Following the program a reception will be given for Mrs. Gerwick at which Mrs. Young will be assisted by a large group of the Pi Beta Phi alumnae and the local and national officers residing in Los Angeles.

Founders' Day Celebrated

Prominent figures in the Founders' day celebration of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority last Sunday evening, were Mrs. Walter English, president of the Los Angeles alumnae chapter, Miss Helen Haller and Mrs. Verne W. McKinney, two national officers of the sorority who are members of the local alumnae organization.

Kappa Theta chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi, 894 Hilgarde avenue, Westwood, was the setting for this annual reunion of the sorority members, which was attended by representatives of twenty-three chapters.

As presidents of the alumnae and active chapters, Mrs. English and Miss Grace Summerbell presided as hostesses, assisted by past presidents of the alumnae chapter, including Misses Helen Haller, Margaret Pittman, Florence Alvares and Mmes. Roger Goodan, Verne W. McKinney and W. J. McKenna.

Symbolizing the four founders of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, four tall white candles centered the large table in the dining-room, which was gaily decorated with holly berries. Each guest received a tray with lighted candles on individual birthday cakes commemorating the anniversary of the sorority.

An impressive program was held in the chapter room of the sorority house, where four red candles, again signifying the four fraternity founders, were placed at one end of the room, beside which stood two national officers, Miss Helen Haller, who is the alumnae superintendent, and Mrs. Verne McKinney, examining officer, as well as the alumnae and active chapter presidents, Mrs. English and Miss Summerbell. Advancing in a procession down the room came representatives of each of the twenty-three chapters having members in the Los Angeles alumnae group of Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, carrying scrolls with the names of the chapter members.

The program, which included formal initiation, music by the active chapter and stunts by the pledges, was climaxed by the tree-planting ceremony, a tradition started last year at the first Founders' Day celebration to be held in the new sorority house at Westwood.

One of the interesting attractions of the evening was the "Alpha Omicron Pi special" miniature train and track, illuminated with tiny lights, shown en route to Denver and Troutdale, Colo., where the national convention of the sorority is to be held next June.

Members of the alumnae chapter who assisted with the arrangements were Misses Margaret Kendall, Katherine Rutherford, Mmes. Harold Graham, G. E. Cornish, Perry Gage and James Patten.

The New in Stores & Homes

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

"Society as usual" teams up well with "Business as usual," on the road leading to Prosperity. Do you remember, one time when panic and pauperism stalked abroad, the Paris midinettes banded together and issued a plea that women in high society resume their usual extravagances, in order that the little seamstresses might be relieved from starvation?

The same plea would now apply, the world over. Extravagance may not be the highest motive with which to relieve humanity; but it brings results; and it has an appeal where perhaps truest altruism might not activate. So, depstie Will Rogers's sayings advice, let's be extravagant!

They're OK

If you have not seen those Christmas cards, fabricated by OK, you have missed several jolly laughs. Clever, from midriff to border; abrim with genuine wit and humor, as bright as the crimson paper upon which the text stands forth, these cards are sure to be among the greatest addalaughs, on Christmas morning. In fact, that Christmas laugh will spread from ear to ear, in many cities; for O.K.'s Christmas card—or rather folder—is selling like hot little pig sausages all over the United States—fresh for breakfast on Christmas morning. Each paragraph is a take-off on the best-known advertising quips. "Darnation Milk," "Old Mold Cigarettes," "Blisterine," "Shux Soap," etc. Recommendations with each, are to laugh until your sides ache. I'll bet old Santa will shake off his pack, if he glimpses one of those OK folders!

Non Skids

Those rubber table mats and coasters, for card tables, come in popular colors, and each marker decorated by a card motif—heart, spade, club or diamond, printed in the color of the card. For use in passing the glass, or for holding the cool-drink pitcher, on the tray—not the trey—during the bridge game, these little sets are convenient. Giftie, too.

Practical Gift

With everything feminine taking on some sort of gifty effect, at this season, what more natural than that those hat forms should come out in gorgeous coloring? Covered in flowery cretonne, these hat forms now rank among the articles appropriate as gifts for her.

The Girl Says

"Oh, my! No!" replied the girl, when asked if it would leave a ring.

"That's the main feature about it," she declared, as she vigorously rubbed at a dark spot on the cloth. "Oh, my! You just watch and see the dirt disappear and leave not a single ring or mark of any kind!"

And we promised to try the new cleaner, as soon as we had time or had used the one now our favorite. Probably when we get out the frock we are planning to wear on Christmas Day. One usually finds something wrong at the last minute, and then it is too last-minute; so maybe after all, we shall visit that girl very soon—or ask Angela to do so.

Further Hattery

If she be tidy in her habits, you might add to the quota of hat forms several hat-stands. All of which will assist in keeping her clothes closet neat. And, if she happens to incline toward disorderliness, these gifts would gently hint possibilities of reform. Many present-day Christmas gifts, you know, tend toward the educational.

Boxed

Those boudoir boxes, also, grow more giftful, daily. These, too, carry a hint and exact a promise of orderliness in the dresser or wardrobe drawers. Few women or girls could resist the appeal of these dainty boxes, and few would resent their educative feature.

Preparedness

Everybody is—don't you think? By the crowds downtown and in the stores and shops. They are beginning to overflow into the smaller shops on the remote side streets, or out toward the suburbs; so busy are the downtown thoroughfares. But, don't you love it? At every turn, you meet some one you have not seen for months; perhaps not since last holiday season. And, many, many are here from far eastern points and from other countries. That's half the fun of the holiday season in our beloved city.

Carrying Color

Even candelabra, of modern type, carry color, unto the last dangling drop. We used to think of those prismatic fringes as always crystaline, since those on granddame's candelabra were such; but now we find them in blue and in crimson, in amber and amethyst. So, those charming light-givers may match the table-scheme throughout, if you will. And what more enchanting than a holiday table savouring of those old days when Christmas was weeks long—a veritable feast of merriment, from Thanksgiving until New Years, with visiting and gayety uninterrupted!

The Corner Window Blues

Now, if some one waxed poetic, or even songful over that corner window with its wondrous array of blue glass, I would not marvel. So, beautiful is each and every object shown there, and as the light reflects upon that magical shade of blue, it fairly sets imagination tingling.

Did you ever think how, in far future times, the products of today will be considered as treasureful as are those of ye ancient times, with us? Ruby glass, so famous, was it any more lovely than glass of the same tint, at present shown? And, could anything antique be more heavenly beautiful than that blue glass shown in the corner window of that great store? Of course, there is a historic romance about antiques; but what I am trying to say is that

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

BEEF HASH

Finely chop two shallots, or young green onions, melt a tablespoonful of butter in a small saucepan, add the shallots, and cook for five minutes, but do not brown. Mix with them, cut into very small dice, two cupfuls of boiled beef, from which all fat skin and gristle has been removed. Then add the same amount of chopped cold-boiled potatoes, season with salt, paprika, half a teaspoonful of thyme, and marjoram, add one-eighth of a teaspoonful of mace, mix well, place in a saute pan, three tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening. Cover it with a hash mixture, and cook until well browned underneath, then turn over and brown again. Slip out carefully onto a hot platter and turn over like an omelete. Garnish with parsley.

FRENCH TOAST

Cut twelve slices of stale bread a half an inch thick, trim off the crusts and toast a nice even golden brown. Beat six eggs with half a teaspoonful of salt and one tablespoonful of sugar, beat into them slowly, four cupfuls of milk, and strain into a shallow pan. Twenty minutes before serving, lay the slices of toast in the egg and milk mixture, and allow to stand for ten minutes, turning over once. Melt a tablespoonful of butter in a large saute pan, lay in four slices of the prepared toast and cook until lightly browned underneath. Pour one-third of the remaining milk mixture slowly over the toast, turn and brown on the other side. Place the cooked toast on a hot platter, sprinkle with a few drops of lemon juice and dust with powdered sugar. Repeat the process with the remaining pieces of toast.

PEAR SALAD

Six medium sized pears, six stalks of celery, a seasoning of salt, white pepper, one-half a cupful of chopped walnut meats, and one-fourth of a cupful of chopped ripe olives, select well formed pears, and cut a slice off the blossom end, then cut the pear off again about one inch down from the stem end, scoop out the core, and part of the interior, leaving a cup; take the pear meat that has been cut off, cut it in small pieces, mix it with the chopped celery, walnut meats and olives. Season, add enough mayonnaise to bind together, sprinkle the pears with a little lemon juice and fill them with the mixture. Place the filled pear cups in a nest of lettuce.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

Break three ounces of macaroni, noodles or spaghetti in small pieces, place a little at a time in rapidly boiling water, when tender drain off the water and add one cupful of milk. Return to the fire and simmer slowly till the macaroni has absorbed most of the milk. To one cupful of thick white sauce, add one cupful of grated cheese, and mix with the macaroni, then add two well beaten eggs, and carefully mix. Butter a ring mold, sprinkle it with brown bread crumbs, pour in the macaroni mixture, place in a pan of hot water, cover tightly and steam for half an hour. Turn out and fill the center with seasoned, stewed tomatoes and mushrooms.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

PLAIN COD LIVER OIL AS GOOD AS MORE POWERFUL VARIETIES

Dosing with cod liver oil, a daily rite during the first two years of the child's life, leads mothers to feel as each winter approaches that the child, irrespective of age, should have protective doses. Up to two years the baby has limited opportunities for being outdoors, but after two years the child can run and play in the sun at least two hours in the morning and often for an hour in the afternoon, so the need for any substitute for sunlight is less acute. If children past 2 years are given cod liver oil, there should be some definite reason and the dosage should be under the direction of a doctor.

Mrs. A. P. O. asks these pertinent questions, "My baby is 15 months old and weighs twenty-four and one-half pounds. I wrote you once before about him and your advice was helpful. Here I am again. He hasn't had a bottle since 1 year, has twelve teeth, and eats all kinds of vegetables, cereals and fruits. He doesn't have much meat—we don't either—but about three times a week I put an egg yolk and some sugar in his milk. He likes this. He has fish quite often.

SOCKS OR STOCKINGS?

"Is good, old-fashioned cod liver oil as good as the concentrated oils? What should the amount be daily for my baby, also for my girl of 3½ if she needs it? Should children wear long stockings in winter, or socks? Your advice about a bath before dinner worked fine. It was the only way I could calm her down at noon and made possible all the things I couldn't otherwise accomplish. I so much admire your service to mothers."

Thank you. I am just wondering if you didn't misunderstand my use of the term "before dinner," for I really meant before the evening meal and not the noon meal. A bath before the evening meal is such an ideal way to rest the fatigued runabout, put him in a proper mood to enjoy his night meal, and prepare him for bed shortly after. If it worked your way, that is the important thing. But I did mean it for night, not noon.

USE PLAIN OIL

The good, old-fashioned oil is as good as the other. Since the first of October the viosterol is 250 times more powerful than cod liver oil, instead of 100 times more powerful. The same doses as before are used, but of course the protective results are better. Because of its vitamin A contents I still feel, however, that plain cod liver oil is as good as the other, though not always as easy to give the child. A half-teaspoonful after each of the four meals, 7-12-4 (lunch) and 7, isn't a hard dose to take. The older child doesn't need it.

Egg yolk mixed in the milk is very good. Each day at noon the child should have one of the high protein foods such as meat, fish, egg, fowl, cottage cheese, beans, or peas. The last two are not complete proteins but with milk this isn't of great consequence. Your small child should have long cotton stockings, the older one also and leggings out of doors. After 5 the sturdy child can wear heavy socks in winter It depends entirely upon the child, for it is more than cruel to put a thin-legged, easily-chilled child into short socks, just because someone else does. Keep the child comfortable.

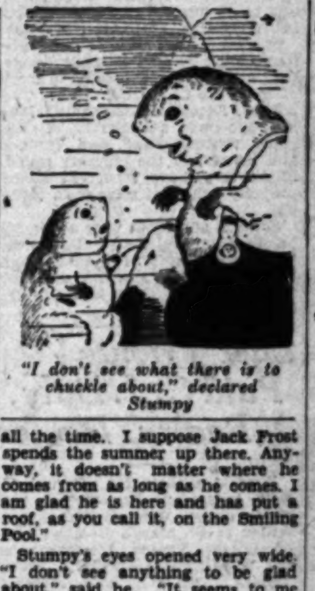
JERRY MUSKRAT EXPLAINS

No matter how you may explain
Some things you never can make plain.
—Jerry Muskrat.



"I don't see what there is to chuckle about," declared Stumpy

"I don't see what there is to chuckle about," declared Stumpy, the crippled young Muskrat, in an aggrieved tone of voice.

"It struck me as funny, that was all," replied Jerry Muskrat.

"What struck you as funny?" demanded Stumpy.

"That you should think that the Smiling Pool has a roof," replied Jerry.

"Well, it has. Come out and see for yourself. I guess when I bump my nose I'm likely to know it," asserted Stumpy. "Besides, you admit that there is one, for you said that Jack Frost made it."

"That is true," replied Jerry, and stopped chuckling. "It is a sort-of roof after all. I never happened to think of it that way. It really is a roof for the Smiling Pool."

"What is it made of?" demanded Stumpy.

"Of the Smiling Pool itself," replied Jerry, his eyes beginning to twinkle.

Stumpy looked at him suspiciously. "What do you mean?" he demanded.

"What makes the Smiling Pool?" asker Jerry in his turn.

"Water," replied Stumpy promptly. "Every one knows that."

"Well," explained Jerry, "that roof as you call it, is made of water, too."

"It can't be," retorted Stumpy very promptly. "Water isn't hard and that roof is the hardest thing I ever bumped against."

"It is made of water just the same," declared Jerry. "It is called ice, but ice is nothing but water made hard by cold and Jack Frost is the one who has done this thing I thought last night that he would be busy while we were sleeping, so I am not surprised at the news."

"How does Jack Frost do it?" Stumpy asked, for he wasn't yet quite sure that Jerry wasn't teasing him.

"That I don't know," replied Jerry frankly. "He does a little at a time. He begins along the shore. First, there is the thinnest kind of a covering on the surface of the water. It is clear like water, because, you see, it is water. Jack Frost carries it out and out until finally the whole of the Smiling Pool is covered. Then he begins to make that covering, which is called ice, thicker. All the time he is at work it grows thicker and thicker until sometimes most of the water in the Smiling Pool has been turned to ice. That is why the entrance tunnel to this house is in the mud at the bottom of the Smiling Pool. As you know, the entrance to this tunnel is in the deepest part of the Smiling Pool. The water is so deep there that Jack Frost never does make ice of all of it and so we are never in danger of being frozen in."

Stumpy thought this over for a few minutes. Then he had another question: "Where does Jack Frost come from?"

"From way, way up in the far, far North," replied Jerry. "Of course, all I know is what I have heard from those who have been up there or who live up there and come down here once in a while in the winter. One of these is Whitey the Snowy Owl. He says that way up in the Far North there is ice all the time. I suppose Jack Frost spends the summer up there. Anyway, it doesn't matter where he comes from as long as he comes. I am glad he is here and has put a roof, as you call it, on the Smiling Pool."

Stumpy's eyes opened very wide. "I don't see anything to be glad about," said he. "It seems to me something to be sorry about. How are we to go swimming when we can't even put our noses above water to get a breath of fresh air?"

"We can always swim under the ice and part of the Laughing Brook is always open. You see, where water is moving fast Jack Frost cannot very well make ice of it. It is because the water of the Smiling Pool is still that he can put that rof of ice on it," explained Jerry.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

CHEMICAL ANALYSIS NOT A RELIABLE FOOD STANDARD

For many years it has been my contention that the final proof of the value of a food is not in the test tube of a laboratory but in the living bodies of human beings and animals.

Only a few years ago food chemists had arrived at the conclusion that the human body needed certain food substances for its nutrition, such as: proteins, fats, carbohydrates and minerals. These were the only substances that the chemists had been able to detect in foods. Other scientists, believing that proof is better than theory, fed rats and guinea pigs on apparently balanced rations of proteins, carbohydrates, fats and mineral elements and the animals died within a very short time. Thousands of experiments were used to prove that something was lacking in these foods even though the missing elements could not detected by any known chemical method.

This new method of examining foods by observing their effects upon living animals is called the biological method of food analysis. It has resulted in the discoveries of the vitamins, the effects of the different mineral elements upon the body, the great difference between the proteins of various foods, and many other facts about foods. The discoveries of chemists about foods are very important, but they should not be regarded as conclusive until tested by biological analysis.

When I first became interested in the healing art, about twenty-five years ago, I noticed that many babies were affected with scurvy and rickets, inflammation of the eyes, digestive disorders, and malnutrition. Nearly all of the babies so affected were artificially fed—a few were nursed, but a relatively small number. Naturally, the only conclusion was that something was wrong in their diets. The babies most severely affected were those living on cereals, gruels, sugar and either boiled or skimmed milk. I thought that the cereals and boiled milk were at fault and told mothers to avoid the cereals and to give only raw milk. The babies did much better on this diet, but still there was something lacking because the babies did not thrive quite as well as when nursing. After a number of experiments I found that when orange juice was used with cow's milk the babies fairly thrived and often did much better than when they were nursed. The reason for this was not apparent at the time, but the particular value was that this diet really worked for babies. The reason became apparent in later years when the vitamins were discovered by the biological experimenters, such as McCullom, Funk, Eijkman, Mendel, Hopkins, Steenbock and many others.

The fresh orange juice contains vitamins A, B and C, and the fresh whole milk contains large amounts of vitamin A and vitamin B, but not so much of vitamin C. The cereal and milk diet was deficient because: vitamin A was absent, producing an improper development and inflammation of the eyes; vitamin B was absent, producing a lack of growth, digestive disorders and nervousness; vitamin C was absent, producing scurvy, improper teeth formation and a lack of resistance to infectious diseases.

Biological experiments are still being conducted and new discoveries are being made. It is quite likely that some more very important discoveries will soon be made about vitamins, mineral elements and the food combinations for the greatest efficiency. The point I wish to make in this article is that practical observation is more important than theory and that the alimentary tract is the final test tube.

Occupational Researchers Dine Tonight

"Incorporation has come as the second great step in our two-year history," stated Dr. G. Vernon Bennett in speaking of the Society for Occupational Research of which he is sponsor and director. Dr. Bennett, who is also professor of education at the University of Southern California, said that the first step was the founding of the society in 1928 as an outgrowth of his class in vocational guidance.

Installation of officers will take place at a banquet tonight in the S. C. Student Union Building. Newly elected officers are: President, Thomas Elson, principal of Roosevelt High School, Los Angeles; vice-president, Bert F. Steelhead, chief counsellor of Hoover High School, Glendale. The retiring acting president is Frank E. Older of University of California at Los Angeles.

TIRE TRIO ENJOINED

Temporary injunction against D. W. Wynns, Sr., D. W. Wwnns, Jr., and A. W. Wynns, enjoining them from competing in the tire business with the Wynns Tire and Rubber Company was granted by Superior Judge Gates yesterday. It was contended by Attorney R. L. Haight for the plaintiff that the defendants sold their interest in the plaintiff company with the proviso that they would not engage in the same business, which, it is asserted, they proceeded to do.

THREE CLEARED IN FUNDS TRIAL

Two Costellos and Creasey Freed by Judge

Action Follows Closing of Case by State

Grand Theft Evidence Held to Be Insufficient

Eleven counts of grand theft charged against J. J. Costello, W. W. Costello and Frank Creasey were dismissed in Superior Judge Schmidt's court yesterday for lack of evidence after the prosecution had concluded presentation of its case.

The defendants, former executives of the Commonwealth Securities Company, were accused of misusing approximately $60,000 of funds investors had handed them to use in purchasing stocks.

The dismissal came just before the defense was scheduled to open its case. Judge Schmidt held with the defense motion that the prosecution had failed to show that any one of the defendants had been guilty of the crime charged.

According to the defendants, they are perfecting plans for reorganization of the company which may result in its complete rehabilitation.

LIQUOR PENALTIES IMPOSED

John Onofrio and John Carriero pleaded guilty yesterday in United States District Judge Hasel's court to a charge of selling liquor on three different occasions. They were sentenced to a year in the County Jail and to pay fines of $1000. Pete Perry also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the County Jail for six months.

GIRL HUNTED IN DEATH CASE

Mysterious "Birdie" Said to Have Written That She Saw Vera Nelson Attempt Own Operation

Search for a mysterious girl named Birdie was started yesterday by attorneys representing Dr. William C. Fiske, on trial before Superior Judge Hardy for the death of Miss Vera Nelson as a result of her death from an operation asserted to have been illegal. The search is a final effort to prove the 72-year-old physician's innocence.

Birdie, it is charged, wrote a letter which bore no address and sent it to Judge Hardy, stating that the writer was a personal friend of Miss Nelson and witnessed the girl attempt to perform an illegal operation upon herself before she went to Dr. Fiske's office.

Dr. Fiske's trial is expected to close some time today, virtually all of the testimony already being in. As soon as the last witness testifies, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, prosecuting the case, will make the opening argument. He will be followed by Phillip Gibson, defense attorney.

Yesterday the defense called three physicians as witnesses. They testified that the girl's death easily could have been caused from complications from which she was suffering when she first called at his office, 57 Pier avenue, Hermosa Beach.

Officers charge that when Dr. Fiske found that the girl could not survive he attempted to end his own life by taking gas.

DAUGHTER FIGHTS WILL OF MOTHER

Bequest by Mrs. Blakely of $10,000 to Friend Laid to Unsound Mind

To prevent Mrs. Mathilda Stringer, her mother's friend, from inheriting $10,000 from the estate of Mrs. Katherine Wagner Blakely, Miss Katherine Blakely, college woman, took the stand in Superior Judge Warne's court yesterday.

Mrs. Blakely left the bulk of her $100,000 estate to her daughter, who asserts that the elder woman was of unsound mind when she made her will, January 16, last.

"Mother seemed to lose interest in worldly things about that time," said Miss Blakely, when questioned by her attorneys. "She seemed to be possessed by the hallucination that she had a great deal more money than she did, and appeared to be under the influence of Mrs. Stringer, who attended her in her last illness." The case will be continued today.

DELAWARE FOLK TO MEET

Former residents of Delaware are to meet for dinner and an informal program Monday evening in the cafeteria at 542 South Broadway.

PASADENANS TO BE GUESTS

Miss Ella Stevers, director of physical education at the Young Women's Christian Association, 941 South Figueroa street, this morning will have as her guests there the members of the gymnasium class of the Pasadena branch. Following a lesson in systematic exercises the visitors will be taught tap dancing by Miss Elizabeth Beam. A new term in health education will begin at the local institution, January 5, 1931.

UNIVERSAL CASTS STAGE STARS

Sidney Fox, Rose Hobart to Appear in Henley Film; Edgar Selwyn Reported Signing With Radio Company; Mary Pickford Works Again in March

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Hobart Henley is busy assembling his cast for Universal's "Gambling Daughters," which he is to direct as his last picture for that organization before returning to Warner Brothers, where he is under contract.

Sidney Fox, Universal's recently acquired Broadway actress, is to play the star role, according to present plans, while another featured lead will be undertaken by Rose Hobart, who distinguished herself in "Liliom."

Neil Hamilton, we learn, will play one of the three leading male roles, and Helen Jerome Eddy is likewise slated for an important role.

Carl Laemmle, Jr., is working day and night these days, planning for next year's production activities, which are to start immediately after the short vacation which Universal will take along during the holiday season.

As soon as Henley finishes "Gambling Daughters" he will return to Warners, where he will direct "Beauty and the Boss," adapted from a story called "Jack Daw's Strut."

This will be Sidney Fox's first role under her Universal contract. Miss Fox has been appearing in "Lost Sheep" in New York.

SELWYN SLATED TO JOIN RADIO FILMS

Reports are to the effect that Edgar Selwyn, noted playwright and theatrical producer, and quite possibly his beautiful and talented actress-wife, are to join Radio Pictures.

It is known that Mrs. Selwyn has been lately in conference with William Le Baron.

Selwyn is at present beginning work on a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, as director and supervisor, but is under a picture-to-picture contract.

Mary and Doug Agree

Remaining in town for the holidays, according to the wish of Mary Pickford, Miss Pickford has consented, like a good little wife, to fulfill her husband's desire to have her company in travel following the holidays.

MARY PICKFORD

Miss Pickford is relinquishing her notion of at once beginning work on a new picture in order to accompany Douglas Fairbanks in a long voyage. However, the two have not yet made up their minds where they want to go, whether to Spain, Italy, Russia or the South Seas.

Mary does not expect to start work on another picture until March, and though she is reading stories she has not made up her mind as to what her next vehicle will be.

Reisner Directs Dressler

Charles Reisner has just signed a new long-term contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, according to an announcement.

MARIE DRESSLER

And not only this, but Reisner's next assignment will be the pleasant one of directing Marie Dressler in "The Toast of the Town." The story was written by Edgar Allan Woolf.

Reisner has worked with Miss Dressler before. He directed the gifted actress and Polly Moran in "Caught Short" and other pictures for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

June McCloy With Oakie

It looks as though June McCloy isn't to have an idle moment, now that she has begun work in the talkers.

And she can't seem to get away from the moon. Having just finished her role with Douglas Fairbanks in his United Artists picture, "Reaching for the Moon," Miss McCloy has returned to Paramount, to which concern she is under contract, and has been given a featured role in Jack Oakie's next starring vehicle, "June Moon."

Frances Dee is leading lady in the picture, while Wynne Gibson and others will have important roles.

Edward Sutherland will direct the picture.

Gilbert Emery Gets Role

A bad case of influenza suffered by H. B. Warner has been the cause of Radio's finding it necessary to replace him with another actor.

Gilbert Emery has been cast, therefore, in the leading male role of Radio's "Ladies for Hire," in which Betty Compson is being starred.

Radio held up production on the picture for several days in order to give Warner a chance to recover, but it was found that the picture could no longer be delayed, so Emery, who has a fine stage and screen record to his credit, has been signed.

Paul Cavanagh With Paramount

Ruth Chatterton is to have a glorious wealth of leading men in her next picture.

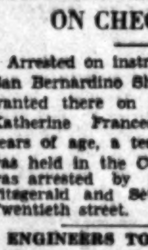
Paul Cavanagh, English stage star, whose work on Broadway in "Scotland Yard" last season brought him into talking pictures, has been assigned one of the three leading male roles opposite Miss Chatterton in her next Paramount vehicle, "New Morals."

Cavanagh, who had important parts in "Grumpy" and "The Virtuous Sin," is to portray the English hero whom Miss Chatterton, as an American girl, marries.

John Van Druten, author of "Young Woodley" and others, wrote "New Morals." Eve Unsell is preparing the continuity.

Daphne Pollard With Radio

I don't see how Daphne Pillard is getting a minute, these days, to do her Christmas shopping.



DAPHNE POLLARD

The tiny English comedienne is signed for pictures with Pathe and Universal, and yesterday we received word that she is also signed for the leading feminine comedy role in "Ladies For Hire," which Radio is to produce, with Betty Compson starred.

John Darrow has the leading male role, while Margaret Livingston and Noel Francis have featured parts.

HOME DEFENDED AT TWO-FOR-A-QUARTER

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—A fine of 12½ cents each for firing two shots at his wife's asserted wooer was imposed on Bruce W. Scott of 430 Platt street by Municipal Court Judge Wallace today. Later the judge suspended the sentence. The man at whom Scott fired and missed is Al Owens, a neighbor. Testimony in court was that Mrs. Scott had confessed accepting Owens's attentions.

TEACHER ARRESTED ON CHECK CHARGE

Arrested on instructions from the San Bernardino Sheriff that she is wanted there on a check charge, Katherine Frances Caughlin, 31 years of age, a teacher, last night was held in the County Jail. She was arrested by Deputy Sheriffs Fitzgerald and Seth at 525 West Twentieth street.

ENGINEERS TO SEE MAGIC

The American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold its next dinner meeting Wednesday evening the 17th inst., at 833 South Spring street. Dr. Mars F. Baumgardt is to give a nontechnical, illustrated lecture on "The ABC of Astronomy." Tricks of magic will be demonstrated by Barkann Rosinoff and music will be provided by a trio from Malavsky's orchestra.

DR. FLETCHER TO SPEAK

Dr. Harvey Fletcher, president of the Acoustical Society of America and director of acoustic research at the Bell Telephone Laboratories, will address an open meeting at the University of Southern California today at 11 a.m. in Room 206 of the Administration Building. Dr. Fletcher is presented through the joint auspices of the college of engineering and the physics department.

An OPEN LETTER from JOSEPH M. SCHENCK

During a quarter century in the show world I have never publicly urged recognition of a motion picture.

Today I find it a pleasure, an honor and a duty to call your attention to the most important picture of our times . . . D. W. Griffith's magnificent dramatization of the foremost figure in American civilization . . . "Abraham Lincoln".

This is not a pictured biography of a character in history . . . rather it is the powerfully romantic story of a great human being who loved and fought and met life with sublime humor.

Everyone should see Walter Huston in this manly role because it is ennobling and heart-warming entertainment that is unforgettable. And in the roster of supporting players are such splendid artists as Una Merkel, Hobart Bosworth, Henry B. Walthall, Kay Hammond, Ian Keith, and others.

This is D. W. Griffith's first talking production and it surpasses all his living dramas of the past. Were it not that United Artists is fostering the highest principles of the film industry, this picture would have been shown at advanced admission prices.

But, because we honestly want the public to enjoy this immortal story of a hero's heart and soul unhampered, we are presenting it at popular prices at the United Artists Theatre.

Sincerely,
Joseph M. Schenck

I doubt if the American stage or screen of our generation has given us anyone to compare with Marie Dressler in point of sheer humanity, or what I feel to be greatness of soul. People are sorely in need of having their tense heads and barren hearts filled with the quality of laughter and good will which Miss Dressler exudes.

"Paid," Adapted From "Within Law," Shows

Joan Crawford Captures With Emotion in Role

Robert Armstrong and Others in Effective Work

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Joan Crawford holds her audience with a valiant emotional portrayal in "Paid." Indeed, she has a large quota of the audiences who are beholding this revival of an old Bayard Veiller melodrama, "Within the Law," in tears. And if you feel in the weepy mood you may join in at the Criterion Theater, where the feature is showing.

Undeniably, "Paid" is both a gripping and an intriguing story. It has strong dramatic scenes culled right out of the original plot, and the adaptation has been very well done. As talkies go, it is one of the best in theatrical effect. Situations are neatly contrived, and the direction is pat, while several of the performances, notably those by Robert Armstrong, Kent Douglass, Marie Prevost and John Miljan, are bound to enthrall.

I like the work of Miss Crawford. There is so much to commend it in so many scenes. She is acquiring a greater sincerity and a definite power in her interpretations of character. The Mary Turner of the picture as she visualizes her, is both attractive and interesting. The one fault is that the impersonation is, at times, overstressed. A great plea for sympathy is made, perhaps too much, and this is evidenced as much in an occasionally overdone make-up as it is in the acting itself.

Nevertheless, for popular approval Miss Crawford's enacting of the role is excellent. She will win a large following by the picture, I am sure.

There is something to look forward to in the future work done by Kent Douglass, known on the stage as Douglas Montgomery. This young chap has a lot of authority about his acting for a juvenile type, and not particularly the camera type either. He is going to go great, I would say, as a youthful character star.

Robert Armstrong rises to a genuine height in his acting of the Joe Garson role—the murderer who confesses to save the heroine. No overdoing of the sympathy here. Armstrong plays this part with an earnestness and force that tell at every point.

Marie Prevost is the spice of comedy in the picture. She will be a great hit. Miljan, O'Connor, George Cooper, are all aptly cast, with Cooper gaining the most honors, partly because of his role.

The treatment of the original plot of "Within the Law" is clever, if sketchy. I imagine the sketchiness is due to fear of the censors. Too much stress could not be put on the plot's blackmailing phase.

In that connection, it might be remarked that the theme of the picture is much less inviting than it was when Veiller's play was originally written. The public has a different attitude toward defiance of ethical standards not covered by law today than it had when "Within the Law" was first produced. But, of course, there is the victory of a kind for the equity and the law in the end.

Lucien Hubbard and Charles MacArthur were the adapters of the stage play, and MacArthur wrote the dialogue. Add to this Sam Wood's work as director for much of the creditableness of the feature's technique.

What a crude thing, though, to revive that old "witch" line with its implications emanating from the old Savoy and Brennan days. It doesn't even win a laugh. This and a few other small lapses will never interfere with the probable large success of this picture, however.

Grateful to the eye, and the ear as well, is the newest Silly Symphony, "Playful Pan." Pan has all the birds and bees and trees dancing to his tunes, and finally he even puts out the menacing forest fire by drawing it into a lake after the fashion of the Pied Piper. Rare imagination is again evidenced in this Walt Disney bit of art.

GRIFFITH FILM DUE TOMORROW

"Lincoln," to Be Screened at United Artists; Walter Huston Starred

"Lincoln" will be screened at the United Artists' Theater tomorrow morning. This David W. Griffith masterpiece is said to be the result of inspired work on the part of a great director.

WALTER HUSTON

The cast of "Lincoln" is noteworthy. Walter Huston enacts the role of the Great Emancipator. Others are Lucille La Verne, Kay Hammond, Una Merkel, Helen Ware, Jason Robards, Oscar Apfel, Hobart Bosworth and Henry B. Walthall.

The surrounding program selected includes a Paramount comedy, a song cartoon, sound news and Gaylord Carter playing an organ novelty.

ACTRESS MAKES ROUNDS

Lilyan Tashman has completed the rounds of all the major studios this year. So far she has appeared in pictures at United Artists, First National, Warner Brothers, M.-G.-M., Universal and R.-K.-O. Her latest is "Pin and Hattie Abroad," in support of Leon Errol.

HALL PLANS REST

James Hall, who has just completed the leading masculine role opposite Helen Twelvetrees in "Millie" for Charles Rogers, plans to take a rest until after the first of the year.

Exotic Actress Wins Film Honors

Mary Duncan

Whose appearances on the screen have been all too infrequent to suit her many followers, plays a leading role in "The Boudoir Diplomat," which starts at the Orpheum Theater Saturday.

DRAMA CAST COMPLETE

Contracts have been closed by the Civic Repertory organization for a half-dozen additional artists to appear in "Peter Pan," opening at the Music Box Theater Monday. This completes the cast for the revival of the Barrie play.

Prominent among the players engaged is William Heughan, basso of Covent Garden for many years, who is vacationing in California. He will make his California debut in the frolicksome role of the Great Big Little Panther.

Heughan applied to Paul Irving, supervising director, for a try at the role of Capt. Hook. It fitted nicely into the category of the singer who had done both the Gounod and Boito Mephisto 170 times at various European operahouses. But the role already had been allotted to Boyd Irwin.

"Sorry," said Irving. "We have one sinister, sonorous role still open, but it's a comparatively small one and we won't ask you to consider it. The role is that of the Great Big Little Panther." Heughan took the part.

Mary Stuart, wife of Garrett Fort, prominent screen scenarist, has been signed to play the role of Tiger Lily and Doris Whitney that of Mrs. Darling.

Maya Riviere, who is staging the dances in "Peter Pan," added to her responsibilities yesterday by agreeing to repeat her characterization of the Ostrich, which won widespread comment when she introduced it originally in the "Peter Pan" production of Eva Le Gallienne in New York.

Two juvenile artists who affixed signatures to contracts were Billy Seay, to play Michael, and June Bennett, cast as Eliza.

Adviser on Near West Supervises Film at Chinese

A man who knows his desert battles is Toofik Simon, albeit most of his fighting has been done on the hot sands of Oxnard, Cal.

Simon has served as technical adviser on practically every film of importance having to do with the Near West since "The Black Watch." His most recent work was on "Morocco," currently playing at the Chinese Theater.

Simon is a musician and dancer by profession. However, his services with picture companies were in such demand that he temporarily deserted his arts. An accidental powder discharge during the making of "Renegades" temporarily crippled his right arm, and he returned to his profession in earnest.

His strange orchestra entertains in the forecourt of the theater preceding each performance as well as in the prologue.

William Boyd Gets New Role

William Boyd, erstwhile star of the stage, has been signed for a role opposite Richard Arlen in Paramount's "The Westerner."

Boyd has appeared in three consecutive pictures for Paramount, and the new assignment represents his twelfth role since joining the screen colony a year ago. He was in "The Benson Murder Case," "The Spoilers," "Derelict" and "The Gang Buster" for Paramount.

FAVORITE PLAYS ROLE IN "HOLIDAY"

Mary Astor

"Holiday," Pathe's story of sophisticated romance, comes to Loew's State Theater today. The film was taken from Philip Barry's sparkling stage play and is said to retain all the wit and polish of the original piece.

Ann Harding, the star, is supported in "Holiday" by an unusually strong cast, including Mary Astor, Robert Ames, Edward Everett Horton, Hedda Hopper and Monroe Owsley. E. H. Griffith directed.

On the stage Sammy Lee, stage director, presents his initial Panchon and Marco idea, "Topical Tunes."

Gangland Story Completing Run at Two Houses

"The Doorway to Hell" having broken records in its simultaneous showing at Warner Brothers' Downtown and Hollywood theaters, ends its engagement today.

Lew Ayres plays the leading role and has furthered his career by the portrayal of the baby-faced gang leader in this gang-war production, it is said.

Starting tomorrow, Warner Brothers' Downtown Theater will present "A Soldier's Plaything," from the original story by Vina Delmar, dealing with the lives of American soldiers who comprised the army of occupation in Germany after the war. Harry Langdon is featured. There is romance in the background between Ben Lyon and Lotti Loder. Also included in the cast are Noah Beery, Fred Kohler, Jean Hersholt, Frank Campeau, Lee Moran and Marie Astaire. Michael Curtis directed. The dialogue was written by Arthur Caesar.

Fog Screen Laid for Marine Film

The film tells a sea-going story, in which much of the action hinges on a collision of two ships in a fog at sea. A chemical smoke screen formula was secured from the United States Navy Department; a large speedboat was equipped with gas drums and paraphernalia, and a fog, perfectly natural and capable of being controlled, was at the command of Director Rowland V. Lee.

The vaudeville offering includes Rita and Rubin with Betty Dean in "A Dance Escapade," the Spencer Williams Trio in "Laughter, Ltd.," Harry Hayden and Company in "Take My Advice," Montgomery & McDowell in "Styles in Steps," and Jeanette Man.

"Renegades" at Pantages Today

Warner Baxter plays a former French officer who joins the Foreign Legion in "Renegades," the picture starting today at Pantages Hollywood Theater. Baxter is betrayed by a woman spy, played by Myrna Loy, and seeks adventure.

Noah Beery, George Cooper and Gregory Gaye are seen as Baxter's three faithful companions in the Foreign Legion. Victor Fleming directed.

Evolution of the dance from the stone age to the latest Broadway musical is said to be depicted in Panchon and Marco's "Dance Idea." Le Roy Prinz staged the show, described as original and entertaining. Slim Martin and the orchestra supply the musical offering.

HAROLDE NOW VILLAIN

Ralf Harolde, whose latest deeds of villainy are carried on in R.-K.-O.'s "Hook, Line and Sinker," has another similar role opposite Evelyn Brent in "Kept Husbands."

BACKWOODS YARN TOLD ON SCREEN

Richard Cromwell, Joan Peers Featured in Film Starting at R.-K.-O.

Based on the heroism of a naive, idealistic lad who is rudely thrust into the estate of manhood to avenge the death of kin against uncouth cowards in a Kentucky backwoods feud, the talking screen version of "Tol'able David" reaches the screen today at the R.-K.-O. Theater.

Richard Cromwell, local boy who was chosen from 172 players for the part, plays the name role. Joan Peers, winsome lead in Joe Cook's "Rain or Shine," is seen as the hero's sweetheart. Noah Beery, veteran film villain; Henry B. Walthall, stage and screen character actor, and Helen Ware are featured in the supporting cast.

Offered by the management as one of its outstanding stage shows, the unit headed by Buster West, "rubber-jointed" comic who starred in Sid Grauman's "Broadway Melody" prologue, supplements the Columbia special.

PLAY SHOP OFFERS STRINDBERG DRAMA

Sheldon Lewis Wins Honors in "Father;" Remainder of Cast Competent

BY KATHERINE T. VON BLON

August Strindberg's "The Father," now playing at Ralph Herman's Play Shop, conjures an art which contains nothing of hedonism within its vitals, but rather a passion for truth.

Like Nietzsche, the Swedish dramatist, senses the intimacy of the fireside as truly an arena, in which love utilizes its every strategic expedient in the eternal warfare of the sexes for supremacy. Woman, as Strindberg envisions her, refuses to, be possessed, but becomes, rather the possessor. Indeed, he picture love in woman as but a superegotism which sees in man only an avenue for her own self-expression. All sentimentality, with its beauty of self-sacrifice, its sublimity of abnegation is drowned in the terrific fatalism and cynicism of the dramatist who translates love into the insatiable desire of nature.

In "The Father," an idealistic genius is despoiled of his gifts of virtuosity through the engulfing depotism of a matriarchal tyrant. Torn from his pedestal of masculine strength, he becomes a pathetic creature beset by doubt and conflicting desires, until gradually his will is undermined and he becomes the unbalanced creature which his wife wishes him to be.

Despite the fact that Strindberg is the apostle of morbidity, a decadent perhaps in mental processes, the drama holds through the sheer strength of its unalloyed sincerity.

"The Father" was drawn with a poignant realism by Sheldon Lewis, who revealed every facet of his humanity in his portrayal of the pitiful victim of woman's domination. The intensity and emotional appeal of his voice in its varying inflection held the audience under a spell. Mary Jeffery's characterization as Laura, the wife, was realized with fine sincerity and terrible candor. Bruno Barnabe acted with finesse and made his part individually human. Farrah Bisson was tenderly sympathetic as the nurse. Direction was by Ole M. Ness, and others who acquitted themselves well were Edith Agins, Charles W. Mack, Van Noy Davis and Richard Beach.

New Program Starts Today at Paramount

Entertainment reigns at the Paramount Theater today. The screen feature is "Along Came Youth," with Charles Rogers, Frances Dee, Stuart Erwin and William Austin.

FRANCES DEE

Headed by the Rhythm Boys of the Cocoanut Grove orchestra, the stage fare features another gala show, "Harem Hokum," direct from the Paramount Theater in New York. Forty people assist in the production.

"Along Came Youth" is a Paramount comedy romance. Oscar Baum, guest conductor of the Paramount orchestra, wields the baton again. The new overture is entitled "Martha."

Earl Abel will be at the Paramount organ, and a Paramount sound news and comedy round out the bill.

Carlotta King to Make Opera Debut in North

Carlotta King, best remembered locally for her outstanding work in the screen version of "The Desert Song" and on the stage in "Oh, Susanna," has signed a contract to make her grand opera debut in January, according to advices from the East.

Miss King will sing the name role in "Manon" and Marguerite in "Faust" in Montreal, Toronto, Quebec and Ottawa.

Critics are predicting a fine future for the singer, it is said.

NEW ROLE POSTPONED

Because her contract with the Liberty studio calls for a thirty-day notice before beginning work, Marion Nixon will not start on "Women Like Men" for that company until after the first of the year.

GRAND JURORS TO HEAR CASEY

Huntington Park Financier Slated for Quiz Today

Evidence concerning the asserted wrecking of the Casey Investment Company of Huntington Park, which District Attorney's investigators state may cause a loss to investors of more than $150,000, will be placed before the county grand jury today and an indictment charging five counts of grand theft will be asked against Thomas M. Casey, founder and president of the concern.

For more than a week Casey has been under investigation, officers charging that he had forged trust deeds and other negotiable securities, selling them to innocent investors for approximately $150,000.

Casey told a story of having served a prison term in Missouri more than twenty-five years ago for defrauding a bank through forgery. He then came to Los Angeles, Casey said, to start over, and eventually built up a profitable business in Huntington Park.

But former creditors in Missouri heard of his new prosperity and demanded payment of their old losses, threatening to expose his former difficulty and prison record, Casey said, so he again resorted to forgery to meet their demands.

After making this statement, however, Casey declined to name those whom he says extorted money from him. Meanwhile the defendant has been charged with one count of grand theft in a complaint filed by the District Attorney's office. He made a full statement of his business dealings since coming to California.

Casey probably will be the only witness to appear before the grand jury today.

BOYS ESCAPE FUME DEATH

Arthur Patten, 8 years of age, and his brother Frank, 6, yesterday narrowly escaped death from carbon monoxide fumes generated by a gas heater in their home at 236 Howland Canal, Venice.

They were overcome while dressing for school. Their mother, in an adjoining room, heard them gasp and carried them into the fresh air. They were revived at Venice Emergency Hospital.

LECTURE ON AFRICA

Addressing the Faculty Men's Club of the University of Southern California, Dr. R. F. A. Hoernle, visiting professor of philosophy from Witwatersrand University, Johannesburg, South Africa, will speak on "The Native Problem in South Africa" today at 8 p.m. in the Student Union.

Wife Set Free After Waiting Twenty Years

Twenty years of waiting for a husband to return convinced Mrs. Rose A. Hammond that her waiting was in vain, according to her testimony yesterday when she obtained a divorce from John W. Hammond on grounds of desertion.

"We were married May 1, 1887," Mrs. Hammond testified. "Four children born to us now are all grown up. On July 1, 1910, my husband went away. He never came back, and I have waited all these years, hoping that he would change his mind and return."

Superior Judge Wilson granted her a decree. Attorney F. W. Turcotte represented Mrs. Hammond.

ROYALTIES ON SONGS OF INTEREST TO WIFE

Mrs. Ruby Brown

Mrs. Ruby Brown, wife of Ignacio Herbert Brown, song writer, went to Superior Judge Valentine's court yesterday to see about an item of $50,000 which she suspects Brown has not impounded as he was directed to do by order of the court.

Mrs. Brown's attorney, Roger Marchetti, asserted Brown collected $50,000 in song royalties and didn't account for them to the court. Because Brown's attorney, Milton Cohen, is absent in Mexico, the suit was continued until next Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Brown has sued Mrs. Brown, asserting she has not lived up to the terms of a separation agreement. He demands repayment of a $200,000 settlement he gave her.

NEW PLAN TO TAX OIL PROPOSED

Levy of One-half Cent Per Barrel Suggested by Council Committee

A compromise plan for taxing oil production in the city has been evolved by the Finance Committee and will be proposed at the session of the City Council this morning, Councilman Cooke stated yesterday.

The plan calls for a tax of one-half cent on each barrel of oil.

"This small tax will not be an imposition upon the industry," said Col. Cooke. "The revenue derived will be devoted to fire and police protection in the Venice oil field area, as well as street maintenance and necessary improvements."

The original tax plan called for 1 per cent of gross income. Oil producers fought this proposal and suggested a derrick tax instead. The committee dropped the derrick tax scheme.

Mexican Group Sends Medal to Cecil De Mille

The first token of appreciation ever given by the motion-picture exhibitors of Mexico to an American producer was presented to Cecil B. De Mille yesterday at his home in Hollywood by Juan Pezet, representing a theater-owners' committee. He presented to De Mille a gold medal and an accompanying certificate on parchment in appreciation of his work in producing the "Kings of Kings."

According to Pezet, the money for the medal and parchment, which was designed by the Mexican artist, Garcia Garbral, came from voluntary contributions of theater owners in sixty of the principal cities of Mexico.

On the front of the medal, carved in relief, is an Indian of Mexico, in an action pose, against a background of mountains with and inscription around the edge. The reverse shows a likeness of De Mille, with six diamonds inset in the design. Pezet made his trip to this city for the express purpose of making the presentation.

He went to De Mille's home, where the latter is recuperating from an operation for appendicitis. De Mille is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer director.

Course Offers Topics of Test

Opportunity to prepare for the real estate examination necessary for those salesmen whose temporary licenses expire the 31st inst., is reported afforded through the correspondence study department of the University of Southern California which presents a course in real estate for salesmen, in which topics of the examination are discussed in eight lessons. Information concerning the course may be obtained at 1306 Transportation Building.

PROTESTS TURNED DOWN

Protests against the improvement of Allen street between Ripple street and Clearwater street were denied yesterday by the City Council. Assessments were confirmed for the improvement of Stoner avenue between Iowa and Nebraska avenues. Consideration of the assessments for the improvement of streets in the Barrington avenue and Rochester avenue district was continued until January 20, next, with the Public Works Committee conducting a hearing on the awards in the meanwhile.

LAST SPARK OF ROMANCE BLOWN OUT

Marriage That Attracted Wide Attention Declared Illegal After Seven Years

A romance which attracted wide attention when it flamed across half the continent to Los Angeles yesterday expired in Superior Judge Collier's court where Graham C. Polk won an annulment of his marriage to Lucille Orchard Polk. Judge Collier granted the annulment on the grounds that when the two married at Seal Beach, Orange county, October 30, 1924, the bride still was the wife of Elta Orchard, oil producer. She had obtained an interlocutory decree October 23, 1923, which was not made final until October 24, 1924.

The judge used a microscope to study the marriage certificate offered in evidence, upon which the date of marriage was written as "October 29, 1924." Judge Collier expressed the belief that the date was written in different ink from the rest of the certificate.

The wife, known on the stage as Lucille de Nevier, has been married three times. In 1917 she divorced C. F. Durkis, formerly Mayor of Little Rock, Ark. In February, 1919, she separated from Orchard after he was shot through the head. Later they were reunited. Robbers bound and gagged her in September, 1919, robbing her of $30,000 worth of jewelry. She went to recuperate at Excelsior Springs, where she met Polk.

Wife Charges Death Threat

Mrs. Mamie Boal yesterday sued her husband, John Henry Boal, for divorce, and in addition asked that he be restrained from spending about $60,000 due him for commissions, which, she said, she feared he would squander, preventing her from collecting her community share of it.

Mrs. Boal asserted she had to pawn her jewels to support herself and her husband, after he had beaten her and threatened to kill her. The couple were married February 1, 1927, and separated December 3, last, the complaint set out.

PENNSYLVANIANS TO RALLY

President Al Datz of the Old Time Pennsylvania Society, announces a rally for Tuesday evening at Fraternal Brotherhood Hall, 845 South Figueroa street. There will be a vaudeville program and dancing.

Party Planned for Cripples

A Christmas party for children of the Orthopedic Hospital school will be held tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at the Shell Christmas circus, Wilshire Boulevard and Catalina street. LeRoy Owen, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will preside.

Don B. Miller, superintendent of the Union Pacific Stages, will introduce the children to Santa Claus.

KALAMAZOO (Mich.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Mrs. Wade Killefer, wife of the manager and part owner of the San Francisco Mission baseball club of the Pacific Coast League, arrived in Kalamazoo by airplane from Los Angeles, today, to be with her husband, now recovering from an operation in a Kalamazoo hospital. She made the trip in forty-eight hours.

Killefer, who started his baseball career in Southern Michigan more than twenty years ago, was taken ill on a train en route home from Montreal, where he had attended a minor league baseball meeting, and was taken from the train here Monday. He underwent a major operation the same day. His condition was said at the hospital to be satisfactory.

Shea Whips La Barba in Slashing Bout

IN PIGSKIN LIMELIGHT

Here are three members of the Redondo Seahawks, who meet Long Beach Saturday afternoon in the Coliseum for the Southern California prep football championship. The two hefty individuals at the top are Herman Garbe, star center, and Maynard (Fat) Henry, guard; while the lad about to get off a pass is none other than Walt (Dynamite) Schell, one of the most-talked-of prep athletes in Southern California. Schell plays full for the Seahawks and does all the kicking, most of the passing and line-plunging, while his defensive work is also above par. Schell is the closest to Orv Mohler seen in prep ranks since the elusive "Alhambra Assassin" led the Moors to the Southland title in 1928.

LONG BEACH OUT TO WIN PREP TITLE

Jackrabbits Have Taken Three Southland Pigskin Championships

BY IRVING ECKHOFF

Tradition will be on the side of Coach Orian Landreth's Long Beach Jackrabbits when they defend their Southern California prep football championship against the strong Redondo Seahawks in the Coliseum Saturday afternoon.

ORIAN LANDRETH

Only once since the Southland prep classic was inaugurated in 1916 has a Bay League eleven gone through to the championship. That was in 1920 when Max Berg's powerful Santa Monica outfit swept to the title.

The Coast League has been by far the most consistent winner in the grid series, winning approximately nine times in fourteen tries. Long Beach has cashed in on three prep championships, in 1919, '23 and '29 and will be favored to take its fourth title on Saturday.

Redondo has never won a Southern California grid championship and will carry the hopes of the entire Bay League into the game.

Coach Orian Landreth's eleven is not considered as strong as the one that captured the crown last year, the Jackrabbit line being much weaker than last season's forward wall. The Long Beach backfield, however, is much stronger, having Norman (Red) Franklin at quarter, Johnny Morrow and Don Schupp at halves and Ralph Bradley at full. Besides those four sterling ball packers Landreth has Capt. Russ Sweet and Cecil Storey in reserve.

Landreth usually starts Franklin and Bradley and when the opposition wears down inserts Sweet and Storey much after the fashion of "Head Man" Jones at S.C., who employs Mohler and Shaver to take the fort after the starters have done their chores.

"Red" Franklin is undoubtedly one of the best backs in prep ranks and is liable to steal part of "Dynamite" Schell's thunder. Schell, who tips the beam at 215 pounds and is 6 feet 4 1-4 inches tall, is the main cog in the Redondo offense.

DECISION STUNS CALIFORNIA BOY

Rain of Body Blows Wears Down Angeleno

Booes Turned Into Cheers by Surprised Fans

Jackie Fields Beats Pirrone as 12,000 Look On

BY CHARLES W. DUNKLEY
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 10. (AP)—Eddie Shea, rough-and-ready Italian youngster from Chicago, bounded into the front ranks of featherweight challengers tonight when he was awarded a ten-round decision over Fidel La Barba of Los Angeles.

FIDEL LA BARBA

Patsy Haley of New York, the referee, unhesitatingly raised Shea's right hand in victory after the ten rounds of ripping and tearing fighting. The decision seemed to surprise the 12,000 spectators who first greeted it with booes and then broke into cheering.

La Barba, rated as an outstanding challenger for the title, appeared to be stunned by the decision. The Pacific Coast boy fought a rough and aggressive opponent in Shea, who continually bored in, ripping his arms to the body like pistons. He rushed La Barba to the ropes a half dozen times under a heavy body punishing attack.

TORRID ATTACK

Shea's big offensive was in the fifth round when he opened up in a flashy spurt to drive La Barba to the ropes. He scored repeatedly with short body punches and left hooks to the head. From then on to the finish he kept crowding La Barba, who appeared to tire under the heavy pace.

The battle was one of three ten-rounders sponsored by the Cleveland News to raise funds for Christmas charity. The match, attracting the largest crowd that ever saw a boxing show in Cleveland, drew $48,360, of which a profit of $19,000 will be used to buy clothing, toys and food for needy children.

Shea weighed 126 pounds with La Barba coming in at 124 3-4.

Fields, flashing superior speed and boxing skill, won nine of the ten rounds, to receive Referee Matt Brock's verdict.

TOO CLEVER

The former titleholder was entirely too clever for the rugged Cleveland boxer. Pirrone was hanging on in the second and third round and again in the eighth and ninth, in an effort to escape Fields's blistering two-handed attack to the head and body.

Pirrone exhibited rare courage and a dangerous right-hand swing but was unable to connect with it except once in the seventh round. Fields weighed 146 3-4. Pirrone scaled 148 3-4.

U.S.S. Maryland Football Outfit Bows to Deep-Sea Divers by 10-0 Score in Clash for Battle Fleet Pigskin Honors Before 10,000 Gridiron Fans

The Maryland outfit put up a valiant fight, but the divers, who have won the fleet title for six consecutive years now, were a little too strong for them.

Following the game, Admiral Schofield, commander-in-chief of the battle fleet, presented the submarine team with the battle fleet trophy, and congratulated them on their wonderful performance. He then shook hands

SALARIES FOR COLLEGE ATHLETES IS PROPOSED

MARYSVILLE (Cal.) Dec. 10. (AP) A proposal to pay college athletes a salary was advanced here today by Curtis E. Warren, dean of the Yuba County Junior College.

"We must recognize the fact a football player, or any other sports star, is compelled to sacrifice time and energy which might be devoted to earning his way through college," he said.

"If he is willing to make this sacrifice, why shouldn't the school compensate him?

"Let colleges create athletic scholarships of a uniform sum—say $1000 a year.

"By agreement, limit these scholarships to a stipulated number and set amount. Then the high school star could choose his own college, and not the college the star."

Dean Warren said he expected criticism of his proposals, but said he saw no other way of playing fair with the athletes and preventing recurrent charges of professionalism.

Dean Warren is a graduate of the University of Southern California.

NEW WRESTLING KING CROWNED AT OLYMPIC

Youthful Gladiator Mounts Throne by Clamping Japanese Arm-Lock on Deposed Mat Champion

BY PAUL LOWRY

Don George, a former Michigan State College boy, who was a member of the last American Olympic Games team, is the new wrestling champion of the world.

The ex-collegian, who took up professional wrestling six months after graduation in 1928, achieved this distinction by beating Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg in two out of three falls at the Olympic last night.

DON GEORGE

A packed house of over 10,000 fans that went wild with delight saw George wear Sonnenberg down with a Japanese arm lock for the third and deciding fall.

George had all but torn Sonnenberg's left arm out of its socket with a hammerlock in winning the second fall, and when he continued to work on the injured member Sonnenberg grew weaker and weaker.

WILD OVATION

When Referee Don McDonald patted George's back in token of victory the fans leaped en masse to their feet and gave George a wild ovation.

The former college boy had won a world title seven months after he first appeared in a local ring as a rank preliminary boy.

And in winning, George stripped the crown from another ex-collegian, Sonnenberg, exponent of the flying tackle and an all-American gridiron player at Dartmouth ten years ago.

The flying tackle stood Sonnenberg in stead for just one hold—the first—last night. After the champion captured that hold with his favorite weapon in 14m 7s., it became a George evening.

With Coach Dean Cromwell in his corner as a second George went to work on Sonnenberg's left arm with all the crippling devices known to wrestling science.

He doubled it under and over, and twisted it into so many excruciating positions that Sonnenberg must have been glad to call it quits at the end of 20m. 30s. of grappling.

The hold went down in the rec-

Jack Agrees to Terms for Bout With Champion

BOSTON, Dec. 10. (AP) — Jack Sharkey, Boston heavyweight, today agreed to terms for a championship bout with Max Schmeling in New York next summer. Sharkey, who has been a free agent since his bout with Vittorio Campolo, also agreed, it was said by his managers, to meet the winner of the proposed Primo Carnera-Young Stribling bout in Miami next February.

GREENLEAF WINNER IN BILLIARDS PLAY

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—Ralph Greenleaf won his second match in defense of his world's pocket billiards title tonight, defeating Bennie Allen of Kansas City, 125 to 24, in sixteen innings. Greenleaf's best cluster was an unfinished run of 49, while Allen's high run was 13.

Arthur Woods of New York turned back Thomas Boatman of Portland, Or., 125 to 43, in nine innings, the second shortest game of the tournament.

Frank Taberski, the Schenectady (N. Y.) veteran former champion, fell before the erratic but daring shot making of Lauri, 125 to 76, in twenty-two innings.

Menlo J. C. Squad Comes South Tonight for State Championship Game With Comp

LACOMBE STAR FOR INVADERS

Frenchy Rated One of Best Halfbacks on Coast

Northerners Have Rolled Up 320 Points This Year

Tartars Will Be Underdogs in Battle Saturday

Coach Dud DeGroot and his undefeated Menlo Jaysees, Northern California title winners, leave Menlo Park tonight for the Southland in quest of the State junior college grid championship, for which crown they tangle with "Deacon" Pine's Compton eleven Saturday on the Tartars' field.

The Menlo squad, with Frenchy LaCombe, flashy halfback, as its ball-packing ace, has rolled up an impressive record this season and will probably take the field a favorite against the Compton eleven. So far this year the Menlans have chalked up 320 points to only 20 for their opponents. In their last seven games the Menlo gridders have not been scored on, and they chalked up 140 points in their conference clashes.

Aside from LaCombe, other stars on the invading outfit are Dee Shehtanian, sensational all-around athlete from Tulare High; Capt. Al Norgard, all-conference end; Jerry Whitaker, all-conference center, and "Peewee" Sandholdt, 158-pound replica of Bert Metzger, who is one of the outstanding guards in Northern California jaysee ranks.

Menlo won the Bay section title by trimming Marin J. C. and last Saturday defeated Bakersfield J. C., Central California champs, by a 13-to-0 score.

Assisting DeGroot in coaching the invading eleven are Russ Sweet, former Montana and Olympic Club star, and Herb Fleishhacker, ex-Stanford track and gridiron satellite.

With the knowledge that they'll be going into Saturday's game the underdogs, the Tartars are working hard out at Compton and hope to upset the dope. Coach Pine's gridders won the Southern California crown with a 20-to-14 victory over Riverside J. C. last Friday.

blocks as the Notre Dame conquerors came home from their last Saturday's victory over Southern California. Everyone was out and the crowd marched to the Notre Dame gymnasium where the school's greatest demonstration in all history was staged. The victory Saturday was the nineteenth straight win for Notre Dame.

Father Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., president of the university; Capt. Adam Walsh of the famous Notre Dame "Four Horsemen" crew of 1924; Johnny Law, captain of the undefeated 1929 eleven; members of the 1930 team and Rockne himself gave rousing speeches in the packed gymnasium.

BEST OF ALL

"We're so proud of you boys, we find it hard to express our happiness and gratitude," Father O'Donnell said. "We've had great football teams here at Notre Dame and great men, but we all take our hats off to you—probably the greatest team in our school's glorious history."

Rockne, worn out and almost on the verge of collapse, gave one of his witty talks as the large gymnasium rocked to its steel girders with applause.

"You were a great team," he told his players, "yet I'm not going to say you were greater than the teams of 1924, '25 and '29. They all ask me to compare you with the 'Four Horsemen,' but I can't. They ask a comparison of Harry Stuhldreher and Frank Carideo. But it's like asking a comparison between Caesar and Napoleon. You can't do it except to say that one of them wore his hat sideways."

Capt. Walsh paid tribute to the 1930 team as a greater team even than his own "Four Horsemen." "We may have been good," he said, "but you fellows were marvelous. We take our hats off to you."

South Bend belonged to Notre Dame students tonight. Snake dances, pep fests and parties were on the program for the night and far into the early hours of morning.

The celebration will wind up tomorrow night with the annual public banquet.

Coach Rockne said he would go through with his plan to coach the all-star Notre Dame team in the charity game with the New York Giants at New York Sunday and then go to the Mayo Brothers' Hospital at Rochester, Minn., for a thorough overhauling.

"I'm almost ready to break," he said. "My two legs are swollen again and the old pains are shooting through them. You know I sometimes find myself wishing that we would lose four or more games next year so we can all get a rest from the so-called overemphasis on football here at Notre Dame."

weight from Cleveland, outroughed and outfought Ray Miller, Chicago left hooker, to earn the referee's decision in their ten-rounder. Farr, outweighed seven pounds, lost the first two rounds, but came back to win the next eight. Miller vainly attempted to spear Farr with one of his devastating left hooks, but missed repeatedly due to Farr's aggressive body attack. Miller weighed 138, Farr 131.

Ollie Bartlett, Detroit, weighing 116 3-4, won a referee's decision over Mickey Cohen, Cleveland, in six rounds. Martin Zuniga, Los Angeles featherweight, scored a technical knockout over Marshall Cousotte, Cleveland, in one round.

RABBIT PUNCHES

A POPULAR CHOICE

SELECTION of Eddie Casey as the new Harvard football coach strikes a popular chord.

Not only in Harvard's fair realms but out here on the far away Pacific Coast.

And particularly right next door in Pasadena, where Mr. Casey performed as an all-American back for Harvard against Oregon in the New Year's Day game of 1920.

This was the bruising battle which was won by the Crimson, 7 to 6.

All points were scored in the second period. Freddie Church broke loose for a 10-yard run around end that brought Harvard's touchdown, and Arnold Horween, resigning Harvard coach, kicked the goal. Steers and Manerud both drop kicked a goal apiece for Oregon's 6 points.

Casey was watched like a hawk and failed to get away for any long runs. But he did complete three beautiful passes, ranging from 15 to 25 yards, and was a demon on defense with his body checking.

HORWEEN'S MIGHTY DRIVE

CASEY, the unheralded Church and Arnold Horween were the heroes of the game for Harvard.

However, Horween was not, as stated in eastern news dispatches, captain of the team that beat Oregon.

The skipper was Freddie Murray, Crimson quarterback.

But as a result of Horween's brilliant play against Oregon he won the captaincy for the following year.

Harvard was fortunate in keeping the Oregon score within bounds because the boys from the Northwest made about three yards to Harvard's one until the latter part of the game.

And it was Arnold Horween, with gigantic smashes through the line, who led the parade.

One terrific drive netted 25 yards, and only the gun halted the frenzied efforts of the big Harvard halfback.

BIG CHIEF CARIDEO

THE naming of Frank Carideo as the outstanding football player of the year should meet with the approval of all.

Tad Jones, former Yale coach, says that in two years of watching the Notre Dame quarterback he has seen him call but one play that could be criticised in the slightest.

This particular play occurred in the first quarter of the game with the Trojans at the Coliseum Saturday.

Notre Dame, taking the ball on the kick-off, had driven down the field to the S.C. 20-yard line.

It was fourth down and a yard to go.

Carideo gambled on loss of the ball by calling a forward pass play whereas a line smash would have been safer and netted the required distance with the resulting first down.

As a matter of fact Notre Dame did lose the ball, Musick flashing through the air in the best Trojan effort of the day to knock down a pass intended for Johnny O'Brien.

Of course, the choice really did Notre Dame no harm as Musick immediately fumbled Williamson's poor pass from center, and the Irish recovered.

This time, the first play was a pass, Schwartz to Carideo, and the Irish field general scored with nobody touching him.

SAN FRANCISCO PUCKS MAKE DEBUT TONIGHT

Willie Ritchie's San Francisco Tigers will make their first appearance of the season at the Winter Garden tonight, facing the Los Angeles Millionaires in a California Hockey League game. Ladies will be admitted free.

Both clubs depend upon speed and deception for victory, with young players on the ice. Care has imported almost his entire squad from Canada, and now that the youngsters are working together his team will be hard to beat.

Manager Tom Carrigan of the Millionaires, has his team working smoothly and is making a strong bid for the league championship. Carrigan plays goal, and with Wolf Peltier at forward, there is enough veteran leadership on the team to guide the youngsters along.

Dan Carrigan has been playing a great game at center ice, while Dutch Singer and Archie Gray look like two of the best defense men in the circuit. Lindsay Carver, Jack Pilkin, Ted Jacques and Johnny Bruenteau are all capable forwards. Guidos Roy and George Brown are a couple of youngsters who are fast picking up the experience that will make them polished performers.

Millionaires — Tom Carrigan, Singer, Gray, Dan Carrigan, Pilkin, Peltier, Carver, Roy, Brown, Jacques, Bruenteau.

Tigers— York, McGregor, Desireou, Gagnon, McKenzie, Huffman, Buckles, Faulder, McLeod, Cumming, Johnston, Coleman.

TOP PLACE HANGS IN BALANCE

First place in the Senior Ice Hockey League will hang in the balance tonight when the Los Angeles Bruins collide with Ralph Weaver's husky Maple Leafs at the Palais De Glace. The teams being deadlocked, the contest is one of the most important of the season and should be one of the most hotly contested.

The Bruins will be favorites to win tonight with Noel Proulx and "Big Frenchy" Hebert expected to lead the scoring. The Leafs got away to a flying start in the title chase, but lately they have found the competition tougher.

Weaver and Bill Chapman, the sensational young Canadian wing, are expected to prove the sharpshooters of the Leafs.

Referee Bill Phipps will drop the puck starting the contest promptly at 8:30 p.m.

Henry Seimer, Palais owner, announces that well-known exhibition skaters have been selected to perform between periods.

SUBMEN ANNEX GRID TITLE

with every man on the squad. Both the captain of the Maryland and the captain of the submarine division added their congratulations.

Opening the game, the Subs kicked off to the "Big Mary" outfit on their 10-yard line, where Keller took the Pigskin and returned it twelve yards to his own 22-yard marker. He was then held to a 1-yard gain on two plays, and the Maryland was forced to kick. The Subs took the ball on their own 40-yard strip, and were forced to kick after failing to gain on two plays. During the remaining part of the first quarter and the first of the second, both teams were held for downs and the ball traveled up and down the turf.

With about five minutes left in the second period, Lefebre broke through the Maryland line to net thirty-five yards on two plays, and put the ball on the "Big Mary" 26-yard marker. Then Ponchak completed two passes to Lefebre and English to park the ball on their opponents' 2-yard line, where Lefebre went off left tackle for the score. Ponchak booted the ball between the uprights for the extra point.

During the third quarter, both of the teams worked the ball down into scoring territory, but were unable to put the pigskin over the last barrier. Montgomery intercepted a pass from Thomas about three minutes from the end of the game, and ran it back to the Maryland 10-yard line, where he was stopped by Keller. The Subs were unable to pierce the Maryland forward wall on three thrusts, and on the fourth down, D. Mays dropped back and booted a kick from placement from the 12-yard line to complete the scoring for the day. Line-ups:

Chiselers in Second Round

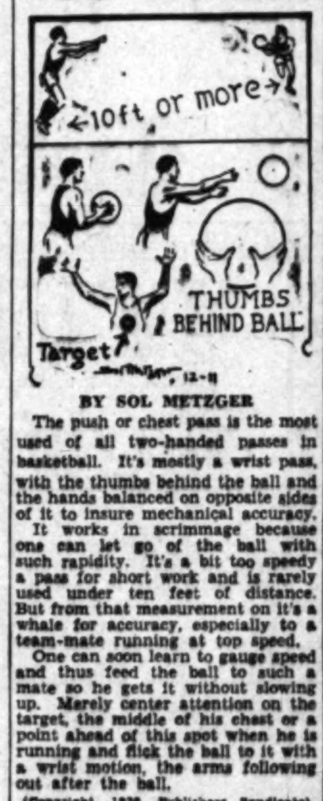
Second-round matches are scheduled this week in the chiselers' tournament at the Chevy Chase Golf Club.

First-round matches played last week resulted as follows:

A. C. Nelson defeated P. H. Hilburn, 2 up; Womack defeated I. B. Hollister, 7 and 6; K. Pride defeated H. H. Dillon, 7 and 6; M. M. Chism defeated Charles Hester, 6 and 5; Charles Patterson defeated L. K. Sands, default; L. M. Nelson defeated T. P. Moran, default; A. L. Francis defeated M. B. Desenberg, 1 up; T. Von der Liden defeated A. A. Eddy, 1 up.

In the play-off of the three-way tie between Mrs. W. F. Kent, Mrs. H. H. Dillon and Mrs. C. J. Gaines for the Joplin trophy, Mrs. Kent turned in the winning card of 116-30-86.

Push or Chest Pass Analyzed



BY SOL METZGER

The push or chest pass is the most used of all two-handed passes in basketball. It's mostly a wrist pass, with the thumbs behind the ball and the hands balanced on opposite sides of it to insure mechanical accuracy.

It works in scrimmage because one can let go of the ball with such rapidity. It's a bit too speedy a pass for short work and is rarely used under ten feet of distance. But from that measurement on it's a whale for accuracy, especially to a team-mate running at top speed.

One can soon learn to gauge speed and thus feed the ball to such a mate so he gets it without slowing up. Merely center attention on the target, the middle of his chest or a point ahead of this spot when he is running and flick the ball to it with a wrist motion, the arms following out after the ball.

EXPECT PEACE IN DRAFT WAR

American Association to discuss the draft, then in regular business sessions of the leagues. Down in the lobby of the hotel fading stars and old-time heroes talked with managers here and managers there about jobs—and accomplished more in an hour than the magnates did all day.

Wally Schang and Cy Perkins, veteran catchers, added to the unemployment situation by Connie Mack, of the Athletics, talked themselves into jobs, Wally with the Detroit Tigers and Perkins with the New York Yankees. Joe Dugan, once the third-base ace of baseball and the Yankees, came to tentative agreement with the Tigers as utility man.

John McGraw, of the New York Giants, offered old Chief Bender, once a pitching star on Connie Mack's great teams of another era, a job as a scout. At the same time McGraw reached an agreement with George Burns, once a Giant outfielder, to replace "Irish" Meusel as a coach here. Jack Quinn, one of the last of the spit-ballers, was around seeking pitching work with the Brooklyn Robins but accomplished little.

Two first basemen, George Sisler of the Boston Braves, and Lou Blue of the Browns, seem to have been given opportunities by their managements to better themselves if possible. Sisler discussed a coaching job with the Tigers but Blue wound up the day talking salary differences with his own club.

The trade winds failed to stir, but there were rumors aplenty. The Red Sox were reported to have offered First Baseman Phil Todt to Cleveland for Johnny Hodapp and Billy Evans laughed and laughed. The Washington Senators would take Outfielder Reynolds from the White Sox and give them a choice of two of the following players—Joe Kuhel, rookie first baseman; Buddy Meyer, infielder, and Bump Hadley. Donie Bush would be more inclined to talk business if Hadley and an outfielder were joined in the offer. Cleveland offered the White Sox First Baseman Fonseca for Third Baseman Willie Kamm, but no deals were closed.

The uproar over the lively ball and the prodigious home-run clouting died to a whisper in the league meetings. Both the National and American magnates discussed the ball and the zoning of parks, and the raising of screens before the stands, but no action was taken.

National League players making the trip to Japan after the coming season will be permitted to barnstorm until December 1, instead of October 31.

Cincinnati's request for $4000, the waiver price from Chicago, because George Kelly came back to the Cubs within two months after being let go to Minneapolis in the American Association, was refused by League President John A. Heydler.

Both leagues discussed the draft for hours as well as "chain store" baseball and other moot points close to the hearts of club owners.

Following the meeting Sam Breadon, president of the Cardinals and the largest owner of minor league clubs in the majors, said he expected no further differences with Commissioner K. M. Landis on the chain store subject. Landis has been a severe critic of this system of developing major league talent.

In the draft conference this morning the major league committee listened to the proposition of the minors and laid the situation before a joint league meeting tonight. There seems to be little trouble over the price of drafted players, but the majors want to have fifteen men out on option for three years instead of the eight now allowed them for two years. The minors want the right to draft from leagues below them in standing.

MERCURY CAGERS DRILL FOR GAMES

"Rags" Wilcox, player coach of the Los Angeles A.C. basketball team, has been giving his Mercury cagers some stiff drills this week in preparation for next week's schedule, which calls for games with U.S.C., Occidental and U.C.L.A. The Trojans will be met at the U.S.C. gymnasium Monday night, while Oxy will be tackled the next night at Eagle Rock.

QUINN SIGNS MAY TO DRIVE

Picks Alhambra Pilot for Partner at Ascot

Francis Quinn, Pacific Southwest speedway champion, handed local racing men a surprise yesterday when he signed Walt May to drive his second car, the No. 8 Miller, in next Sunday afternoon's 100-lap grind at the Legion Ascot track.

"Stubby" Stubblefield was in line for the car but May, the popular Alhambra pilot, was chosen to handle the mount for the season.

"May and I are old friends," said Quinn. "We have been team mates before. Walt broke into the game five years ago with me, while on a campaign in the Northwest. At that time he was a mechanic and he received his first chance at the wheel when Earl Evans quit his car and returned to Los Angeles.

"The first race Walt ever drove he beat me to the flag by about two feet. I knew then that he was going to develop into a top-notcher."

Quinn will continue to drive No. 3 at Ascot. For several months he has kept the No. 8 reserved for mile tracks only, but recently he has been remodeling the car and he believes that May will be able to make it a winner at the local five-eighths-of-a-mile layout.

"Shorty" Cantlon, Detroit ace, who negotiated the 100 laps last Sunday in less than 51 minutes and in doing so brought his No. 16 Miller home more than a lap ahead of the field, has been installed a favorite to repeat his victory.

Bill White, the heavyweight Hollywood racing-car financier, who owns the Miller, says they have quit experimenting with the motor of the mount and expect to keep it in the money from now on.

"When we arrived from the East," said White, "we tried a number of experiments with disastrous results. Now we've returned to our old combination and we're having the same good luck we had last year."

Swimmers in Aquatic Meet at Hollywood

Several of the world's best-known swimmers will participate tonight in an invitational aquatic meet at the Hollywood Athletic Club.

Among the visiting stars are Maiola Kalili, Manuella Kalili and Johnny Wood, Hawaiian stars. Maiola is the Hawaiian ace who raced Buster Crabbe to three hair-breadth decisions at the national outdoor championships at Long Beach. Crabbe won the 880 and the mile, while Kalili took the 440. Manuella, brother of the star, is considered by island experts to be a better prospect than the older swimmer. He has shaded his brother's time as well as the world's record, in both the 440 and 880 free styles.

Josephine McKim and Olive Hatch, of the L.A.A.C., members of the women's national championship team, are to give exhibitions in sprint races. Other stars who will show their wares are Mickey Riley, "Dutch" Smith and Georgia Coleman, champion divers of the L. A. A. C., Tommy Blankenburg, national A.A.U. breast-stroke champion of the H. A. C., and many others. The meet will start at 8:15. The events:

(1.) 220 yards, free style, Maiola Kalili and Manuella Kalili will try for a Coast record.

(2.) 100 yards, free style, Johnny Wood, Duke Callaghan and Curtis Cummings.

(4.) 100-yard breaststroke, Tommy Blankenburg, H.A.C., national champion; Bill Mulling, L.A.A.C., and John Demerad, L.A.A.C.

(5.) 50 yards, free style, Hollywood

(5.) Exhibition fancy diving by national champions, Dutch Smith, L.A.A.C.; Mickey Riley, U.S.C., and Farid Simaika, H.A.C.

(6.) 220 yards, free style match race, Charles Zest, Bill Adams, Bill Murphy, Jack Deals and Stewart Deals.

(7.) Comedy event.

(8.) 100 yards, backstroke, Frank Walton, H.A.C., Coast champion, vs. Charlton Morgan, U.C.L.A., handicap race.

(9.) Diving event, Miss Georgia Coleman, L.A.A.C., national champion, and Miss D. Poynton, far western champion.

(10.) Diving exhibition, Joe Crew, age 3 years.

(12.) 100 yards, Lake Norconian Club, girls.

(13.) Exhibition by Josephine McKim and Olive Hatch of L.A.A.C., members of senior national women's championship team.

PASADENA QUINTET WINS OVER HOOVER

Pasadena High School's powerful basketball team swept to a 36-to-30 victory over the Hoover five yesterday in a game played on the former's court. Individual brilliance was the outstanding feature of the game, Carlson, of Pasadena, and Miller, of Hoover, tying for high-point honors with 16 apiece. Stanford, Ayers, Cosby and Higgins also turned in brilliant performances. The Bulldogs maintained their edge from the beginning and held a 4-point margin at half-time.

Pasadena's lightweights came through with a 26-to-20 victory over the Hoover babes in the preliminary game. Jensen with 8 points led the individual scorers. The line-ups:

Pasadena (36)		Hoover (30)
Ayers (6)	F.	Stanford (9)

WHITTIER CAGERS WIN OVER POMONA

With Grumsky leading the attack, Whittier College's varsity cage team trimmed the Pomona Junior College quintet, 32 to 19, last night on the former's court. Grumsky was the individual high scorer and star of the game with fourteen points. Shankland led the jaysee scorers with eight points. Whittier's second team lost a 23-to-26 game to the Grace Methodist Church in the preliminary contest. Bixley scored fifteen points for the losers and Hallibay ten for the churchmen.

LAMAR FAVORITE OVER PALUSO AT HOLLYWOOD

Johnny Lamar, Mexican lightweight, will go to the post favorite over Lou Paluso, Salt Lake City veteran, Friday night at the Hollywood Stadium. Paluso has not shown here in over a year and for that reason alone the fans are stringing with the tough body-punching Lamar to win.

Paluso was a fine fighter several years ago. Close followers of the fight game will remember his great battle with Ace Hudkins at Vernon, where he beat the Wildcat and then got a draw for his fine work. If he has anything of that left he should give Lamar a tough evening, the railbirds state.

Lamar is a veteran himself, but he seems to be going as good as ever lately. Tom Gallery looks for a good two-fisted fight.

Vincent Martinez figures to whip Guy McKinney in the six-round special event.

The four-rounders bring Eddie Neal into combat with Santiago Lujan and Bert Smith against Manuel Davila.

DUFFIELD JOINS BREAKFAST CLUB

Hailed as "true sportsmen, whether facing either of the two impostors, Victory or Defeat," the Trojan football team was given an ovation at the Breakfast Club yesterday morning that was just as hearty and spontaneous as though the Cougar and Irish scores had been reversed. Marshall Duffield was selected to receive the club's honorary membership, hitherto extended to Morley Drury, Jesse Hibbs and Nate Barrager, and was given a hilarious initiation, astride the wooden horse, "Ham" as the "Field Marshall of Pullman, Washington;" though denying that he "dropped the run-out powders into Bucky O'Connor's lunch last Saturday." Coach Howard Jones, gave each member of the team a personal introduction, paid his compliments to Rockne and the Notre Dame boys as "the most perfect team ever sent out by Notre Dame;" and declared that he was proud of the spirit of his boys in their defeat.

BULLOCK'S
STORES FOR MEN

Men's 2-trouser
Suits!

These suits are the particular pride of Bullock's Men's University Store, and no wonder. They are fine examples of Bullock value. Their details of workmanship are the kind you usually associate with higher priced garments. And these new ones—that we have to keep adding so steadily—are preciously good blues, tans, browns—all worsteds—and a few of them double-breasted. Each suit is a two-trouser suit, of course. The extra trousers add to comfort and wear, and keep the suit on the job. Regulars, stouts, longs, and so on—sizes 35 to 44—young men's styles for all ages. $35.

P. S. The Bullock Topcoats to go with them are new arrivals, too. Plenty of softings, such as tweeds and cheviots, belted, unbelted, single breasted and double. Also 52-inchers for tall fellows. $39

A Rebuttal from the South

Blow—Blow—thou winter's wind,
Your balmy breath we greet;
Blow—blow—by green and tee
Where ball and club head meet;
Blow out the morbid slice and hook,
Blow in those perfect putts;
Blow out the cuppy lies and make
Par shooters out of mutts.

Blow—blow—thou winter's wind,
By southern pine and oak;
Blow divots, and the haunting cows
Who tells you every stroke;
Blow comfort to old Grantland Rice
And drop for him a tear,
Where we can hook and slice and curse
Twelve months throughout the year.
—Fred W. Ellsworth, New Orleans.

Still, as we remarked some days ago, that two or three months' vacation from the bunkers and heel prints is not to be jeered at. It takes a strong constitution to listen to "outerbounds" twelve months in a year without caving in.

Kid Chocolate has one tough handicap to face. A flocks of experts have picked him to beat Battalino, and this has been a tough year on experts. It has been a year in which the underdog has absorbed most the gravy.

That Army Line

There is no myth about the power of this Army line, from end to end. Harvard and Yale admitted it was the strongest wall they had to face all year. Notre Dame found it about an even match, outside of possibly two plays. When you have four such ends as Carlmark and Messenger, King and Malloy, you have all the ends you need.

King is about as good an end as there is in football. He is over six feet, weighs 195 pounds, is fast and keen. He is the bomb shell that hit Albie Booth. He is also the lad who hit Carideo so hard they picked up the latter about twenty feet beyond the side lines. He is also the party who jumped over Mullins, blocked Carideo's kick and then took out the only Notre Dame man in sight as Price fell on the ball for a touchdown.

Big Price, 220 pounds, has been the best tackle in the East. Price, Suarez and others, complete a set of forwards who are hard to budge, shove aside, or fool.

Williams, Gannon, Kirn and Hurley looked as good as any set of Army backs we have seen this season. Maybe a trifle better. But they were not stepping through the Army line last Saturday. This will be a football game Saturday. It has the potential stuff to be one of the best games of a highly dizzy year.

Sunday's War

Adam Walsh reports that he will have a team on hand that will hold its own with the New York Giants, the present Notre Dame team, Alabama or anything else you can think of. His line will include some of the best centers, guards and tackles football has known. The Four Horsemen may not be colts any longer, but they can still step.

Football may have known two smarter quarterbacks than Friedman and Stuhldreher, the rival field generals, but who are they? The Giants are out to show a big crowd that a professional football team can play about all the football there is to play. They will have quite enough opposition to prove their point on Sunday.

Casey at Harvard

Harvard gets a smart football coach and a likeable personality in Eddie Casey, who takes Arnold Horween's place. Casey knows football and he is certain to follow Horween's idea in making football a game and not a drudgery.

Horween has always been a fine type of coach because Horween is a high-class sportsman. He leaves a worthy successor in Eddie Casey, who should have a backfield to his liking, with Wood, Crickard, Mays and White as a starter. Filling Ben Ticknor's place is another matter. It may take two good football players to do that.

GEORGE TAKES MAT LAURELS

ords as a head scissors and double wristlock, but it was the hammerlock that did the dirty work.

In winning the third and deciding hold in 12m. 52s. George continued his arm tactics, and the Japanese arm lock consisted of a painful hold on the weakened left arm and a leg scissors on the head.

For what seemed fully five minutes, Sonnenberg was stretched on the mat with one shoulder off the mat but gradually slipping closer and closer to the canvas.

Finally, the champion could stand the pain no longer. His reserve strength had ebbed. His shoulder touched the mat, quivered a minute and was still.

Referee McDonald patted George's back, and pandemonium broke loose as it suddenly dawned on the big audience that a new champion had been crowned.

Sonnenberg had been king of the mat since January 4, 1929, when he took the title from Ed "Strangler" Lewis in a Boston ring.

George was virtually unknown when Promoter Lou Daro introduced him to local audiences as a preliminary wrestler on the Marshall-Sonnenberg championship card at Wrigley Field last May.

He beat Dan Koloff that night and in succession defeated Lee Wykoff and Moose Norbeck.

MALCEWICZ FIRST TEST

His first main event was with Joe Malcewicz. George won and followed up with victories over Marin Plestina and Bibber McCoy. His only defeat was sustained at the hands of Sonnenberg here in October, when he and Sonnenberg crashed head-on in attempting flying tackles. George was knocked out and taken to the hospital. Sonnenberg arose in a stupor to have his hand raised.

George is 24 years of age.

MARTINEZ-ZORILLA TO LEAD CORNELL

ITHACA (N. Y.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Cris Martinez-Zorilla of Mexico City was unanimously chosen captain of the 1931 Cornell football team tonight. He had played tackle on the Cornell varsity for two seasons but did not see much action this year due to an early season injury.

He is a brother of Jose Martinez-Zorilla, 17-year-old star end whose playing was one of the features of the Dartmouth game.

HOPPE WINS FINAL BLOCK WITH COCHRAN

CHICAGO, Dec. 10. (AP)—Willie Hoppe reached the peak of his game tonight to win the final block of his six-block 18.2 balkline billiards match with Welker Cochran, 300 to 88, in three innings. Hoppe had an unfinished run of 247, the best run of the match. They finished all even at three blocks, and tomorrow will start a six-block match at 18.1.

COLGATE GAME NETS CHARITY HUGE SUM

NEW YORK, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Colgate-New York University football game last Saturday brought in $73,467.93 for unemployment relief. Total receipts were $79,053.50, with total expenses of $5585.57.

WALES SQUASH VICTOR

LONDON, Dec. 10. (AP)—The Prince of Wales won the final of the squash racquets handicap tournament at the well-known Bath Club tonight, beating E. A. Bennett, 9-5, 9-6, 10-9. The Prince has contested in three previous finals, but never before won the event.

Bears Refute Spears Rumor

EUGENE (Or.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Dr. R. G. Sproul, president of the University of California, today telegraphed the Register-Guard a denial Clarence W. Spears, Oregon football coach, had been approached with an offer to succeed "Nibs" Price, retired.

"The selection of a suitable coach for the University of California is in the hands of Mr. W. W. Monahan, general manager of the associated students," Dr. Sproul said. "He has not asked me to request President Hall's permission to open negotiations for the services of Dr. C. W. Spears."

Hall is president of the University of Oregon.

RALLY BY INGLEWOOD WHIPS COMPTON FIVE

Rallying in the second half, the Inglewood High School basketball team overcame a four-point lead and turned an impending defeat into a rout when they chalked up 20 points to down the Compton cagers, 29 to 18, yesterday on the former's court. Compton easily outclassed the Sentinels in the first half. With opening of the third period, however, Inglewood swept the Tartars off their feet with a powerful, undeniable attack, scoring 10 points to the visitors' 2. The fourth quarter was almost a repetition of the third, Inglewood chalking up 10 markers while holding Compton to 3.

Leading Inglewood's march to victory were the Storry brothers, who scored 17 points between them, and Carr, who accounted for 8. Hunt was high-point man for the losers with 9 markers. In the preliminary game, the Compton lightweights nosed out the Inglewood babes, 18 to 17.

GARFIELD MIDGETS LOSE TO ROOSEVELT

Coach Paul Fried's Roosevelt midgets swamped the Garfield cagers under a 24-to-7 score yesterday on the Roughriders' court. The Bulldogs never had a chance after the first quarter. The score at the end of the half was 12 to 1 in favor of the winners. The victory was the third straight for the Roughrider Cees, who for two consecutive years won the Minor City League championship. Chesler was high-point man for the home team, with 10 digits. The line-ups:

Roosevelt (24)		Garfield (7)
Millman (2)	F.	McGue
Chesler (10)	F.	Platt (2)

HIGHLANDERS OUT TO UPSET SHEIK OUTFIT

Danny Stevenson has his Highlander soccer team all primed to spring another prize upset this week-end, when the Scots tangle with the league-leading Hollywood Sheiks at Loyola Field.

The two teams take the field at 3 p.m. The opening game at the Loyola Field will be between the Magyars and the Victorias. Tournament Park, Pasadena, will be the scene of two clashes. The Richfield Oilers and the Pasadena A.C.C. eleven clash in the opener and the Vikings and the Sons of St. George collide at 3 p.m.

ARMY, NAVY TEAMS SET

Rival Elevens Engage in Brisk Workouts for Gigantic Charity Game on Saturday

WEST POINT, Dec. 10. (AP)—With the entire corps of cadets, officers of the post and their wives massed around the practice field, the Army football team ran through another snappy drill today in preparation for the charity game with the Navy in New York Saturday.

King and Messinger, capable ends who have been on the injured list, were back in the line-up and Maj. Ralph I. Sasse, head coach, appeared encouraged at the condition of his squad.

MAJOR RALPH SASSE

The plebe team again put on its version of the Navy attack, scrimmage at full speed with Sasse's three varsity teams. The secondary defense of the Army regulars was kept busy and had considerable difficulty in stopping the Middie aerial attack. A long pass defense drill for the varsity backs followed the scrimmage.

When the Cadets shifted the attack to test their new plays against the Scrubs, each successful thrust was greeted with cheers from the enthusiastic spectators. Most of the plays were directed at the tackles.

Kicking came in for considerable attention under the direction of Sasse and Lieut. "Red" Reeder. Broshous concentrated on drop kicking, Herb and Glattly on placement booting and Frentzel, Fields and Elliott on punting. A large part of the kicking was done under the pressure of a charging Scrub line.

After practice the commissioned personnel of the post headed by Maj.-Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent, marched to Washington Hall to have dinner with the corps. In a brief rally which followed dinner, short talks were given by Gen. Smith, Maj. Sasse and "Polly" Humber, team captain.

MIDDIES LOOK GOOD AGAINST ARMY PLAYS

ANNAPOLIS (Md.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Belying their coaches' pessimistic outlook, the Navy regulars tore off consistent gains against the "B" squad equipped with Army formations today in the final hard scrimmage session in preparation for the charity meeting with the Cadets in New York on Saturday.

Bill Ingram, the Navy coach, professed to hold little hope for a Middie victory against the big Army team.

Navy backs had success with several new plays designed to pierce the Cadet defensive formations, but the "B" squad members had their turn when, using Army attack methods, they plunged for gains through the regular line.

Ingram fears the light weight of his backs will be the deciding factor against the Navy.

His best backfield, which he plans to start against the Army, consisting of Dale Bauer at quarter, Johnny Gannon and Lou Kirn at the halves and Oscar Hagberg at fullback, will average not much more than 161 pounds, with Hagberg the only member who goes over 165. His second backfield is just about the same in weight. In addition Kirn and Hagberg are suffering from injuries.

Admiral Samuel S. Robinson, superintendent of the academy, and members of his official party also will leave for New York tomorrow. The Midshipmen regiment of 1900 members is to leave Annapolis early Saturday.

RADIO LISTENERS PAY FOR ARMY-NAVY TILT

For the first time in football history, fans will be given the opportunity of listening to a football broadcast and paying for that privilege.

With the Army and Navy teams giving the entire proceeds from the sale of seats to the Salvation Army for the benefit of the unemployed, the networks donating all the money paid by Philco for this broadcast to this cause, officials believe football fans will also gladly share in this charitable work by sending in at least a dollar to listen to Saturday's great game.

Howard Jones, "Pop" Warner, "Babe" Hollingbery, "Doc" Spears, in fact, every coach who attended the recent football conference, have bought a flock of Army-Navy broadcast tickets and all agree it is a fine idea to help a very worthy cause.

"Army-Navy broadcast tickets" may be purchased from the Salvation Army or from any Philco radio dealer or checks may simply be sent to the Salvation Army headquarters, 832 West Ninth street, Los Angeles.

LONG BEACH HAS STRONG OUTFIT

Schell wreaked havoc in the Covina play-off game, galloping 96 yards for one touchdown, 41 yards for another and 24 for his third score of the day.

Franklin, while much smaller than Schell, is quite an open-field runner, galloping a kick-off back 79 yards against Santa Ana breaking a 12-12 tie. Sweet, later in the Saint game, sprinted 90 yards, taking another kick-off back for a touchdown giving Long Beach a 24-12 victory.

Franklin does quite a bit of passing, kicking and plays safety man as well.

Johnny Morrow is the most dependable passer on the Jackrabbit eleven; while Storey is the best line smasher.

Last year Long Beach's forte was its devastating aerial attack with "Musty" Olsen doing the heaving and Elliott and Fuhrer on the receiving end. Now all three have gone and this season the overhead game has been the least potent weapon in the Jackrabbit repertoire.

Here are the past Southland champions:

1917	Manual Arts
1918	Fullerton
1919	Long Beach

L. A. HIGH AND POLY CLASH ON COURT TODAY

With Coach (Happy) Hemseth's L. A. High Romans meeting the Poly Mechanics in the feature tussle, the second round of play in the City League basketball race is listed for this afternoon. The game is scheduled for the Mechanic floor.

The Romans, with one of the best teams in the circuit, will undoubtedly win from the Mechanics. However, last week Poly held the highly touted Fairfax five to a close score and may surprise.

Five other games are listed with Manual Arts at Hollywood, Franklin at Lincoln, Fairfax at Belmont, Roosevelt at Garfield and Fremont at Jefferson. Hollywood, Lincoln, Fairfax, Roosevelt and Jefferson should win their respective games.

BRONCOS WILL STICK BY STANFORD DATE

SANTA CLARA, Dec. 10. (AP)—Reports circulated today that Santa Clara University would cancel its 1931 football game with Stanford scheduled for October 3 were emphatically denied tonight by Rev. C. J. McCoy, S.J., president of the university, and by Alvin J. Wolf, general manager. "Reports that Santa Clara will not play Stanford on October 3, one week after the game with the University of California, and that if a more suitable date can not be secured athletic relations with Stanford will be broken, are untrue," the Santa Clara president said.

JEFFERSON CEES WIN

The Jefferson High Class C basketball team triumphed over the Fremont midgets yesterday afternoon by the score of 23 to 8. The Democrats dominated the situation throughout, leading at the half-way mark by a count of 8 to 2. Kildore of Jefferson was high-point man with 10 digits registered.

STAR GRIDMEN PLAN PRACTICE

Northwest. From the snows of the Rocky Mountains come Joe Jonas and Bill Price of Utah, and "Pest" Welch of Purdue soon will join the West-South machine.

Acceptances in the past three days swelled the Notre Dame opposition to twelve, members of the Elks' committee reported. In addition to the men named, Lloyd Thomas and Russ Saunders of Southern California and Joe Slifton of Annapolis, are on the all-star roster. Phelan wants ten or twelve more gridders for reserve material.

In the meantime, those Irish athletes who are still imbibing education at Notre Dame will have a little more than a week before the opening of the Christmas holidays, when they will retrace their steps with Rockne California-bound. Carideo, Brill, O'Brien, Metzger, Kassis, Yarr and Culver, Notre Dame seniors, will perform again in the Coliseum. Many of the 1929 and 1928 stars asked by Rockne to play on the all-Notre Dame, will join the group at that time.

Heavy sales have taken the first blocks of tickets for the game, placed on the block by B. H. Dyas downtown store, it was reported.

Badger Coach Urges Loyalty

MADISON (Wis.) Dec. 10. (AP)—Sophomore members of the 1930 Wisconsin football squad, who today issued an ultimatum that they would withdraw from the sport if Glenn Thistlethwaite was released as coach, were asked by Thistlethwaite tonight to remain loyal to the university

The ultimatum, handed university officials, was signed by ten second-year men—most of whom were regulars this season.

Coach Thistlethwaite said:

"I am not anticipating a dismissal by the university authorities, yet if it should come, I should like to be the first to ask these boys to reconsider that part of the petition to the effect they will not participate under other authorities. I do not want the players or students to feel they have to defend my job before the public."

HAYDEN APPOINTED ATHLETIC MANAGER

Bill Hayden yesterday was appointed senior manager of minor sports at Occidental College, according to the announcement of Dick Glover, chairman of the Athletic Council. Under the competitive managerial system at Oxy, no managers had been appointed except for the major sports and tennis. Under this minor sports managerial system, one junior manager will have charge of tennis, and the other of swimming. The four sophomore managers, who have not yet been named, will have charge of water polo, golf, and will assist with tennis, and any other minor sports which may be adopted.

CADETS TO STAGE SHOOT

CLAREMONT, Dec. 10.—Members of the Pomona College R.O.T.C. unit will compete in the annual turkey shoot for the next ten days, with two prizes offered for the winners. A fourteen-pound turkey will be awarded the winner, and ten gallons of gasoline is the second prize.

BABY JOE GANS TO SHOW HERE

Negro Matched by Olympic With Babe Anderson

Babe Anderson, hard-hitting welterweight from San Jose, will box Baby Joe Gans at the Olympic next Tuesday night instead of Andy Divodi. The switch was made yesterday.

Divodi has another match coming up in San Francisco and could not get released to box here. Anderson boxed in Los Angeles several months ago.

The Olympic also announced that there would be forty rounds of boxing and holiday prices will be put into effect for the card. The club also stated that it planned to run shows during Christmas week providing suitable talent can be obtained.

Gans boxed at the Manhattan Gymnasium yesterday. He now weighs around 142 pounds. The Negro left here a year ago and has boxed nineteen times in the East.

New York rates Gans as the Negro junior welterweight champion and classes him with Jimmy McLarnin. Young Corbett turned Gans down as an opponent several weeks ago, indicating the prestige the former Central-avenue idol has among the 147-pounders.

The last time Gans boxed at the Olympic he met Charley Rosen. On the death of Larney Lichenstein the Negro went East and has been attached to the Kid Chocolate stable.

If Gans clicks in the Anderson match he will remain for other bouts the Olympic plans for the first of the year which include Corbett, Paulie Walker, Jackie Fields and Sammy Jackson.

Sorio Faces Bob Reister in Pasadena

Bobby Reister, the nonstop wonder of the Olympic this season, meets Baby Sal Sorio at Morris Cohan's Pasadena Arena tonight. Reister has won handily since he kayoed Ritchie King last July, and Baby Sal has stopped his last eleven opponents.

BOBBY REISTER

At least two outlying sections will be brought up over the fight tonight, Alhambra which claims Reister since his high school days when he was called the "Terror of the Sticks," and San Bernardino, the home of Sorio.

The semifinal features Johnny Godinez vs. Ray Cervantes, 122 pounds, and other four-round bouts to be fought by Frankie Sullivan vs. Jimmy Hart, 135 pounds; Ray Resgalada vs. Willie Watson, 165 pounds; Johnny Martinez vs. Vernon Center, 136 pounds; Phil Urias vs. Billy Burns, 122 pounds. There will be a slight increase in the prices at the arena for tonight only.

BRILEY TO LEAD DRAKE

DES MOINES (Iowa) Dec. 10. (AP)—John Briley, left end of the Drake University football team, will captain the Bulldogs in 1931. His home is in Nevada, Iowa.

NORTH DAKOTA TO WORK HERE BEFORE GRID GAME

North Dakota University's "Flying Flickertails" will have three days' preparation in Los Angeles before they tackle the Fire Department team at the Coliseum on Christmas Day. R. O. Barnett, athletic director for the local department, received word today from the North Dakota officials that the Nodaks will work here before the game with the Smoke-eaters so as to get hardened to the change of climate.

The North Dakota team has lost but three games in three years, which is some record for a team that has attracted the attention of the country. This year they were beaten by the West Point Cadets in a game in which the North Dakota team copped the spotlight with their beautiful passing attack in the last quarter.

The invaders have a backfield composed of Red Jarrett, Knauf, Simons and Schave that is said to shape up with the best in the country. Jarret has not failed to score this year in any game. He is a real threat, being a crack passer, a line plunger and open-field runner. "The North Dakota combination is good besides. They have three men who average ten seconds for the century."

Men Like Admiration—Especially at Christmas

Men know when the gift is Admiration Cigars—for straight through the year they find in Admiration that cool, sweet smoking which renders the keenest enjoyment—the same delightful uniformity from the first puff to the very last inch.

ORANGES' YULE ROLE EXPLAINED

Citrus Fruit Changed From Luxury to Staple

Advertising Given Credit for Causing New Status

Sunkist Official Gives Talk in Radio Series

Advertising has assisted in no small measure in making it possible to distribute 9,000,000,000 individual oranges to the American public, and especially in changing the fruit from the status of an occasional holiday luxury to a staple and almost indispensable article in the diet, Paul S. Armstrong, assistant general manager of the California Fruit growers' Exchange, told his radio audience yesterday in his contribution to the series of educational broadcasts conducted by the Los Angeles Advertising Club with the sponsorship of the University of Southern California.

PAUL S. ARMSTRONG

His address, "How Advertising Helps Southern California Spread Christmas Cheer Throughout the Land." was sent out by station KMPC.

IMPORTANT ROLE

Before citing advertising's contribution to the amazing development of the citrus industry, Mr. Armstong stressed the peculiar importance advertising has in the existing disturbed business conditions. Attention is focused on marketing and distribution as it has not been for a long time. And in both marketing and distribution advertising plays an important part, Mr. Armstrong said.

"When the orange growers turned to advertising in 1907," he said, "it was frankly in an attitude of experiment and hope. Advertising was not then the proven merchandising force it is today and there were many doubters as to whether a natural fruit could be successfully advertised with profit to those growers who made the necessary advertising investment.

"JUST AN ORANGE"

"'An orange is just an orange,' they said, 'and it is a waste of money to advertise something that people already know.'

"The Sunkist co-operative organization felt, however, the need of relief justified a trial of advertising and invested approximately $6000 in a newspaper campaign in the State of Iowa.

"Results were carefully checked and from that day to this, Sunkist growers have considered advertising to be an essential part of their business program. The growers have each year invested about 1 cent out of every dollar of sales for advertising purposes. I can speak freely about the application of advertising to the orange business because a co-operative marketing organization is more a public than a private business, serving as it does through the California Fruit Growers Exchange, 12,500 citrus growers, with the result its marketing efforts are significant to all people and all lines of business throughout the citrus belt.

ORANGE JUICE

"One case in point, that of orange juice, will illustrate the service advertising renders to the public as well as the producer.

"Ten years ago orange juice was only one of several equally important methods of using oranges, and fifteen years ago the drinking of oranges was the exception rather than the rule it is today.

"This change has been accomplished largely through advertising, which has developed a public appetite for oranges in juice form and has caused the invention and distribution of ingenious extracting devices operated both electrically and by hand to make this use convenient and possible in a large way.

"Not the least of the contributions which advertising of these natural foods and fruits from California has made to spreading Christmas cheer throughout the land is that this advertising has been largely instrumental in building a market for increased production and widened distribution not only at Christmas time but throughout the year. In the recollection of most of us the orange served largely to gladden the eye with its color and weight the toe of the Christmas stocking. The walnut graced the indispensable nut bowl at holiday time and the raisin the Christmas pudding. Today advertising has broadened the appreciation of each of them and many others and so has made the California producer of more service to his fellow-men throughout America."

Rites Held at Study Home for Needy Children

Bluegate Cottage, the new $4000 study home for children, recently completed at 2824 Hyans street by the Children's Protective Association, was dedicated yesterday by Dr. Miriam Van Waters as "a nesting place for concrete acts of practical love to children who need the guidance of those who have been materially and spiritually blessed."

Dr. Van Waters paid special tribute to the late Mrs. E. K. Foster, first vice-president of the board of directors, and to Mrs. Ruth F. Sherman, present president, and Miss Louise Drury, present executive secretary.

Officials of the association explained that Bluegate Cottage will be used as a temporary home for orphans, children from broken homes and problem children, at which they will be given care and examinations pending their placement in suitable permanent homes. The association is an agency of the Community Chest. Last year it contributed, in various ways, to the welfare of more than 13,000 children.

MOTHER AIDS SON IN DAMAGE SUIT

Mrs. T. H. Ball and Son Hubert J. Ball

Hubert J. Ball, 12 years of age, was crossing the street on a legitimate errand, not playing hide and seek, according to plaintiff's testimony in young Ball's $25,000 damage suit against Leo H. Harle, whose automobile ran over the boy August 5, 1925, in Long Beach.

Hubert was seriously injured, his left leg being fractured in addition to other injuries, the complaint states. Attorney Leo H. Daly is counsel for the plaintiff.

The plaintiff was accompanied to court by his mother, Mrs. Tully H. Ball, who was prepared to testify for him.

Silver Tea and Bazaar Held to Benefit Home

Members of the recently formed Florence Crittenton Club, composed of young matrons and college graduates organized to aid the work of the Florence Crittenton Home, were the hostesses at the annual silver tea and Christmas bazaar conducted at the home, 234 East Avenue 33, yesterday afternoon.

The bazaar, which was well attended and saw substantial sums paid for the handiwork of the patients at the home, lasted from 2 to 6 p.m., with tea being served from 3:30 to 6 p.m.

The hostesses, who served under the direction of Mrs. Dora Shaw Heffner, president of the home, are all officers of the club. They are Pauline May Hoffman, Bonnie-Sylvia Hickey, Beatrice R. Brand, Katherine N. Wilson and Mrs. Philip M. Lively.

HINCHMAN TO SPEAK ON MUSEUM PROJECT

So much interest has been shown in the extension work of the Southwest Museum at Highland Park that the supervisor of extension, Fred K. Hinchman, will lecture Sunday at 3 p.m. on "Taking the Museum to the Schools." Through examples of aboriginal handicraft and specially designed miniature groups, Mr. Hinchman has made many thousands of school children familiar with the first Americans. He will use similar objects to illustrate his lecture Sunday.

MARRIAGE SECRECY PLEA TOLD BY WIFE

Merrit Charles Fleming asked his wife, Marian Woodward Fleming, not to tell the neighbors they were married, Mrs. Fleming testified in her divorce trial in Superior Judge Sproul's court yesterday.

In addition, he insisted on associating with other women, and bought tennis rackets and other "luxuries" while his wife had no clothes, she testified. The court granted her a divorce.

DUKE WILL TRY FISHING LUCK HERE

British Air Leader to Be Guest at Pickfair While Visiting Southland

The Duke of Sutherland, who since his service as Undersecretary of State for Air in the British Cabinet has been noted as one of the chief supporters of aeronautical progress in Great Britain, arrived here yesterday on a pleasure trip which will take him eventually to Honolulu. During his stay here he will be a guest of Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford at Pickfair. The film couple and he became friends during one of their visits to England.

Deep-sea fishing is one of the Duke's enthusiasms and his host has arranged to take him to Catalina to see if he can land a larger tuna than the one Right Honorable Winston Churchill captured not many months ago. The exact length of the Duke's stay in Southern California has not been decided by him. Before he leaves for Honolulu in the middle of January he expects to visit most of the interesting spots along the Pacific Coast.

The Duke, who is 42 years of age, served with distinction in the British navy during the war and went into politics for a short period after the war. He held his Cabinet post in 1922 and 1923 and in 1925 became Paymaster-General to His Majesty's government.

His efforts in support of aviation led to his becoming chairman of the Royal Aero Club and president of the Air League of the Britiish Empire. He also has served as president of the Radio Association.

Bandit Suspects Taken in Drive Held for Trial

Two asserted bandits, arrested in the police crime drive, were held for Superior Court trial on robbery charges in Municipal Court yesterday.

John Ray, 24 years of age, asserted partner of John R. Eaton who was shot by Police Officer Morrison after the robbery of a service station at Twenty-third and Figueroa streets on November 24, last, was held under $10,000 bail by Judge Frederickson. Eaton, who was arrested at the time, was held for trial on the 3rd inst. by Judge Ballard. Ray escaped, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Sullivan, but was later arrested. The robbers obtained $10, Sullivan said.

Edward Roberts, 38, was held under $3000 bail by Judge Russill. Witnesses called by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hunt identified him as the man who held up a grocery at 1632 South Main street in November, obtaining $90.

Autoist's Trial for Death of Two Postponed

Trial of Chester R. Palmer, charged with manslaughter for the deaths of Mrs. Margaret Whalen and her 5-year-old son Timothy in an automobile accident, was continued until January 23 by Superior Judge Fricke yesterday.

The continuance was granted on the stipulation of George Stahlman, deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, and J. L. Painor, defense attorney, because of the absence of Clarence D. Purchase, prosecution witness.

Investigators said that Palmer was intoxicated at the time he ran Mrs. Whalen and her son down in the heavy traffic of Figueroa street near Thirty-ninth on September 24, last. The impact was so great, police state, that the bodies of the victims were thrown 150 feet.

Prollius Rites Set for Today

Funeral services for Carl W. Prollius, vice-president of the Bank of America, whose death occurred Tuesday, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today. The pall bearers will be Marco H. Hellman, Marion R. Gray, A. G. Maurer, Burt Janes, S. E. Master and J. R. Fishburn, Jr.

Mr. Prollius was born in Germany in 1865. Before coming to this country he was cashier of a German bank. In 1902 he became connected with the National Bank of California in Los Angeles and served in that capacity through a number of mergers.

PASTOR FACES FILM QUIZ

Mrs. McPherson Must Tell of Deal With Ormsby on "Talkie" Which Will Feature Her Career

Aimee Semple McPherson, Angelus Temple pastor, has been subpoenaed for a deposition on the 19th inst., regarding a contract she holds with Cromwell Ormsby, her former attorney, now serving a term for bribery in San Quentin penitentiary.

The matter is in regard to a talking picture, "Clay in the Potter's Hands," on which Roy Stewart, motion-picture actor and producer, holds a contract with Mrs. McPherson, executed last year. She is to take a prominent part in the picture. She in turn agreed to a "fifty-fifty" division of profits with her former attorney Ormsby, he asserts.

The subpoena orders Mrs. McPherson to appear at the offices of Attorneys Homer Johnstone and William W. Kaye in the Bartlett Building, and give a deposition regarding the terms of her contract with Ormsby. The action, a friendly one, was in the form of a petition filed by Stewart in which she and Ormsby are named as defendants and is brought to determine rights under the contract. The suit was filed some time ago but no deposition has been taken as Mrs. McPherson suffered a nervous breakdown last August and since then has either been out of the city or in retirement.

When Mrs. McPherson agreed to share her profits with Ormsby he had not been accused in the Oakland graft expose.

Renewed activity in Mrs. McPherson's picture has revived interest in hints thrown out by Mrs. Minnie Kennedy, mother of the evangelist, that her daughter's illness primarily was caused by her efforts to reduce, to enable her to appear in the title role of the film. It is said that several picture companies reported they were not interested in Mrs. McPherson's picture as she was too heavy. Universal took several trial shots and then interest languished. Mrs. McPherson before her illness weighed more than 150 pounds and it is reported now that she weighs about 125 pounds. The picture tells her life story as an evangelist and the final shot is planned to be taken in the temple, with the shadowy figure of her husband appearing in the background as she kneels before the altar. Some time ago the Angelus Picture Corporation was formed to finance her picture.

Mrs. McPherson, who has been suffering from a nervous breakdown, is spending the larger part of her time at the beaches. She goes to the temple once or twice a week, according to Business Manager F. C. Winters. She is recovering steadily, he says.

Plan for Ship Terminal and Ferry Makes Headway

Port Board Asked to Specify Frontage Desired

Also Details as Program to Develop Property

BY WALDO DRAKE

The port's long fight for a modern ferry and passenger shop terminal at Fifth street, San Pedro, appeared within sight of the goal yesterday. Frank Karr, counsel for the Southern Pacific Company, owner of the water-front property, said that the railroad will name its price for the site within sixty days of the time the Harbor Department informs the Southern Pacific the exact amount of frontage desired and its plans for development thereof.

From another reliable source it was learned that the Southern Pacific's price will not be in excess of $2,001,000, which is the value established on the site by D. F. McGarry in an appraisal for the Southern Pacific. In a parallel appraisal made of the property for the Harbor Department, W. H. Daum placed value of the site at $1,094,060.

In a letter submitted to the Board of Harbor Commissioners at yesterday's meeting, Mr. Karr explained that the Southern Pacific's selling price will be based on the following considerations:

"First, the railroad reconstruction and rearrangement costs will have to be paid by the city;

"Second, it will have to be known what the city proposes to do in the way of development of the land. I stated at one time that some constructive development program by the city might have a bearing on the price to be quoted.

"Third, what is to be done in the matter of separating the grades of the highway to the enlarged ferry and who is to pay the cost."

The Harbor Commission yesterday instructed M. G. Rouse, secretary, to provide Leslie C. Mott, chairman of the special ferry committee, with development plans for the proposed terminal; these to be submitted to Mr. Karr as requested in his letter. The area desired by the Harbor Department ranges along the water front from First street to Tenth street, with a small parcel running back across the Southern Pacific freight yards, totaling 283,600 square feet.

NEW UNIT FORMED TO BOOST PORT AREA

As the beginning of a campaign to bring new industries to the harbor area, more than a hundred property owners in the districts south of Manchester avenue yesterday completed organization of the Industrial Development Association of the Harbor District. Headquarters have been established at Wilmington, with Keith Bunkers as secretary.

In addition to awakening manufacturers to the possibilities of the thousands of acres of industrial sites near tidewater at Los Angeles Harbor, the organization will also seek the improvement of residential districts with equitable assessments.

"Members of the association feel that the possibilities of the harbor area for establishment of new industries have been neglected by other civic organizations in Southern California," said Mr. Bunkers. "We know that we have a great selling point in the port's strategic location in relation to the markets of the Orient, Latin America and the Antipodes.

"We also hope to make definite progress toward having the city charter amended to remove the clause therein which provides for revaluation of Harbor Department lands every ten years for lease purposes, and also to provide for long-term industrial leases."

Members of the new development association have been recruited from San Pedro, Wilmington, Harbor City, Lomita, Torrance, Gardena, Moneta, Athens, Keystone, Terminal Island, Watts and the Manchester district.

The British motor liner Lochgoil of the Royal Mail Line arrived yesterday from United Kingdom and Continent to disembark seven of her dozen passengers and discharge several hundred tons of cargo, including 15,000 bunches of Panama bananas. Also discharged here were 110 cases of roots of the lily of the valley, from Hamburg, Germany, the first imports into Los Angeles this season. The season for importing narcissi.

California plant quarantine inspectors here yesterday quarantined and destroyed three cases of snails, imported from the Mediterranean on a ship that arrived Sunday, for edible use. The snails, called helix lactea, are declared land snails and are an allied species to the pest which raised havoc in Old Town, San Diego, several years ago. They were stamped out after a vigorous campaign, and there is none now in this country.

Panama Mail motor liner City of San Francisco arrived from Central America yesterday to disembark thirty passengers and discharge 200 tons of coffee from Champerico, and general merchandise. Passengers included Capt. Frank F. Fulton, U.S.A., who has been working on the financial budget for Nicaragua; Carl Helm of the foreign service department of the New York Sun, and William Massion and bride of Houston, Tex., returning with a front-drive racing auto which turned over in Mexico City going in excess of 100 miles an hour.

The sixty-five-foot bait boat Supreme sailed yesterday on a prospecting trip into new waters off Panama, in quest of new shoals believed to harbor big schools of tuna. It is expected to be gone two or three months. The craft is owned by Van Camp Sea Food Company, Inc.

BANDITS PILING UP NEW SCORE

Thirteen Out of Fifty-four Suspects Identified

December Robbery Total Reaches Ninety-nine

Clacking of Police Teletype Signals Hold-ups

Despite the fact that police announced the identification by victims of thirteen suspects out of fifty-four rounded up in the last week, robberies continued to mount steadily upward toward a new record yesterday. The total number since the 1st inst. had reached ninety-six at midnight, compared with sixty-nine for the same period last month and fifty-four in the first eight days of December, last year.

The first hold-up of the latest series of seven occurred shortly before the dinner hour Tuesday in the haberdashery of L. A. Griffin at 4031 South Vermont avenue. One bandit robbed Griffin of $35.

The next robbery was reported by D. J. Roberts, who stated two bandits robbed him of $75 in his clothing store at 918 West Seventh street, at 8 p.m.

CAB DRIVER ROBBED

A few minutes later E. S. Lockwood, cab driver, was held up at Venice Boulevard and Berendo street by two bandits and robbed of $9 and his cab. The cab was later recovered by police.

Then for three hours there was a lull. At 11:30 p.m. the police teletype at Central Station began tapping in the report that H. J. Coffman, financier, of 935 South Ogden Drive, had been held up by two bandits while in company with his secretary, Miss Leys, as he slowed his automobile for a boulevard stop at Mariposa avenue and Hollywood Boulevard. Coffman lost $40. The bandits informed Miss Leys she would not be molested if she kept quiet. During the robbery Coffman was forced to keep his hands on the steering wheel of his car.

MACHINE SPEAKS

Another hour went by and then the tap-tapping of the teletype began again:

"Wilshire division reporting. Hold up. J. S. Buchsbaun of 630 South Kenmore avenue reports he and Miss B. Hartman were held up by two bandits while sitting in his car in front of Miss Hartman's home at 2884 Sunset Place. The bandits took $150 from Buchsbaun. Nothing from Miss Hartman.

"Descriptions, No. 1—"

Hardly had this message reached an end when a bell tinkled, the teletype carriage clicked back to the left and the tireless steel fingers of the machine once more began clicking. This time T. Tagawa of 412 East First street reported he was held up by two men in front of 208 Hewitt street and robbed of $10.50.

Two hours later the night's crime wave reached its ebb with the report of Miss Nona Stevens of 1010 South Grand avenue that she had been held up and robbed of $3 by a bandit as she returned from a cafe near her home at Eighth street and Grand avenue.

Suicide Threats Win Divorce for Glendale Woman

Suicide threats and attempts by her husband were asserted yesterday by Mrs. Violet M. Wellman in getting a divorce from Homer C. Wellman, business man of Glendale.

Mrs. Adele Kipers testified that she and her husband wrested poison from Wellman during a card game.

Note Robber Holds Up Cafe

"The man sitting next to me has a revolver with which he has you covered," read a note a bandit shoved across the counter of McDonnell's cafe, 7212 Beverly Boulevard, yesterday.

Miss Helen Griffin, the cashier, turned over $30 from the cash register and the note bandit walked out.

The man sitting next to him proved to be innocent in the affair.

JURY UNABLE TO DECIDE LIQUOR PHONE TEST CAS

The inability of a jury of twelve men who heard Federal liquor charges against Arthur C. Butler, his wife, Maud C. Butler, and Oscar Weaver before United States District Judge Hazel to define the use of a telephone in the receipt of liquor orders, as a conspiracy to violate the prohibition act last night resulted in a verdict of not guilty for the trio.

Immediately after the verdict was read in court, Deputy United States Marshall Edward Rice served a new warrant on the two men and Mrs. Butler, which charged possession, sale and transportation of liquor, as a violation of the same Federal statute.

During the trial, which lasted for two days, Butler stated that he sold a drug store and in six months in the racket was arrested five times. He said with his payments to lawyers, bail bondsmen and fines he scarcely made expenses. Butler testified that she was subjected to rough treatment by dry agents who arrested her and two men, saying they would send her child, aged 3, to Juvenile Hall. Agents denied the charge.

Counsel who appeared during the trial for the government

COURT IN UPROAR WHEN WOMAN FLOORS OFFICE

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 10.—Miss Rhoda M. Gould, daughter of the late Kit Gould, Los Angeles attorney, floored L. R. Hall, a policeman, in Municipal Court today during her trial on the charge of possessing liquor. Hall was the one who arrested her.

The court was in an uproar until two bailiffs succeeded in rescuing Hall, who was being pommeled by Miss Gould.

Judge Scott fined Miss Gould $500, with alternative of in jail, on the possession charge. He reduced
$75 or fifteen days, and the woman, not
